MILBURN, Neb.—One Nebraskan was among the seven American soldiers siezed last Sunday by Czech Communist police on the Bavarian border, a telegram from the Secretary of the Army reveals.

Pfc. George Switzer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Switzer of Milburn, was the Nebraskan his parents were told by the telegram. The Army listed him as serving with the 816th Field Artillery Battalion in Germany.

The 21-year-old draftee, who entered the Army in July last year, has been in Europe since last January, his brother Harold told The Star.

"We just received the wire this evening," the brother said. He quoted the message as saying: "The secretary expresses his deep regret that your son has been missing in Czechoslovakia since July 4. A letter will follow."

The young GI's last letter home before his abduction arrived last Tuesday, Harold said. It was mailed in late June.

The Army said the men were on leave and they may have crossed the border on a sightseeing tour. The Czechs say that films in possession of the group revealed that the men had taken photos of objects in Czechoslovakian territory.

In a note the Red government said, "Their confession and behavior confirm the group entered the territory to conduct an espionage mission."

The Americans were arrested near the town of Tachov after an unsuccessful attempt to escape from Communist border guards.

In addition to Switzer, the Army list included:

Capt. Jack M. Davis, Raytown, Mo., Headquarters Co., 816th Field Artillery Battalion.

Pfc Jerry W. Griffith, Springfield, Ohio; Cpl. John G. Glasson, 254 West Street, Oakdale, Calif.; Pvt. Richard J. Jumper, Booneville, Miss; Pfc. Leonard D. Tennis, Alliance, Ohio; and Pvt. Ross F. McGinnis, Greensburg, Pa., all of the 816th field artillery battalion's medical detachment.

The United States, in a strong note delivered through diplomatic channels, has demanded the release of the seven and termed their seizure abduction.

Multi-Billion Program

Building Signal Is Given

Lease-Purchase Bill Goes To Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)— Senate passage Thursday sent to President Eisenhower a lease-purchase bill which sponsors say will touch off a multi-billion dollar government building program.

The Senate acted by voice vote. The House approved the compromise version the previous day.

The measure for the first time will enable the government to put up post offices and other buildings over the nation and pay for them like rent.

Its backers say it will enable Uncle Sam to catch up with a backlog of building needs extending back to before World War II. In the last 15 years there has been little or no money in the budget for direct appropriations for new buildings, the old method.

Approval Needed

Lease-purchase projects would have to be approved by the Budget Bureau and the Public Works Committees of the Senate and House.

First-year limits on annual payments were fixed at five million dollars for general purpose buildings and three millions for post-offices.

In future years, appropriations committees would set the limits.

Also written into the bill was a three-year expiration date. Sponsors said they were sure this would be extended if the program works well.

Under the lease-purchase plan, the government would get a contractor to put up a building to its specifications. Payment would be made over periods of 10 to 25 years out of funds now going for rent of space used by federal agencies. Title to the building would not pass to the government until completion of the payments.

Sen. Case Pleased

Sen. Case (R-SD), one of the backers of the bill, declared it will go down as one of the "notable achievements of this Congress."

Sponsors have estimated the total of construction projects under the lease - purchase plan might eventually reach three or four billion dollars.

The first lists of projects may be sent to the two Public Works Committees before this Congress adjourns.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Her mother cried out in anguish Thursday at funeral services for 7-year-old Judith Ann Roberts, murdered and raped by an unknown assailant.

As Rabbi Schmaryhy Swirsky intoned Jewish funeral rites before spectators who were watched by homicide detectives, Mrs. James Roberts cried:

"She went through all that pain and agony. May God have mercy on her soul."

The rabbi sought to comfort the mother with the thought that while Judith Ann's life had been cut short, she had brought happiness to those who knew her.

'Why?'

"Why did this terrible thing happen to my child?" Mrs. Roberts wailed as she left the funeral chapel for Mt. Nebo Cemetery where Judith's beaten and ravished body was laid to rest.

Detectives who kept the small crowd under surveillance in hopes of finding a clue left after the services without commenting on their observations. Present were the family, neighbors and a handful of strangers.

The police dragnet which brought in about 30 men for questioning continued to snare known sex perverts and child molesters. A total of about 70 men among this city's quarter million population were to be questioned. Of the first 30, all but seven were released.

Dr. Ben Sheppard, county health examiner, said death resulted from strangulation. A length of sash cord was twisted so tightly that it cut into the child's neck.

Cowles Gets State Dept. Legal Post

NU Law Prof Aid To Dulles

Willard Bruce Cowles, University of Nebraska Law School professor, has been appointed deputy legal advisor of the State Department.

He has a year's leave of absence from the University where he teaches international law and conflict of laws.

Cowles, who is 54, left Sunday to drive to Washington. The appointment was announced Thursday.

His wife and their daughter, Nancy, 10, who live at 2035 Euclid, will join him later.

N. Y. Lawyer

Cowles practiced law in New York just before the family came to Lincoln seven years ago.

A graduate of Columbia University, he did graduate work at Harvard Law School and is a member of the New York Bar.

He served in the Navy in World War I and was a lieutenant colonel in the international law division of the judge advocate department of the Army in World War II.

War Crimes

For a time during World War II he was in London with the War Crimes Commission.

Cowles was advisor on international law to the Honduras Commission in the Guatemala-Honduras boundary arbitration from 1931 to 1933.

He was an attorney for the State Department in the claims arbitration of the United States and Mexico from 1934 to 1937.

Seven times he has been an attorney for the Department of Justice in Supreme Court cases or a special assistant to the attorney general on matters of law.

Hague Lecturer

In 1949 he was lecturer at the Academy of International Law at The Hague, Holland.

He won the Ross Prize in the annual essay competition of the American Bar Association in 1941.

Cowles succeeds Jack B. Tate, who now is associate dean of the Yale Law School.

Dean E. O. Belsheim said no decision has been made about a replacement for Cowles at the Law School here.

Bobby Sox Idol Flanagan Fined For Nude Stroll

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Bandleader Ralph Flanagan was fined $50 today for walking in the nude along nearby Ventnor Beach.

The 35-year-old musician, who is appearing at the Steel Pier, at first refused to give officers his name, saying only "I had a fight with my wife."

A boardwalk stroller spotted Flanagan early this morning. He reported to police a man was walking in the nude with a pair of trousers over his arm.

Ventnor Municipal Judge Walter Wunsch found the bobby sox idol guilty of disorderly conduct, fined him, and ordered him out of Ventnor.

Ely Orders Full Stand At Hanoi

Abandonment Rumor Emphatically Denied

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—Gen. Paul Ely, French Union commander in chief in Indochina, said Thursday he has ordered an all-out defense of Hanoi, the seaport of Haiphong, and the vital supply route connecting them.

Ely denied emphatically to newsmen rumors that Hanoi would be abandoned to the Communist-led Vietminh without a fight.

He added that if he did not believe this focal point of the war in northern Indochina could be defended against the Vietminh divisions threatening it, he would not have repeated his previous orders for its defense after returning from conferences in Paris last Sunday.

Ely predicted a decision will be reached within 12 days on whether there will be war or a cease fire in Indochina. This obviously was based on French Premier Mendes-France's pledge to achieve peace in the nearly eight-year-old Indochina War by July 20 or resign.

Meanwhile, French-Vietnamese and Vietminh military representatives held their fifth closed session at Trung Gia, 25 miles north of Hanoi, on technical details of a possible cease fire. Although there was no official announcement on the trend of the talks, high French military sources said sessions for the last two days dealt with means of improving conditions under which prisoners of war are held. The question was referred to a sub-committee, the informants said.

Warren Roberts Gets Scholarship

Warren W. Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Roberts, 3185 Sheridan, has been awarded the Yale Sheffield Scientific School Fellowship for advanced laboratory work toward his Ph.D.

Roberts, who received his B.A. and M.A. degrees at Stanford University in California, will receive his Ph.D. in psychology at Yale next spring. He has worked the last two years as an assistant on the staff at Yale.

Shoulders And Dolan Seek Bail

Appeals Court In Omaha Hears Case

OMAHA (AP)—Attorneys for former St. Louis Police Lt. Louis Shoulders and former Patrolman Elmer Dolan argued Thursday that the evidence on which the two were convicted of perjury was "negative" and "flimsy."

Shoulders' attorney, Henry C. Morris, and Dolan's attorney, Mark M. Hennelly, both of St. Louis, argued jointly before the Eighth District U.S. Court of Appeals Thursday in support of their application for bonds for the two ex-policemen pending their appeals.

Shoulders received a three-year sentence and Dolan two years on their conviction at Kansas City for perjury in connection with their testimony before a federal grand jury on how they handled suitcases containing the Greenlease ransom money, the night Carl Austin Hall was arrested. Hall and Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady were executed for the kidnap slaying of 6-year-old Bobby Greenlease.

Testimony Argued

Most of Thursday's oral arguments concerned the testimony about when the suitcases were brought to the district police station in St. Louis, and who saw them brought in.

Kenneth C. West, assistant U.S attorney at Kansas City presented the government's argument. He asserted the trial judge had given the jury every discretion and there was "adequate evidence to take this case to the jury."

The three-judge court also heard arguments on the bond application of Anthony Iovipparo, under an 18-month sentence for criminal contempt of court, and oral arguments on applications of five convicted Communists for bail pending their appeals.

The court took all applications under advisement.

Alienation Of Affections Suit Is Filed Here

Cecil Burt Green of Cortland, a former Lincoln pastor, has filed a $15,000 suit in Lancaster District Court against N. M. Shaner of 1426 So. 33rd.

In his petition, the Rev. Mr. Green alleges that Shaner alienated the affections of his wife, Kathleen Juanita Green.

The husband's allegations cover a period since the early part of 1953.

The estranged wife has filed suit for divorce against her husband.

The Rev. Mr. Green was formerly pastor of Bryan Methodist Church and his wife was formerly a physical education instructor at Nebraska Wesleyan University.

They were married Nov. 23, 1938, at Sulphur Springs, Tex., and moved to Lincoln in June, 1951.

U Of N Asked To Aid In Setting Up Turkish College

...'Land Grant' Pattern To Be Followed

The University of Nebraska has been asked to assist in establishing a new university, patterned after the land-grant college system, in eastern Turkey.

This report was brought back to the University by George S. Round, director of public relations, and Dr. E. F. Frolik, chairman of the agronomy department, after a three-week visit to the Middle Eastern country.

They found that Trukey desires not only to establish a new agricultural college, but also colleges in veterinary science, arts and engineering in scattered portions of eastern Turkey.

"The whole country has gone western," Round said. "The Turks see clearly the need of developing a university system offering the services of land-grant colleges."

Round

The Turks, he said, have no co-ordination of research, extension or teaching activities as they would under the American system. The three universities now in Turkey offer the classical type of higher education.

Heavy Security

Round reported that eastern Turkey where Ataturk University would be located is not developed at all, educationally or otherwise. It is chiefly an agricultural area, he said, and many of the people differ racially from the Turks.

Because of its proximity to Soviet Russia, the area is under heavy security. The arts college, he said, is to be located near the eastern border at Ban.

As an example of the primitive state of agriculture and the Turks desire to get ahead, Round said he learned at one time they had considered making wooden plows illegal.

Round pointed out that there would be many problems in establishing Ataturk University, which is to be named after founder of the Turkish republic. But, he said, "they say nothing is impossible in Turkey."

President Bayar is among the supporters of the higher education project and Parliament has already appropriated funds for construction of buildings at the four proposed sites.

Frolik

Frolik and Round met with top Turkish officials and the Ataturk University executive committee as well as the Faculties of Agriculture and Veterinary Science at Ankara University during their visit.

Saw Parliament

They also visited a session of Parliament where they met Dr. Ishmail Scener, a former student of Chancellor Clifford M. Hardin. Dr. Scener, who took his doctor's degree under Dr. Hardin at Michigan State gave them a carved pipe to bring back to the Nebraska chancellor. Dr. Scener is now a member of parliament.

Frolik and Round are submitting the report of their trip to Dean W. V. Lambert and Chancellor Hardin for action. The request for the University's assistance in establishing the university came from the Turkish government and the Foreign Operations Administration.

The report would call for a trip to the United States by top Turkish officials in order to acquaint them further with the land-grant college system. In turn, a study group organized by the University of Nebraska would go to Turkey for a six week to two month intensive study of proposed plans and then suggest modifications of present plans.

The third proposed phase would have to do with an exchange of professors between Ankara University and the University of Nebraska, with the purpose of training staff members for the agricultural faculty of Ataturk University.

The report submitted by Round and Frolik will receive consideration from Dean Lambert and Chancellor Hardin and probably then will be submitted to the Board of Regents for action.

Failure Charge Is Made

Dulles Pledges A Finish Fight To Keep China Out

WASHINGTON (AP)— Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) accused the Republican administration Thursday of trying to run foreign affairs on a "diplomacy of bluster and retreat."

He offered, in a major Senate speech, another tart description for the GOP foreign policy "Speak loudly and carry a feather duster."

Sen. Cooper (R-Ky) challenged Mansfield to show "just what the failure is" in America's Asiatic diplomatic moves, or to point out things the Democrats would have handled differently.

Mansfield

Sen. Knowland (R-Calif), the Senate Republican leader, told Mansfield that in these days of cold war, foreign policy is a matter on which public figures "constantly rise above narrow partisanship."

"This is not a partisan issue," Knowland said. "I hope it will not become a partisan issue."

Mansfield retorted that "Democrats do not like to be kicked around or knifed in the back." He said they had tried to cooperate, only to be met with "bickering and back biting."

Mansfield's main theme was that U.S. foreign policy, under Secretary of State Dulles, had led to humiliating defeats for America at the hands of the Communists.

It was a serious mistake, he said, for the United States ever to have gone into the Geneva talks on Korea and Indochina and he declared Dulles' plan for an anti-Communist front in Asia failed because it was not based on Asians willing to fight for freedom.

Promise Is Given

An Eisenhower-Dulles pledge to fight to the end against a United Nations seat for Red China today headed off a congressional proposal for automatic withdrawal from the international organization in case it admits the Peiping regime.

Sen. Knowland softened his proposal. He offered legislation which would:

1. Place Congress on record anew against the seating of the Communists as the representatives of China in the U.N.

2. In the event of Red China getting into the U.N. General Assembly or Security Council, request President Eisenhower to inform Congress of the international implications of such a development and recommend a course of action.

The development came as Secretary of State Dulles declared the United Statee still has powerful cards to play and that "I do not believe Communist China is in fact going to be seated."

"I don't think there is going to be any American withdrawal from the U.N. or any occasion for it," Dulles told a news conference.

Deaths Of 20 After Taking Drug Probed

PARIS (AP)—Officials at the French Interior Ministry said Thursday police are investigating the deaths of 20 persons who are reported to have succumbed after taking a new drug.

—Police reports said it was taken for treatment of slight infections which had not been considered serious. Made of assimilable tin and vitamin F, it was taken off sale by order of the Interior Ministry Tuesday after 12 suspicious deaths had been registered. Eight more people who had been treated with the new drug have succumbed in the past 48 hours. Three others are reported in a critical state. Almost all the dead were under 25 years old.

Sale of the drug was approved last January after tests by French medical authorities.

103rd Birthday Cause For A Party

By MARILYN SWANSON
Star Staff Writer

One of Lincoln's spriest centenarians—Mrs. E. W. Lyman of 1902 So. 30th—will celebrate her 103rd birthday Monday and its a sure bet that no one will enjoy the party more than Mrs. Lyman herself.

Mrs. Lyman lives with her only living child, Mrs. Harry Armstrong, but the family table will be pulled out to full capacity when the grandchildren and great grandchildren arrive to help Mrs. Lyman observe the occasion.

Grandchildren R. L. Armstrong of Casper, Wyo., Charles Armstrong of McCook, Mrs. George Koehler of Geneva, and Mrs. Jack Gray of Hollywood, Calif., will be in Lincoln Monday. A niece, Mrs. Carrie Bramhill of Pasadena, Calif., will also attend. Most of Mrs. Lyman's 14 great grandchildren plan to be present.

Mrs. Lyman attributes her long life to her avid interest in politics (she describes herself as a "rock ribbed Republican."). Friends, however, credit her ready wit in helping her achieve her long and happy life.

MRS. E. W. LYMAN

She came to Nebraska from her native New York at the age of 17. She settled at Lone Tree, now Central City. She was married in 1873 to a Burlington Railroad conductor and they lived in Dunlap, Ia., and in Grand Island until his death in 1902.

Mrs. Lyman lived in Washington, D.C., for 20 years — which may account in part for her interest in political affairs. Her daughter, now deceased, was former Sen. John B. Kendrick's (D-Ore) private secretary at the time Mrs. Lyman lived with her daughter.

Mrs. Lyman has been a resident of Lincoln since 1919.

Still quick on her feet, in good health, and definitely alert mentally, Mrs. Lyman's only concern with her physical state is that her eyesight and hearing are neither as sharp as they once were.

When her grandchildren and great grandchildren assemble Monday to wish her "many happy returns" and join in the festivities, there will be no doubt about it—the brightest, gayest person there will be the "birthday girl."

American Soldier Gets Death Penalty For Killing Buddies

PUSAN (INS) — The Army announced Thursday that an American soldier was sentenced to death by a military court martial for the carbine slaying of two fellow soldiers.

Private Archie C. Burris, 26, of Idabel, Okla., was convicted of premeditated murder by a court of eight officers after two days of hearings. Burris was a member of the 899 Quartermaster Laundry Company at Masan.

The court found Burris guilty of killing two soldiers from his same unit after a heated argument during a dice game May 31.

The victims were identified as Privates Ezzel Pigue of Moscow, Tenn., and Woodrow Lockett of Albany, Ga.

Detectives who kept the small crowd under surveillance in hopes of finding a clue left after the services without commenting on their observations. Present were the family, neighbors and a handful of strangers.

The police dragnet which brought in about 30 men for questioning continued to snare known sex perverts and child molesters. A total of about 70 men among this city's quarter million population were to be questioned. Of the first 30, all but seven were released.

Dr. Ben Sheppard, county health examiner, said death resulted from strangulation. A length of sash cord was twisted so tightly that it cut into the child's neck.

Cowles Gets State Dept. Legal Post

NU Law Prof Aid To Dulles

Willard Bruce Cowles, University of Nebraska Law School professor, has been appointed deputy legal advisor of the State Department.

He has a year's leave of absence from the University where he teaches international law and conflict of laws.

Cowles, who is 54, left Sunday to drive to Washington. The appointment was announced Thursday.

His wife and their daughter, Nancy, 10, who live at 2035 Euclid, will join him later.

N. Y. Lawyer

Cowles practiced law in New York just before the family came to Lincoln seven years ago.

A graduate of Columbia University, he did graduate work at Harvard Law School and is a member of the New York Bar.

He served in the Navy in World War I and was a lieutenant colonel in the international law division of the judge advocate department of the Army in World War II.

War Crimes

For a time during World War II he was in London with the War Crimes Commission.

Cowles was advisor on international law to the Honduras Commission in the Guatemala-Honduras boundary arbitration from 1931 to 1933.

He was an attorney for the State Department in the claims arbitration of the United States and Mexico from 1934 to 1937.

Seven times he has been an attorney for the Department of Justice in Supreme Court cases or a special assistant to the attorney general on matters of law.

Hague Lecturer

In 1949 he was lecturer at the Academy of International Law at The Hague, Holland.

He won the Ross Prize in the annual essay competition of the American Bar Association in 1941.

Cowles succeeds Jack B. Ttate, who now is associate dean of the Yale Law School.

Dean E. O. Belsheim said no decision has been made about a replacement for Cowles at the Law School here.

Bobby Sox Idol Flanagan Fined For Nude Stroll

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Bandleader Ralph Flanagan was fined $50 today for walking in the nude along nearby Ventnor Beach.

The 35-year-old musician, who is appearing at the Steel Pier, at first refused to give officers his name, saying only "I had a fight with my wife."

A boardwalk stroller spotted Flanagan early this morning. He reported to police a man was walking in the nude with a pair of trousers over his arm.

Ventnor Municipal Judge Walter Wunsch found the bobby sox idol guilty of disorderly conduct, fined him, and ordered him out of Ventnor.

Ely Orders Full Stand At Hanoi

Abandonment Rumor Emphatically Denied

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—Gen. Paul Ely, French Union commander in chief in Indochina, said Thursday he has ordered an all-out defense of Hanoi, the seaport of Haiphong, and the vital supply route connecting them.

Ely denied emphatically to newsmen rumors that Hanoi would be abandoned to the Communist-led Vietminh without a fight.

He added that if he did not believe this focal point of the war in northern Indochina could be defended against the Vietminh divisions threatening it, he would not have repeated his previous orders for its defense after returning from conferences in Paris last Sunday.

Ely predicted a decision will be reached within 12 days on whether there will be war or a cease fire in Indochina. This obviously was based on French Premier Mendes-France's pledge to achieve peace in the nearly eight-year-old Indochina War by July 20 or resign.

Meanwhile, French-Vietnamese and Vietminh military representatives held their fifth closed session at Trung Gia, 25 miles north of Hanoi, on technical details of a possible cease fire. Although there was no official announcement on the trend of the talks, high French military sources said sessions for the last two days dealt with means of improving conditions under which prisoners of war are held. The question was referred to a sub-commission, the informants said.

Warren Roberts Gets Scholarship

Warren W. Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Roberts, 3185 Sheridan, has been awarded the Yale Sheffield Scientific School Fellowship for advanced laboratory work toward his Ph.D.

Roberts, who received his B.A. and M.A. degrees at Stanford University in California, will receive his Ph.D. in psychology at Yale next spring. He has worked the last two years as an assistant on the staff at Yale.

Shoulders And Dolan Seek Bail

Appeals Court In Omaha Hears Case

OMAHA (AP)—Attorneys for former St. Louis Police Lt. Louis Shoulders and former Patrolman Elmer Dolan argued Thursday that the evidence on which the two were convicted of perjury was "negative" and "flimsy."

Shoulders' attorney, Henry C. Morris, and Dolan's attorney, Mark M. Hennelly, both of St. Louis, argued jointly before the Eighth District U.S. Court of Appeals Thursday in support of their application for bonds for the two ex-policemen pending their appeals.

Shoulders received a three-year sentence and Dolan two years on their conviction at Kansas City for perjury in connection with their testimony before a federal grand jury on how they handled suitcases containing the Greenlease ransom money, the night Carl Austin Hall was arrested. Hall and Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady were executed for the kidnap slaying of 6-year-old Bobby Greenlease.

Testimony Argued

Most of Thursday's oral arguments concerned the testimony about when the suitcases were brought to the district police station in St. Louis, and who saw them brought in.

Kenneth C. West, assistant U.S. attorney at Kansas City presented the government's argument. He asserted the trial judge had given the jury every discretion and there was "adequate evidence to take this case to the jury."

The three-judge court also heard arguments on the bond application of Anthony Lodiparo, under an 18-month sentence for criminal contempt of court, and oral arguments on applications of five convicted Communists for bail pending their appeals.

The court took all applications under advisement.

Alienation Of Affections Suit Is Filed Here

Cecil Burt Green of Cortland, a former Lincoln pastor, has filed a $15,000 suit in Lancaster District Court against N. M. Shaner of 1426 So. 33rd.

In his petition, the Rev. Mr. Green alleges that Shaner alienated the affections of his wife, Kathleen Juanita Green.

The husband's allegations cover a period since the early part of 1953.

The estranged wife has filed suit for divorce against her husband.

The Rev. Mr. Green was formerly pastor of Bryan Methodist Church and his wife was formerly a physical education instructor at Nebraska Wesleyan University.

They were married Nov. 23, 1938, at Sulphur Springs, Tex., and moved to Lincoln in June, 1951.

U Of N Asked To Aid In Setting Up Turkish College

...'Land Grant' Pattern To Be Followed

The University of Nebraska has been asked to assist in establishing a new university, patterned after the land-grant college system, in eastern Turkey.

This report was brought back to the University by George S. Round, director of public relations, and Dr. E. F. Frolik, chairman of the agronomy department, after a three-week visit to the Middle Eastern country.

They found that Trukey desires not only to establish a new agricultural college, but also colleges in veterinary science, arts and engineering in scattered portions of eastern Turkey.

Round

"The whole country has gone western," Round said. "The Turks see clearly the need of developing a university system offering the services of land-grant colleges."

The Turks, he said, have no co-ordination of research, extension or teaching activities as they would under the American system. The three universities now in Turkey offer the classical type of higher education.

Heavy Security

Round reported that eastern Turkey where Ataturk University would be located is not developed at all, educationally or otherwise. It is chiefly an agricultural area, he said, and many of the people differ racially from the Turks.

Because of its proximity to Soviet Russia, the area is under heavy security. The arts college, he said, is to be located near the eastern border at Ban.

As an example of the primitive state of agriculture and the Turks desire to get ahead, Round said he learned at one time they had considered making wooden plows illegal.

Round pointed out that there would be many problems in establishing Ataturk University, which is to be named after founder of the Turkish republic. But, he said, "they say nothing is impossible in Turkey."

Frolik

President Bayar is among the supporters of the higher education project and Parliament has already appropriated funds for construction of buildings at the four proposed sites.

Frolik and Round met with top Turkish officials and the Ataturk University executive committee as well as the Faculties of Agriculture and Veterinary Science at Ankara University during their visit.

Saw Parliament

They also visited a session of Parliament where they met Dr. Ishmail Scener, a former student of Chancellor Clifford M. Hardin. Dr. Scener, who took his doctor's degree under Dr. Hardin at Michigan State gave them a carved pipe to bring back to the Nebraska chancellor. Dr. Scener is now a member of parliament.

Frolik and Round are submitting the report of their trip to Dean W. V. Lambert and Chancellor Hardin for action. The request for the University's assistance in establishing the university came from the Turkish government and the Foreign Operations Administration.

The report would call for a trip to the United States by top Turkish officials in order to acquaint them further with the land-grant college system. In turn, a study group organized by the University of Nebraska would go to Turkey for a six week to two month intensive study of proposed plans and then suggest modifications of present plans.

The third proposed phase would have to do with an exchange of professors between Ankara University and the University of Nebraska, with the purpose of training staff members for the agricultural faculty of Ataturk University.

The report submitted by Round and Frolik will receive consideration from Dean Lambert and Chancellor Hardin and probably then will be submitted to the Board of Regents for action.

103rd Birthday Cause For A Party

By MARILYN SWANSON
Star Staff Writer

One of Lincoln's spriest centenarians—Mrs. E. W. Lyman of 1902 So. 30th—will celebrate her 103rd birthday Monday and its a sure bet that no one will enjoy the party more than Mrs. Lyman herself.

Mrs. Lyman lives with her only living child, Mrs. Harry Armstrong, but the family table will be pulled out to full capacity when the grandchildren and great grandchildren arrive to help Mrs. Lyman observe the occasion.

Grandchildren R. L. Armstrong of Casper, Wyo., Charles Armstrong of McCook, Mrs. George Koehler of Geneva, and Mrs. Jack Gray of Hollywood, Calif., will be in Lincoln Monday. A niece, Mrs. Carrie Bramhill of Pasadena, Calif., will also attend. Most of Mrs. Lyman's 14 great grandchildren plan to be present.

Mrs. Lyman attributes her long life to her avid interest in politics (she describes herself as a "rock ribbed Republican."). Friends, however, credit her ready wit in helping her achieve her long and happy life.

MRS. E. W. LYMAN

She came to Nebraska from her native New York at the age of 17. She settled at Lone Tree, now Central City. She was married in 1873 to a Burlington Railroad conductor and they lived in Dunlap, Ia., and in Grand Island until his death in 1902.

Mrs. Lyman lived in Washington, D.C., for 20 years — which may account in part for her interest in political affairs. Her daughter, now deceased, was former Sen. John B. Kendrick's (D-Ore) private secretary at the time Mrs. Lyman lived with her daughter.

Mrs. Lyman has been a resident of Lincoln since 1919.

Still quick on her feet, in good health, and definitely alert mentally, Mrs. Lyman's only concern with her physical state is that her eyesight and hearing are neither as sharp as they once were.

When her grandchildren and great grandchildren assemble Monday to wish her "many happy returns" and join in the festivities, there will be no doubt about it—the brightest, gayest person there will be the "birthday girl."

American Soldier GetsDeathPenalty For Killing Buddies

PUSAN (INS) — The Army announced Thursday that an American soldier was sentenced to death by a military court martial for the carbine slaying of two fellow soldiers.

Private Archie C. Burris, 26, of Idabel, Okla., was convicted of premeditated murder by a court of eight officers after two days of hearings. Burris was a member of the 899 Quartermaster Laundry Company at Masan.

The court found Burris guilty of killing two soldiers from his same unit after a heated argument during a dice game May 31.

The victims were identified as Privates Ezzel Pigue of Moscow, Tenn., and Woodrow Lockett of Albany, Ga.

Failure Charge Is Made

Dulles Pledges A Finish Fight To Keep China Out

WASHINGTON (AP)— Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) accused the Republican administration Thursday of trying to run foreign affairs on a "diplomacy of bluster and retreat."

He offered, in a major Senate speech, another tart description for the GOP foreign policy "Speak loudly and carry a feather duster."

Sen. Cooper (R-Ky) challenged Mansfield to show "just what the failure is" in America's Asiatic diplomatic moves, or to point out things the Democrats would have handled differently.

Mansfield

Sen. Knowland (R-Calif), the Senate Republican leader, told Mansfield that in these days of cold war, foreign policy is a matter on which public figures "constantly rise above narrow partisanship."

"This is not a partisan issue," Knowland said. "I hope it will not become a partisan issue."

Mansfield retorted that "Democrats do not like to be kicked around or knifed in the back." He said they had tried to cooperate, only to be met with "bickering and back biting."

Mansfield's main theme was that U.S. foreign policy, under Secretary of State Dulles, had led to humiliating defeats for America at the hands of the Communists.

It was a serious mistake, he said, for the United States ever to have gone into the Geneva talks on Korea and Indochina and he declared Dulles' plan for an anti-Communist front in Asia failed because it was not based on Asians willing to fight for freedom.

Promise Is Given

An Eisenhower-Dulles pledge to fight to the end against a United Nations seat for Red China today headed off a congressional proposal for automatic withdrawal from the international organization in case it admits the Peiping regime.

Sen. Knowland softened his proposal. He offered legislation which would:

1. Place Congress on record anew against the seating of the Communists as the representatives of China in the U.N.

2. In the event of Red China getting into the U.N. General Assembly or Security Council, request President Eisenhower to inform Congress of the international implications of such a development and recommend a course of action.

The development came as Secretary of State Dulles declared the United Statee still has powerful cards to play and that "I do not believe Communist China is in fact going to be seated."

"I don't think there is going to be any American withdrawal from the U.N. or any occasion for it," Dulles told a news conference.

Deaths Of 20 After Taking Drug Probed

PARIS (AP)—Officials at the French Interior Ministry said Thursday police are investigating the deaths of 20 persons who are reported to have succumbed after taking a new drug.

Police reports said it was taken for treatment of slight infections which had not been considered serious. Made of assimilable tin and vitamin F, it was taken off sale by order of the Interior Ministry Tuesday after 12 suspicious deaths had been registered. Eight more people who had been treated with the new drug have succumbed in the past 48 hours. Three others are reported in a critical state. Almost all the dead were under 25 years old.

Sale of the drug was approved last January after tests by French medical authorities.

Key Perjury Charge Too Vague, Court Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—The key charge in a perjury indictment against Owen Lattimore—that he lied when he said he had never been a Communist sympathizer or promoter of Red interests—is too vague to be considered, the U.S. Court of Appeals ruled Thursday.

The court, by a vote of 8-1, upheld dismissal of the charge by U.S. Dist. Judge Luther W. Youngdahl in May, 1953. At the same time it reinstated, on 5-4 votes, two lesser charges Youngdahl had thrown out, and upheld the dismissal of still another on an 8-1 ruling.

Lattimore, controversial Far East specialist, called the net result "clearly a major victory."

'Case Destroyed'

Lattimore's attorneys, former Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo), and Thurman Arnold, a former judge of the appeals court, said the decision "has destroyed any substantial case" against Lattimore.

"The remaining counts are trivia, involving Lattimore's memory as to unimportant events in his long career which happened 10 to 15 years before the indictments," the lawyers said.

Lattimore, a one-time occasional State Department consultant, has been on leave of absence as a lecturer at Johns Hopkins University since his indictment in December, 1952.

Stormy Hearing

The indictment followed by almost a year 12 days of stormy testimony by Lattimore during an investigation by a Senate subcommittee of the Institute of Pacific Relations, a private research organization.

The subcommittee, then headed by Sen. McCarran (D-Nev), called Lattimore "a conscious articulate instrument of the Soviet conspiracy." Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) once called Lattimore the top Soviet espionage agent in this country.

"Pure moonshine," Lattimore replied.

Judge Youngdahl let stand three of the indictment's seven counts, but expressed doubt they would "pass the test of materiality so as to present a jury issue." This ruling was not before the appeals court.

Face Decision

The decision presented the Justice Department with the choice of putting Lattimore on trial on the two reinstated counts, plus the three Judge Youngdahl let stand or asking the Supreme Court to put the key count back in force.

U.S. Atty. Leo A. Rover said he regarded the "sympathizer" count as the most important from the government's standpoint. But he said he will pass on to the Justice Department the question of whether to appeal to the Supreme Court.

The department said the opinion will have to be studied carefully before it makes any decision.

OWEN LATTIMORE

Sixth Amendment

Speaking for the 8-1 majority in the key ruling, Judge E. Barrett Prettyman said the Constitution's Sixth Amendment requires that in all criminal prosecutions the accused shall be informed of the nature and cause of the action against him, adding:

"We are of the opinion the first count of the indictment is void for vagueness.

"The word 'sympathizer' is not of sufficiently certain meaning to sustain a charge of perjury. This count is that Lattimore said he had never been a sympathizer whereas he had been a sympathizer. There is no definition of the term 'sympathizer' or any concrete specification of its content either in the indictment or in the statute."

'Can't Be Cured'

Judge Prettyman said the "vagueness of this count cannot be cured by a bill of particulars." He added: "The prosecutor, in supplying the bill of particulars, cannot guess at what was in the grand jury's mind or ascribe a meaning to a charge by the grand jury if that meaning is not apparent upon the face of the indictment."

Chief Judge Harold M. Stephens, the lone dissenter, said he regards count one as valid.

Base Will Hold Vehicle 'Roadeo'

Lincoln Air Force Base will hold a motor vehicle Roadeo on Saturday, July 24, at 9 a.m. The event will be open to the public.

The classes of vehicles which are most widely used in the Air Force will be used. Winners at the local base will be sent to inter-zonal finals at Offutt Air Force Base in Omaha for competitions there.

Major Charles H. Bedell, base transportation officer, and his assistant T/Sgt. Thomas Michaels will be handling the event.

Government Acts To Stop Atom Strikes

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government Thursday put in motion the Taft-Hartley law emergency procedures aimed at stopping a two-day strike at plants producing key atomic and hydrogen bomb materials.

President Eisenhower named three members to a board of inquiry to get the facts on the strike of 4,500 CIO union workers at gaseous diffusion plants at Oak Ridge, Tenn., and Paducah, Ky. The President has said the strike could hurt this country's race for atomic supremacy.

The inquiry board went right to work taking testimony in closed-door sessions from representatives of the Atomic Energy Commission and the company and unions involved in a wage dispute.

Thomas Keith Glennan of Cleveland, president of Case Institute of Technology, was made inquiry board chairman and he promised that the board will have a full report on the situation quickly for President Eisenhower.

The board's report is necessary under the Taft-Hartley law before the President may take the next emergency strike step. This is an order to the Justice Department to apply in federal court for an 80-day, back-to-work injunction.

Besides Glennan, Eisenhower named as inquiry board members John L. Floberg, Washington attorney and former assistant secretary of the Navy, and Paul H. Sanders of Nashville, Tenn., Vanderbilt University law professor.

Three Publishers Posts 'Eliminated'

NEW YORK (INS) — Paul C. Smith, president of the Crowell-Collier Publishing Company, announced the elimination of three top magazine publishing posts and his assumption of those duties as editor-in-chief.

Relieved of their posts were Edward Anthony of Colliers; John W. McPherrin of American, and William A. Birnie of the Woman's Home Companion.

Slip Your Brassiere Again—And 90 Days, Judge Tells Frenchie

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A judge told a French Quarter dancer here Thursday she'd better not let her brassiere slip again.

Or else, Municipal Judge Harold J. Moore told Dancer Frenchie LeVonne, 25, it'll be 90 days in jail.

Frenchie was brought into court Thursday charged with exposing her right breast.

The court said the issue was whether the exposure was accidental or intentional.

Frenchie said she didn't do it on purpose.

Moore said the exposure was not proved to be intentional, but told Frenchie she'd better tighten up her rig, and if she came in again on the same charge she would go to jail.

News Around The Globe

Stevens Drives

SALZBURG, Austria (AP)—U.S. Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens arrived in Salzberg Thursday to inspect American Forces in Austria.

Unable to fly due to bad weather conditions, Stevens drove from Neubiberg Air Base, Germany, and was met at the Munich autobahn check point by Lt. Gen. William H. Arnold, commanding general of U.S. Forces in Austria.

French Promise

PARIS (INS) — French diplomatic sources said the Communists had obtained a French promise that no American bases would be established in Laos and Cambodia.

The sources added the Reds got virtually the same French promise about Vietnam, the third Associated State of Indo-China. French diplomats reportedly have already given a formal promise on Laos and Cambodia, but Vietnam's case is still under discussion.

Ex-Army Officer, 24, Gets 5 Years For Embezzlement

DES MOINES (AP)—Lowell Arthur Logan, 24, former University of Iowa student from Springfield, O., was sentenced in U.S. District Court to five years on a charge of embezzling $30,000 in military currency while he was an Air Force officer in Japan.

The charge against Logan originally was made known by the Air Force last March in connection with disclosure that Maj. Thomas Pate, finance officer at Tachikawa Air Force Base near Tokyo, had admitted converting nearly $200,000 in old military script to his own use.

Logan, honorably discharged Oct. 16, 1953, as a first lieutenant, was arrested last spring at Iowa City where he was attending the university law school. The government accused him of falsifying records of the amounts of "worn out" overseas military currency which he was directed to destroy.

Too Little, Too Late; Cop Chief Gets Suspension

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Mayor Haydon Burns suspended Police Chief Sherman Cannon for five days on charges of "inefficiency and incompetency" in connection with the purchase of summer uniforms for the city police force.

In a memo to Cannon, the mayor said his action came as the result of an investigation of the reason for delay in purchase of summer uniforms of police. He said the city purchasing agent reported requisitions for the uniforms were not received until June 25.

Caustic Acid Tank Blast Injures 23

GARY, Ind. (INS)—Twenty-three workmen were injured Thursday when an explosion ripped through a de-tinning plant in Gary, tearing out part of a wall and caving in the roof.

Caustic acid was splattered on the workers, reportedly blinding three of them, when a 30-foot pressure tank blew up. The acid was used to remove tin from scrap metal.

The blast, which caused damage estimated at $100,000, blew a cover weighing 12 tons off the pressure vessel containing the acid.

Peron Warning Hits Aggressors

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—President Juan D. Peron warned the Argentine people against the "crafty aggression" of foreign governments he said were attempting to infiltrate this country with their ideologies.

Speaking at a banquet to officers of the armed forces on the eve of the 138th anniversary of Argentina's independence from Spain, Peron said defense against such infiltration was more urgent than defense against possible atomic attack.

He named no particular government nor ideology, but his remarks were interpreted as meaning both Communist and non-Communist powers were trying to woo Argentina to their side.

Although Peron has placed Argentina in a "third position" between Eastern and Western ideologies, he declared it would be hard for any country to remain neutral in a third world war.

Key Perjury Charge Too Vague, Court Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—The key charge in a perjury indictment against Owen Lattimore—that he lied when he said he had never been a Communist sympathizer or promoter of Red interests—is too vague to be considered, the U.S. Court of Appeals ruled Thursday.

The court, by a vote of 8-1, upheld dismissal of the charge by U.S. Dist. Judge Luther W. Youngdahl in May, 1953. At the same time it reinstated, on 5-4 votes, two lesser charges Youngdahl had thrown out, and upheld the dismissal of still another on an 8-1 ruling.

Lattimore, controversial Far East specialist, called the net result "clearly a major victory."

'Case Destroyed'

Lattimore's attorneys, former Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo), and Thurman Arnold, a former judge of the appeals court, said the decision "has destroyed any substantial case" against Lattimore.

"The remaining counts are trivia, involving Lattimore's memory as to unimportant events in his long career which happened 10 to 15 years before the indictments," the lawyers said.

Lattimore, a one-time occasional State Department consultant, has been on leave of absence as a lecturer at Johns Hopkins University since his indictment in December, 1952.

Stormy Hearing

The indictment followed by almost a year 12 days of stormy testimony by Lattimore during an investigation by a Senate subcommittee of the Institute of Pacific Relations, a private research organization.

The subcommittee, then headed by Sen. McCarran (D-Nev), called Lattimore "a conscious articulate instrument of the Soviet conspiracy." Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) once called Lattimore the top Soviet espionage agent in this country.

"Pure moonshine," Lattimore replied.

Judge Youngdahl let stand three of the indictment's seven counts, but expressed doubt they would "pass the test of materiality so as to present a jury issue." This ruling was not before the appeals court.

Face Decision

The decision presented the Justice Department with the choice of putting Lattimore on trial on the two reinstated counts, plus the three Judge Youngdahl let stand or asking the Supreme Court to put the key count back in force.

U.S. Atty. Leo A. Rover said he regarded the "sympathizer" count as the most important from the government's standpoint. But he said he will pass on to the Justice Department the question of whether to appeal to the Supreme Court.

OWEN LATTIMORE

The department said the opinion will have to be studied carefully before it makes any decision.

Sixth Amendment

Speaking for the 8-1 majority in the key ruling, Judge E. Barrett Prettyman said the Constitution's Sixth Amendment requires that in all criminal prosecutions the accused shall be informed of the nature and cause of the action against him, adding:

"We are of the opinion the first count of the indictment is void for vagueness.

"The word 'sympathizer' is not of sufficiently certain meaning to sustain a charge of perjury. . . This count is that Lattimore said he had never been a sympathizer whereas he had been a sympathizer. There is no definition of the term 'sympathizer' or any concrete specification of its content either in the indictment or in the statute."

'Can't Be Cured'

Judge Prettyman said the "vagueness of this count cannot be cured by a bill of particulars." He added: "The prosecutor, in supplying the bill of particulars, cannot guess at what was in the grand jury's mind or ascribe a meaning to a charge by the grand jury if that meaning is not apparent upon the face of the indictment."

Chief Judge Harold M. Stephens, the lone dissenter, said he regards count one as valid.

Base Will Hold Vehicle 'Roadeo'

Lincoln Air Force Base will hold a motor vehicle Roadeo on Saturday, July 24, at 9 a.m. The event will be open to the public.

The classes of vehicles which are most widely used in the Air Force will be used. Winners at the local base will be sent to inter-zonal finals at Offutt Air Force Base in Omaha for competitions there.

Major Charles H. Bedell, base transportation officer, and his assistant T/Sgt. Thomas Michaels will be handling the event.

Government Acts To Stop Atom Strikes

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government Thursday put in motion the Taft-Hartley law emergency procedures aimed at stopping a two-day strike at plants producing key atomic and hydrogen bomb materials.

President Eisenhower named three members to a board of inquiry to get the facts on the strike of 4,500 CIO union workers at gaseous diffusion plants at Oak Ridge, Tenn., and Paducah, Ky. The President has said the strike could hurt this country's race for atomic supremacy.

The inquiry board went right to work taking testimony in closed-door sessions from representatives of the Atomic Energy Commission and the company and unions involved in a wage dispute.

Thomas Keith Glennan of Cleveland, president of Case Institute of Technology, was made inquiry board chairman and he promised that the board will have a full report on the situation quickly for President Eisenhower.

The board's report is necessary under the Taft-Hartley law before the President may take the next emergency strike step This is an order to the Justice Department to apply in federal court for an 80-day, back-to-work injunction.

Besides Glennan, Eienhower named as inquiry board members John L. Floberg, Washington attorney and former assistant secretary of the Navy, and Paul H. Sanders of Nashville, Tenn., Vanderbilt University law professor.

Three Publishers Posts 'Eliminated'

Relieved of their posts were Edward Anthony of Colliers; John W. McPherrin of American, and William A. Birnie of the Woman's Home Companion.

Slip Your Brassiere Again—And 90 Days, Judge Tells Frenchie

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A judge told a French Quarter dancer here Thursday she'd better not let her brassiere slip again.

Or else, Municipal Judge Harold J. Moore told Dancer Frenchie LeVonne, 25, it'll be 90 days in jail.

Frenchie was brought into court Thursday charged with exposing her right breast.

The court said the issue was whether the exposure was accidental or intentional.

Frenchie said she didn't do it on purpose.

Moore said the exposure was not proved to be intentional, but told Frenchie she'd better tighten up her rig, and if she came in again on the same charge she would go to jail.

News Around The Globe

Stevens Drives

SALZBURG, Austria (AP)—U.S. Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens arrived in Salzberg Thursday to inspect American Forces in Austria.

Unable to fly due to bad weather conditions, Stevens drove from Neubiberg Air Base, Germany, and was met at the Munich autobahn check point by Lt. Gen. William H. Arnold, commanding general of U.S. Forces in Austria.

French Promise

PARIS (INS) — French diplomatic sources said the Communists had obtained a French promise that no American bases would be established in Laos and Cambodia.

The sources added the Reds got virtually the same French promise about Vietnam, the third Associated State of Indo-China. French diplomats reportedly have already given a formal promise on Laos and Cambodia, but Vietnam's case is still under discussion.

Ex-Army Officer, 24, Gets 5 Years For Embezzlement

DES MOINES (AP)—Lowell Arthur Logan, 24, former University of Iowa student from Springfield, O., was sentenced in U.S. District Court to five years on a charge of embezzling $30,000 in military currency while he was an Air Force officer in Japan.

The charge against Logan originally was made known by the Air Force last March in connection with disclosure that Maj. Thomas Pate, finance officer at Tachikawa Air Force Base near Tokyo, had admitted converting nearly $200,000 in old military script to his own use.

Logan, honorably discharged Oct. 16, 1953, as a first lieutenant, was arrested last spring at Iowa City where he was attending the university law school. The government accused him of falsifying records of the amounts of "worn out" overseas military currency which he was directed to destroy.

Too Little, Too Late; Cop Chief Gets Suspension

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Mayor Haydon Burns suspended Police Chief Sherman Cannon for five days on charges of "inefficiency and incompetency" in connection with the purchase of summer uniforms for the city police force.

In a memo to Cannon, the mayor said his action came as the result of an investigation of the reason for delay in purchase of summer uniforms of police. He said the city purchasing agent reported requisitions for the uniforms were not received until June 25.

Reds Nab 'Spies'

TOKYO (Friday) (AP)—Peiping radio said today Communist troops captured two Koreans as "U.S. spies" Tuesday on Yonan Peninsula, some 45 miles northwest of Seoul.

This is the same general area where an Allied patrol boat was fired upon in the Han River of the neutral zone Wednesday. The Allies protested this incident as a violation of the armistice.

Caustic Acid Tank Blast Injures 23

GARY, Ind. (INS)—Twenty-three workmen were injured Thursday when an explosion ripped through a de-tinning plant in Gary, tearing out part of a wall and caving in the roof.

Caustic acid was splattered on the workers, reportedly blinding three of them, when a 30-foot pressure tank blew up. The acid was used to remove tin from scrap metal.

The blast, which caused damage estimated at $100,000, blew a cover weighing 12 tons off the pressure vessel containing the acid.

Peron Warning Hits Aggressors

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—President Juan D. Peron warned the Argentine people against the "crafty aggression" of foreign governments he said were attempting to infiltrate this country with their ideologies.

Speaking at a banquet to officers of the armed forces on the eve of the 138th anniversary of Argentina's independence from Spain, Peron said defense against such infiltration was more urgent than defense against possible atomic attack.

He named no particular government nor ideology, but his remarks were interpreted as meaning both Communist and non-Communist powers were trying to woo Argentina to their side.

Although Peron has placed Argentina in a "third position" between Eastern and Western ideologies, he declared it would be hard for any country to remain neutral in a third world war.

Powerful Atomic Particle From Outer Space Is 'Captured'

10 Million Billion Volts Energy

By RENNIE TAYLOR

SEATTLE (AP) — An atomic particle apparently from outer space, capable of annihilating ordinary matter in hair-raising fashion, has been captured at the top of the earth's atmosphere, a widely known cosmic ray scientist reported Thursday.

Moving at the incredible speed and energy of 10 million billion volts, the particle converted matter into energy and the energy turned back into another form of matter.

Nothing remotely approaching this energy ever has been reported before from direct observation of a single particle.

By comparison a fissioning uranium atom is a pipsqueak at about 200 million volts. The most powerful atom-smashing machine produces particles with energies not much above six billion volts.

'Reverse' Matter

This strange visitor may be a long-sought bit of "reverse" matter—something that would give researchers a tremendous boost in their efforts to solve the remaining mysteries of the atom. This in turn could add enormously to man's understanding of matter and perhaps to unheard-of new benefits from nuclear science.

The new find was made by Dr. Marcel Schein of the University of Chicago and reported by him to a meeting here of the American Physical Society. The project was sponsored by the Office of Naval Research

Although the final proof is lacking, the supposition is that the particle is an anti-proton. This would be the counterpart or "opposite number" of a proton. The proton, as we know it, is the core of a hydrogen atom and one of the components of every kind of matter.

The behavior of the particle and the circumstances of its discovery pose the question, "What else can it be if it isn't an anti-proton?" Dr. Schein said he had no other explanation at present. He offered his findings to fellow scientists for their opinions.

The particle was caught in a pack of special photographic plates carried in a high-altitude balloon over Texas last winter. It tore into the pack of films like a bullet through a deck of cards. In so doing it struck squarely an ordinary proton in the aluminum covering the film pack and produced a scientifically thrilling picture. (To a non-scientific eye, it appears only as a few broken lines of dots on the photographic paper).

The anti-proton and the proton were annihilated. Presumably both pieces of matter were converted into energy—as units of light or photons. These in turn were reconverted again into matter, as pairs of electrons.

The picture shows a cascade of very narrow V-shaped streaks familiar to cosmic ray experts as the tracks of paried electrons, positive and negative, traveling away from the scene of annihiliation.

One of the significant things about them, Dr. Schein said, is the purity and narrowness of the cascade. It is straight and narrow like a streak of light. And it does not contain tracks of partices other than electrons. In ordinary pictures of atomic crackups the tracks of other kinds of particles usually appear

The second startling thing, Dr. Schein added, was the enormous energy of the strange particles. He calculated it at 10 million billion volts.

Final Factor

A final factor in favor of the anti-proton conclusion was that the annihilation occurred 100,000 feet above the earth. There the strange visitor, coming from somewhere in outer space, had not yet entered the more dense atmosphere where it could easily strike a particle in an oxygen or nitrogen atom and disappear long before reaching the surface of the globe.

There is no possibility that scientists ever will collect a lot of these particles and cause any damaging annihilation. They are too scarce and hard to get. It is barely possible, Dr. Schein said, that the biggest atom-smashing machines will produce them, but mainly to complete nuclear theories, which hold that if you have positive particles you also have negative counterparts to balance the picture.

Clarence Davis May Receive Interior Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ralph A. Tudor, undersecretary of the interior, said Thursday night he plans to leave his post and return to private business "some time near the end of Congress."

As undersecretary, Tudor is second in command of the vast interior department directed by Secretary McKay.

Tudor, who has an engineering firm in Palo Alto, Calif., explained his decision:

"I originally agreed to stay on for a year ending April 1. I want to get back but I can't leave until some time near the end of Congress because we have some important legislation still pending."

Reports on Tudor's probable successor sprung up immediately.

Rep. Miller (R-Neb), chairman of the House Interior Committee which handles the department's legislation, said he understood Clarence Davis, department solicitor, was being considered. Davis is a former Lincoln attorney and a past president of the Nebraska Bar Association.

"That would suit me rather well," Miller said of the Davis succession report, "but I'm not sure I want to see him get it, even though it would be considered an advancement."

"He's doing a valuable piece of work where he is," Miller said of Davis, who directs the department's legal work.

"I'm not sure he wouldn't have less authority and less influence as undersecretary."

Miller said he understood Tudor was "not too happy" with his position in the government.

"After all," Miller said, "he probably could make four or five times as much money in industry. We can't expect these men to come here and give up so much income indefinitely."

Polio Case Count In Nation 'Even'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Public Health Service said Thursday the number of polio cases has been about the same this year as last year—4,667 cases in the first 26 weeks of 1954 against 4,676 in the first half of 1953.

In Nebraska, the 1954 polio count only last week passed the count on the same date in 1953. So far, the state has 50 cases, compared to 48 at a similar time last year.

"After all," Miller said, "he probably could make four or five times as much money in industry. We can't expect these men to come here and give up so much income indefinitely."

NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower's speech to the 1954 governors' conference at Bolton Landing, N.Y., Monday night will be carried on radio. The American Broadcasting Co. announced it would carry a "live" broadcast at 7 p.m., CST. The Mutual Broadcasting System and the Columbia Broadcasting System said they would carry recordings at 8:30 p.m., CST.

Mrs. Treadwell Rites In Utah

Services and burial for Mrs. Mabel Treadwell, 71, formerly of Lincoln, were in Ogden, Utah, where she died.

Born in Malcolm, she had lived in Lancaster County until going to Ogden six years ago.

Surviving are her sons, Merle and Orrin Deitch, and daughters, Mrs. Letha Nurton and Mrs. Vera Sanden, all of Hawthorne, Calif., and a brother, F. S. Davey, and sisters, Mrs. R. W. Reynolds and Mrs. J. L. Teal, all of Lincoln.

Polio Case Count In Nation 'Even'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Public Health Service said Thursday the number of polio cases has been about the same this year as last year—4,667 cases in the first 26 weeks of 1954 against 4,676 in the first half of 1953.

In Nebraska, the 1954 polio count only last week passed the count on the same date in 1953. So far, the state has 50 cases, compared to 48 at a similar time last year.

How Are We Doing?

Sifting the news of late exposes elements of a story which could be written for the interest of the agricultural states, Nebraska in particular.

Here are the elements:

It has been announced that steel prices went up approximately $3 a ton July 3.

Previously wage negotiations in the big employment key industries largely resulted in somewhat higher scales for labor.

Thursday the Nebraska-federal division of Agricultural statistics stated that the index of prices received by farmers declined 9 per cent during the month ending June 15.

A few days earlier the Department of Agriculture announced a wheat acreage allotment program that reduced Nebraska's 1955 crop acreage 12.6 per cent below the state's 1954 acreage. A reduction in corn acreage was put into effect last spring.

As of this moment Nebraska agriculture, which is to say Nebraska's principle source of income, is being afflicted both by price and production limitations.

This is happening when other elements in the national economy are moving to higher price levels.

Whatever is to be done in the name of economic stabilization must send all elements either upward or downward together. But when one declines while the others are holding even or going upward the reverse of stabilization is taking effect. The one on the decline is taking a beating.

Nebraska is a state of patriotic people willing to make sacrifices for the national welfare. It is facing its economic pricks in good, generous, humble spirit. And one cannot validly say that as yet its damage has been grave.

But like other members of the food producing region it has a right and a duty to call for a progress report on this thing the national administration calls stabilization, plus a full showing of facts. A game that hurts some and in the long run does no one any good is not a proper game.

City Readjustment

The mayor and City Council have now determined to make a change in the form of city government. With their decision to hire an additional administrator, they have altered a course that has been pursued without change since the existing government was adopted in 1937.

This change is largely the product of Mayor Clark Jeary who in the past year as mayor has seen the burdens of his office grow substantially in the consumption of more and more time. The mayor has found that he has been unable to keep up with all city business going through his office, despite the fact that he is on the job a good portion of every day in the week.

To meet this demand on time and energy, Jeary has promoted the hiring of some administrative help. He describes this person's duties as similar to those that are performed by city managers in cities where the city manager form of government is in operation.

Jeary has always acted in the past with conviction and only after ascertaining all the facts. From this it could be assumed that the mayor is now convinced that additional help is needed and this change agreed upon is the most effective way of meeting the problem.

There is no inclination here to disagree with Jeary. Lincoln is growing and the demand for services from the city is constantly increasing so the expansion of the administrative setup appears to be a logical move.

In two other steps, the Council took notice of a number of years of faithful and conscientious service on the part of two city employees, Wayne Harvey and James Mallon, now clerk and auditor under Finance Director Theo Berg. On Berg's recommendation, which is fine recognition in itself, Harvey has been named city purchasing agent and Mallon advanced in salary and responsibility.

There is assurance here that the city's finances will continue to be handled for many more years in the same careful manner as they have been in the past and are now under Berg's direction.

Of Men And Things

(No. 4 of a Series)

By J. E. LAWRENCE

The Board of Control established during the administration of the late Gov. John H. Morehead has under its supervision 16 institutions. The most important of these institutions are the mental hospitals, the state's penitentiary and state reformatory, the latter housing first offenders. Because of lack of funds for buildings, the mental hospitals located at Hastings, Lincoln, and Norfolk naturally gave the Board of Control the gravest concern.

★

The first step which the Board of Control took was to determine what could be done with buildings long in need of repairs and renovations in order to add to their usefulness and continuing service. But in these six years the board has made notable progress in developing institutions of which Nebraskans may be proud. At the Beatrice State Home, it built a girls' dormitory housing 140 patients at a cost of $278,450.04, and similar facilities for boys. It provided an expansion of the employees' quarters at a cost in excess of $91,000. And at the same time it remodeled and added to the hospital building, providing for 65 additional beds, new surgery facilities and treatment rooms. This was at a cost of $324,000. At the Boys' Training School at Kearney, two new cottages, each housing 40 boys and eight employees, and replacing old, condemned dormitories, were constructed at a cost of $393,064. At the Hastings State Hospital a new administration building taking care of the entire administrative section of the hospital was built at a cost of $145,261.51.

First Thought Is Economy

In addition to renovation, there were three notable improvements at the Lincoln State Hospital. The admissions building, with a bed capacity of 330, cost $722,354.89. The heating plant, including the construction of the building and stack and the installation of new boilers with mechanical equipment, cost $194,958.83. Finally the addition to and remodeling of the kitchen, with storage for food and fully equipped in all respects, cost $451,893.75.

★

One of the great needs at the Nebraska penitentiary was a modern laundry capable of servicing all the state institutions located in or near Lincoln, including the Lincoln mental hospital. It cost $189,472.60. The minimum security building, quarters for 250 men, represents an expenditure of $472,035 when complete. At the Norfolk State Hospital two impressive developments were undertaken. An administration and receiving building with facilities for 440 patients, now virtually complete, cost an estimated $1,414,000. And at the same institution a creamery and milking barn for a 250-cow dairy herd is now almost complete at a cost of $135,000. At the Home for Children, the largest outlay provided school and administration facilities. This is not all that has been done nor does it deal with future planning, but it does suggest the fine job being accomplished.

Improvements At Prison

Once again it will be noted that the emphasis prudently came upon renovation. That is where the real economy lies. For through neglect, buildings do fall into disrepair, and if the neglect continues, the cost of reconditioning them becomes greater each passing year. This is simply to say that in the operation of a long-range building program, the confidence of the people of Nebraska in the good judgment and prudent spirit of those responsible for the program has been amply justified. Never have the institutions under the Board of Control reflected better progress toward meeting what is to be expected of institutions of this character. It is a responsibility, a heavy one, and it is being met, although the needs still are great.

We'll Handle It

Everything yet is in the planning board stage, but it is more than wishful thinking that is connecting Nebraska with a major experiment in producing electric power by nuclear fission. The state's REA's are giving the proposal earnest and detailed thoughts.

Nebraska would be an especially suitable place for such an important test. In the past quarter of a century it has figured in more than one movement of public consequence. It is the nation's only completely public power state. It has been in the forefront of successful programs such as rural electrification, soil conservation, farm mechanization, reclamation, irrigation—blessed both with a suitable location and the kind of people who can take hold of things and make them work. It is significant that its big and outstanding public developments have relied mostly on the prudent and energetic action of people, keyed only by public credit and suggestions.

All we need to say to the Atomic Energy Commission is "Send out your machinery with a little card telling where to turn it on." Nebraskans will do the rest and the project will be a success.

For The Best Fitted

The Air Force has asked each of the nation's 531 senators and congressmen to nominate 10 candidates for entrance in its West Point of the Air which is to be built in Colorado Springs.

That will make 5,310 candidates. But the school expects to accept only 300 in its initial class. Differing from West Point which largely relies on congressional judgment, and from the Coast Guard Academy which does not consult congressmen at all, the air academy expects to conduct rigorous competitive examinations in each state, making certain that only the very best fitted will be given the valuable four year academy training.

One cannot find much to complain about in the Air Force's plan for giving its favors to the best qualified unless it would be to hope for the elimination of political influence entirely. It still makes provision for the elimination of some especially well qualified lad who doesn't happen to know anyone in politics. The Coast Guard has the better method.

Really Unusual

They have found a pre-historic human skull in Texas, older than any presently on the sheives of American anthropologists. They will probably send it to some quiet museum. That would be a mistake. It ought to go to a circus where it could be seen by millions as a curiosity. It is the only silent Texan in the world.

Butler Honors Await While Senators Argue

WASHINGTON—Vitally important American policy involving the eventual possibility of war has been debated in the Senate recently under a two-minute rule. It has also been sandwiched in between memorial tributes to a dead senator.

Some senators have protested that a two-minute limit on debate was no way to consider the most important Senate move toward isolation since the little band of irreconcilables bolted Woodrow Wilson and defeated the League of Nations.

It was at five minutes of midnight July 1 that Sen. Knowland of California announced that Sen. Hugh Butler of Nebraska had died. In deference to Mr. Butler the senators, weary from debating the tax bill, went home.

Usual Senate custom is to adjourn for one day following the death of a senator. But next morning at 10, GOP Leader Knowland boiled a tribute to Sen. Butler down to a few brief words, after which Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the Senate Democratic leader, rose to pay tribute, not to the dead Sen. Butler but to Sen. Knowland.

In an unusual oratorical embrace between the two senators who are supposed to lead opposing political parties, Johnson referred to the previous day's threat of "the distinguished majority leader, the senior senator from California" that the United States should cut off all funds from the United Nations if Red China was admitted. And Johnson proceeded to back up Knowland in his bolt against Eisenhower-Dulles policy that the executive branch of the government should not have its hands tied in regard to Red China or anything else.

"I welcome the statement made by the distinguished majority leader yesterday," said Johnson of Texas. "It was profound. It was forthright. It was typical of the man we have come to know and understand and respect."

The tributes to the late Sen. Butler seemed completely forgotten as the beaming Knowland rose to reply:

"I wish to express my appreciation to the distinguished minority leader, and also to commend him for the very statesmanlike and I believe very sound position he has taken."

☆ ☆ ☆

Finally Sen. Morse of Oregon got back to the deceased senator from Nebraska.

"It had been my hope this morning we would pay the highest respect we could pay to the memory of Hugh Butler by recessing immediately."

Morse proceeded to pay his own tribute to Sen. Butler, after which he thrust a jarring, vigorous dissent into the exchange of orchids between Knowland and Johnson.

"I do not share the view that the speeches of the majority leader and the minority leader on foreign policy have been of such tremendous importance or value," said the outspoken senator from Oregon.

"What disturbs me," summarized Morse, "is a growing attitude that if we cannot have our own way, and if the United Nations does not follow a course of action which we think it ought to follow, then we will retire from the United Nations.

"I happen to be one who believes that even if outvoted in the United Nations it is important that the views of a free America always be spoken in the forums of the United Nations."

Morse said that he too was against the admission of Red China into the U. N. But he added:

"We had better be on guard against the calls of going it alone, because the danger is that if we heed those calls we shall be going it alone, in which case we shall soon find ourselves in a third world war."

Sen. Johnson, who sometimes shows a certain amount of oratorical cowardice, did not tangle with the rapier-tongued Morse. But later, when Lehman of New York, a stellar senator but not fast on his forensic feet, supported Morse, Johnson rose to heckle.

Accusing Lehman of putting words into his mouth, Johnson interrupted him, then claimed that Lehman was interrupting him, challenged Lehman to answer the question of whether the American people would disagree over withdrawing financial support from the U. N. if Red China were admitted.

"I oppose the admission of Red China with all my heart, force and might," said Lehman, "but that does not mean we should forever close the door to consideration of this matter any time in the future."

Finally, after Johnson had bullied Lehman further, Sen. Morse came to his rescue.

"I think the senator from Texas is entitled to an answer from me to the question he put to the senator from New York," said Morse.

PICK UP YOUR MARBLES

"I wish to say that if the United Nations ever made the terrible mistake of admitting Red China, the American people would not favor withdrawing from the United Nations . . . because they know that sometimes in the Democratic process decisions are lost by a majority vote. And the American people do not believe that if you cannot have your way, you should pick up your marbles and go home."

MARQUIS CHILDS

Douglas Fight May Settle Stevenson Bid

CHICAGO — As the congressional campaign warms up this fall, the contest here in Illinois promises to bring to a focus the issues crucial for both parties. At the same time the two principal personalities are sharply contrasted so that the voters will have a clear-cut choice.

Senator Paul Douglas, a Democrat, a former professor of economics at the University of Chicago and a marine combat veteran who enlisted as a private although at the beginning of the war he was nearly 50 years old, is running for re-election. His Republican opponent is Joseph T. Meek, for many years director and chief lobbyist for the Illinois Federation of Retailers. As head of this politically potent organization made up of 10,000 storekeepers, Meek has an almost-unmatched hand-shaking acquaintance from Cairo in the southern tip of the state to Rockford in the north.

To give the Illinois contest heightened interest Meek has said that if he succeeds in defeating Douglas, then Adlai Stevenson will be eliminated as a Democratic presidential candidate in 1956. Meek was quoted in the primary campaign:

"I am convinced Stevenson could never survive the defeat of his favorite candidate here in his own state. The smart Democrats would desert him like rats leaving a sinking ship."

☆ ☆ ☆

Objectively one can say that this claim has considerable validity. A defeat for the Democrats in Stevenson's home state this coming November would certainly not help his chances for the nomination. Those in the Democratic party who want to sidetrack him would use the result as evidence of his weakness, particularly if Stevenson, as he has offered to do, campaigns actively for Douglas. So the contest is significant not merely for '54 and the fate of two sharply contrasted individuals but for '56 and a much larger struggle.

The smudge of Texas oil is certain to darken the Illinois campaign. Douglas was one of the Democrats who led the fight against turning the Tidelands oil over to Texas, California and the other states with off-shore wealth. The rumor—it is no more than that—has it that the Texas crowd will go up to $5,000,000 to try to defeat Douglas. In many state campaigns in '52 they put in large sums to defeat candidates who had opposed the transfer of Tidelands oil from the federal government to the states and who were considered by the ultra-reactionary Texans to be radical and dangerous.

There is national significance here. If through helping to elect Meek, the Texas billionaires could damage or destroy Stevenson's chances two years from now they would eliminate another and more conspicious enemy than Sen. Douglas. In the '52 campaign Stevenson was for the federal government retaining the Tidelands oil wealth and over this issue Gov. Allen Shivers repudiated the Democrats and helped carry Texas for Gen. Eisenhower. Texas's own Sen. Lyndon Johnson, the Senate minority leader, is said to have his eye on the Democratic nomination and the Texas billionaires would be much happier with him than with Stevenson.

Support for President Eisenhower is another issue with national overtones. Meek says he is for most of the Eisenhower program. Douglas will cite Meek's published statements—he has never held public office—to try to prove that the senatorial candidate is against almost everything the President has championed.

Meek favors the Bricker amendment to the constitution which President Eisenhower has said would make the conduct of foreign policy difficult, if not impossible. On this issue Meek says that the President and he took it up at their recent meeting in the White House, and the President did not seem disturbed. But Douglas will hammer hard on the claim that he, rather than Meek, has supported the President on foreign policy. That question will come sharply to the fore in view of Mr. Eisenhower's promise to speak at the state fair at Springfield on Aug. 19. Meek will be on hand to get the presidential blessing.

There are signs that this will be a bitter and perhaps a dirty campaign. Meek takes the line that Douglas is a socialist. Denying that he has any socialist leanings, Douglas charges Meek with opposing social security and every other reform of the past 20 years.

To document this the Douglas people intend to draw on the weekly newsletter Meek got out over the years as president of the Retailers' Federation. The Douglas camp also has an affidavit signed by Mrs. Meek in Western Springs, a suburb of Chicago where they live, intended to keep a Negro from buying property there. Meek says he argued with his wife about this, but that she had a right to sign it if she chose to.

Both candidates are already hard at work. It will really warm up come Labor Day. From the Lincoln-Douglas debates to Big Bill Thompson, Illinois politics has often drawn the national spotlight. The contest this fall may be as decisive for the future as anything that has happened in this brawling, lusty region.

Diogenes Pauses At Aurora—And Goes On

By MONA B. PARKER

Hot weather note: Justice is completely lacking in men's and women's dress styles, feels Editor Jarrell of the Grand Island Independent. "A woman with a sleeveless dress is considered well dressed. But a man in his undershirt is frowned upon with the utmost severity."

☆ ☆ ☆

Elsewhere in the state news was the contention that the idea of men wearing shorts while at work is not going to be popular in most areas, with the possible exception of the "knobby-kneed intellectuals back east." Latest style wrinkle among the short-pants set is shorts with black stripes down the sides to go with formal coats.

THE GOOD OL' SUMMERTIME: Mrs. Roy Ahrndt of Scribner observed that 69 pigs seemed like 169 when it came to marking, vaccinating and oiling them. "We used a five-gallon bucket one-third full of oil and dip mixture and set the pigs in it to wash them. Sometimes you wondered who was oiling whom."

. . . There was the Adams County farmer who, with harvest time near at hand, attempted to buy some binding twine in a local store—and the young salesman who admitted he didn't know what his customer was talking about . . . One hot day last week a gentleman entered a Gering jewelry store carrying a pint of ice-cream and asked to look at spoons. He bought a silver spoon for $1.50 and proceeded out the door, sat down on the curb and enjoyed his cooling repast . . . Clarks Druggist W. L. Copeland feels the youngsters of that town go a little too far when they buy the new-fangled pop in cans at other stores, punch holes in the cans—and then come in and borrow straws at his fountain to drink it with . . .

One Hastings mother is looking longingly at the calendar and September. The latest household problem has been her boy's idea for air-conditioning the kitchen by propping open the door of the refrigerator and moving the TV set into position while he enjoys "some of those good cold waves" . . . There will be no snake dance by the Koshare Indians for the Norfolk yearly festival and barbecue for the reason that no bull snakes were forthcoming. Either the snakes weren't to be found, or the price offered wasn't enough. At any rate, the traditional rain-making ceremony requiring a dozen of the reptiles will have to be dispensed with . . .

In Blair, Policeman Percy Blair said it was hot and Restaurateur Frank Cope said it wasn't, so Mr. Blair offered to swap jobs to prove his point. Mr. Cope strode forth valiantly to walk the streets and check overtime parking, while Mr. Blair donned apron and went happily to work in the air-cooled cafe. But the exchange wasn't very profitable for the city. The cash register played merry music under the fingers of the hard-working cop—but the city coffers were enriched only to the tune of one dollar (one ticket).

A Neligh mother brushed her young daughter's long curls each morning amidst much vocal protesting, threatening at times to take scissors to the hair to bring an end to the tears. But fate in the form of a wad of gum saved her the trouble. The youngster failed to dispose of the gum at bedtime and it became matted in her hair during the night. Out came the scissors and she is now wearing the new boyish style haircut.

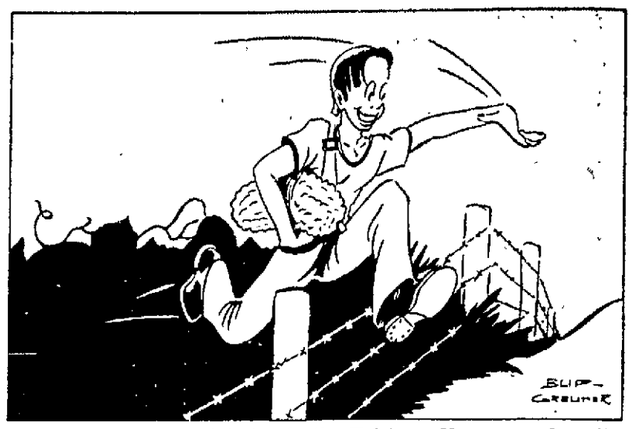
It was near Aurora where an elderly couple, tourists, had the misfortune to run into mechanical trouble requiring an overnight delay for repairs. They took a room at the hotel where Proprietor Lester Anderson went out of his way to make them comfortable—private guest room on the first floor, an extra electric fan, ice water and additional ice cubes. They expressed repeated concern over the honesty of the workmen fixing their car, and Mr. Anderson assured them they had no reason to worry.

The car was repaired next morning and the couple departed—taking with them the towels and bath mat from the hotel's guest room.



Virg Hill was reminiscing in the Fairbury News on a favorite boyhood pastime of summertime, that of helping themselves under cover of night to the fruits of a farmer neighbor's watermelon patch. "But the kid who got no fun out of it years ago," he remembered vividly, "was the boy who grabbed and ran in the dark—only to learn later that he had carted off a big cucumber."

Water Restrictions

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I wholeheartedly agree that certain restrictions must be enacted by the city of Lincoln to conserve its water supply. But I believe that this hardship should be borne by all users of water. It seems highly inconsistent to me that when, admittedly, the present shortage of water is due to the greatly expanded use of water for air-conditioning, the Lincoln Advisory Water Use Committee issues tighter watering use restrictions only on lawn and garden sprinkling. The fact that air-conditioning is the most direct cause for the water shortage is borne out by a statement made by Fred Blumer, superintendent of the A Street pumping station and quoted in the June 29 Lincoln Star. Mr. Blumer stated: "Air-conditioning rather than sprinkling is the thing that is killing us now."

The same issue of The Star reported: "There are several commercial customers on the city's water system using up to 500,000 gallons of water per day for air-conditioning." And in addition: "Some members of the Lincoln Advisory Water Use Committee have been critical of the free use of water for air-conditioning." It is my opinion that if restrictions on the use of water for lawns and gardens are necessary, similar restrictions should be applied to the use of water for air-conditioning purposes, particularly commercial.

During the legal watering hours of 5:00 p.m. until midnight, my meter registers a flow of 22 cu. ft. (165 gals.) per hour. At that rate it would take me 433 sprinkling days to use as much water for sprinkling purposes as a commercial firm uses in one day at a consumption rate of 500,000 gallons daily. Under present regulations, this 500,000 gallons would last me 14 1-3 years where sprinkling is done on alternate days (using a liberal sprinkling period of four months—June, July, August and September) annually. Or to put it another way, at the rate I use water for sprinkling, 866 lawns and gardens could be sprinkled with the same amount of water that is used by a commercial firm which uses 500,000 gallons in one day.

If because of poor water facility expansion management in past years, a choice must be made in Lincoln between having green and luxuriant lawns and gardens or homes, offices and stores, the issue is very clear. If trees, shrubs, plants and grass are permitted to die, there is no rectification—years of careful planning, tending and investment are forever lost.

There is no need for the beautiful city of Lincoln to turn brown under a burning sun. There is sufficient water available to keep it green and beautiful if all home owners and businesses carry their fair share of the water restriction burden. It will be onerous—it is onerous—but the citizens of Lincoln will arise to the occasion and in the years ahead will look back upon the decisions made by the Water Advisory Use Committee in 1954 with pride if those decisions keep Lincoln green. But if special interests force our city's lawns and gardens to be burned out, its citizens will justly look back to the year of 1954 as one of folly.

As a modest home owner and one who has no financial interest other than in his home, I strongly protest the injustice of the City Council's imposition of these harsh water use restrictions without imposing similar restrictions on home and business concerns using water for air-conditioning purposes.

Open-Door Policy

Omaha, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: In answer to the letter, "Communist Exposure," by a Lincoln writer (Lincoln Star, July 6), I must admit that I cannot hope for space to deal with all the 17 points he brought up. So I am doing the best I can by checking his facts on just two of the main contentions.

He proudly states that there have been 100 years of the "open-door" policy in China. Prof. Carrington Goodrich, however, gives the data of the Nine-Power Pact as 1922. From the text, any American will gather a feeling of less than high pride in what that euphonious "open-door" policy really involved—gross interference with the internal affairs of China to the very borderline of complete partition among the powers of its territory. I well recall how close it came to that.

Next the Lincoln writer asserts that we were dragged into World War I by the Democrats. I wonder whether he really was on the scene in 1917! Had he said that then, he would have been associated with some odd company, including draft resistors. Attorney General Palmer would have hunted him down and jailed him, and had he been a congressman, he would have been expelled.

I would like to plead with the writer that he check his facts more fully, that he watch out that his hastily made assertions do not boomerang on him—in his case, the possibility that McCarthy may be looking for his type next and give him some of the medicine of "exposure rather than prosecution" that he prescribes so blithely for others.

How Are We Doing?

Sifting the news of late exposes elements of a story which could be written for the interest of the agricultural states, Nebraska in particular.

Here are the elements:

It has been announced that steel prices went up approximately $3 a ton July 3.

Previously wage negotiations in the big employment key industries largely resulted in somewhat higher scales for labor.

Thursday the Nebraska-federal division of Agricultural statistics stated that the index of prices received by farmers declined 9 per cent during the month ending June 15.

A few days earlier the Department of Agriculture announced a wheat acreage allotment program that reduced Nebraska's 1955 crop acreage 12.6 per cent below the state's 1954 acreage. A reduction in corn acreage was put into effect last spring.

As of this moment Nebraska agriculture, which is to say Nebraska's principle source of income, is being afflicted both by price and production limitations.

This is happening when other elements in the national economy are moving to higher price levels.

Whatever is to be done in the name of economic stabilization must send all elements either upward or downward together. But when one declines while the others are holding even or going upward the reverse of stabilization is taking effect. The one on the decline is taking a beating.

Nebraska is a state of patriotic people willing to make sacrifices for the national welfare. It is facing its economic pricks in good, generous, humble spirit. And one cannot validly say that as yet its damage has been grave.

But like other members of the food producing region it has a right and a duty to call for a progress report on this thing the national administration calls stabilization, plus a full showing of facts. A game that hurts some and in the long run does no one any good is not a proper game.

City Readjustment

The mayor and City Council have now determined to make a change in the form of city government. With their decision to hire an additional administrator, they have altered a course that has been pursued without change since the existing government was adopted in 1937.

This change is largely the product of Mayor Clark Jeary who in the past year as mayor has seen the burdens of his office grow substantially in the consumption of more and more time. The mayor has found that he has been unable to keep up with all city business going through his office, despite the fact that he is on the job a good portion of every day in the week.

To meet this demand on time and energy, Jeary has promoted the hiring of some administrative help. He describes this person's duties as similar to those that are performed by city managers in cities where the city manager form of government is in operation.

Jeary has always acted in the past with conviction and only after ascertaining all the facts. From this it could be assumed that the mayor is now convinced that additional help is needed and this change agreed upon is the most effective way of meeting the problem.

There is no inclination here to disagree with Jeary. Lincoln is growing and the demand for services from the city is constantly increasing so the expansion of the administrative setup appears to be a logical move.

In two other steps, the Council took notice of a number of years of faithful and conscientious service on the part of two city employees, Wayne Harvey and James Mallon, now clerk and auditor under Finance Director Theo Berg. On Berg's recommendation, which is fine recognition in itself, Harvey has been named city purchasing agent and Mallon advanced in salary and responsibility.

There is assurance here that the city's finances will continue to be handled for many more years in the same careful manner as they have been in the past and are now under Berg's direction.

Of Men And Things

(No. 4 of a Series)

By J. E. LAWRENCE

The Board of Control established during the administration of the late Gov. John H. Morehead has under its supervision 16 institutions. The most important of these institutions are the mental hospitals, the state's penitentiary and state reformatory, the latter housing first offenders. Because of lack of funds for buildings, the mental hospitals located at Hastings, Lincoln, and Norfolk naturally gave the Board of Control the gravest concern.

★

The first step which the Board of Control took was to determine what could be done with buildings long in need of repairs and renovations in order to add to their usefulness and continuing service. But in these six years the board has made notable progress in developing institutions of which Nebraskans may be proud. At the Beatrice State Home, it built a girls' dormitory housing 140 patients at a cost of $278,450.04, and similar facilities for boys. It provided an expansion of the employees' quarters at a cost in excess of $91,000. And at the same time it remodeled and added to the hospital building, providing for 65 additional beds, new surgery facilities and treatment rooms. This was at a cost of $324,000. At the Boys' Training School at Kearney, two new cottages, each housing 40 boys and eight employees, and replacing old, condemned dormitories, were constructed at a cost of $393,064. At the Hastings State Hospital a new administration building taking care of the entire administrative section of the hospital was built at a cost of $145,261.51.

In addition to renovation, there were three notable improvements at the Lincoln State Hospital. The admissions building, with a bed capacity of 330, cost $722,354.89. The heating plant, including the construction of the building and stack and the installation of new boilers with mechanical equipment, cost $194,058.83. Finally the addition to and remodeling of the kitchen, with storage for food and fully equipped in all respects, cost $451,893.75.

★

One of the great needs at the Nebraska penitentiary was a modern laundry capable of servicing all the state institutions located in or near Lincoln, including the Lincoln mental hospital. It cost $189,472.60. The minimum security building, quarters for 250 men, represents an expenditure of $472,035 when complete. At the Norfolk State Hospital two impressive developments were undertaken. An administration and receiving building with facilities for 440 patients, now virtually complete, cost an estimated $1,414,000. And at the same institution a creamery and milking barn for a 250-cow dairy herd is now almost complete at a cost of $135,000. At the Home for Children, the largest outlay provided school and administration facilities. This is not all that has been done nor does it deal with future planning, but it does suggest the fine job being accomplished.

Once again it will be noted that the emphasis prudently came upon renovation. That is where the real economy lies. For through neglect, buildings do fall into disrepair, and if the neglect continues, the cost of reconditioning them becomes greater each passing year. This is simply to say that in the operation of a long-range building program, the confidence of the people of Nebraska in the good judgment and prudent spirit of those responsible for the program has been amply justified. Never have the institutions under the Board of Control reflected better progress toward meeting what is to be expected of institutions of this character. It is a responsibility, a heavy one, and it is being met, although the needs still are great.

We'll Handle It

Everything yet is in the planning board stage, but it is more than wishful thinking that is connecting Nebraska with a major experiment in producing electric power by nuclear fission. The state's REA's are giving the proposal earnest and detailed thoughts.

Nebraska would be an especially suitable place for such an important test. In the past quarter of a century it has figured in more than one movement of public consequence. It is the nation's only completely public power state. It has been in the forefront of successful programs such as rural electrification, soil conservation, farm mechanization, reclamation, irrigation—blessed both with a suitable location and the kind of people who can take hold of things and make them work. It is significant that its big and outstanding public developments have relied mostly on the prudent and energetic action of people, keyed only by public credit and suggestions.

All we need to say to the Atomic Energy Commission is "Send out your machinery with a little card telling where to turn it on." Nebraskans will do the rest and the project will be a success.

For The Best Fitted

The Air Force has asked each of the nation's 531 senators and congressmen to nominate 10 candidates for entrance in its West Point of the Air which is to be built in Colorado Springs.

That will make 5,310 candidates. But the school expects to accept only 300 in its initial class. Differing from West Point which largely relies on congressional judgment, and from the Coast Guard Academy which does not consult congressmen at all, the air academy expects to conduct rigorous competitive examinations in each state, making certain that only the very best fitted will be given the valuable four year academy training.

One cannot find much to complain about in the Air Force's plan for giving its favors to the best qualified unless it would be to hope for the elimination of political influence entirely. It still makes provision for the elimination of some especially well qualified lad who doesn't happen to know anyone in politics. The Coast Guard has the better method.

Really Unusual

They have found a pre-historic human skull in Texas, older than any presently on the shelves of American anthropologists. They will probably send it to some quiet museum. That would be a mistake. It ought to go to a circus where it could be seen by millions as a curiosity. It is the only silent Texan in the world.

Butler Honors Await While Senators Argue

WASHINGTON—Vitally important American policy involving the eventual possibility of war has been debated in the Senate recently under a two-minute rule. It has also been sandwiched in between memorial tributes to a dead senator.

Some senators have protested that a two-minute limit on debate was no way to consider the most important Senate move toward isolation since the little band of irreconcilables bolted Woodrow Wilson and defeated the League of Nations.

It was at five minutes of midnight July 1 that Sen. Knowland of California announced that Sen. Hugh Butler of Nebraska had died. In deference to Mr. Butler the senators, weary from debating the tax bill, went home.

Usual Senate custom is to adjourn for one day following the death of a senator. But next morning at 10, GOP Leader Knowland boiled a tribute to Sen. Butler down to a few brief words, after which Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the Senate Democratic leader, rose to pay tribute, not to the dead Sen. Butler but to Sen. Knowland.

In an unusual oratorical embrace between the two senators who are supposed to lead opposing political parties, Johnson referred to the previous day's threat of "the distinguished majority leader, the senior senator from California" that the United States should cut off all funds from the United Nations if Red China was admitted. And Johnson proceeded to back up Knowland in his bolt against Eisenhower-Dulles policy that the executive branch of the government should not have its hands tied in regard to Red China or anything else.

"I welcome the statement made by the distinguished majority leader yesterday," said Johnson of Texas. "It was profound. It was forthright. It was typical of the man we have come to know and understand and respect."

The tributes to the late Sen. Butler seemed completely forgotten as the beaming Knowland rose to reply:

"I wish to express my appreciation to the distinguished minority leader, and also to commend him for the very statesmanlike and I believe very sound position he has taken."

☆ ☆ ☆

Finally Sen. Morse of Oregon got back to the deceased senator from Nebraska.

"It had been my hope this morning we would pay the highest respect we could pay to the memory of Hugh Butler by recessing immediately."

Morse proceeded to pay his own tribute to Sen. Butler, after which he thrust a jarring, vigorous dissent into the exchange of orchids between Knowland and Johnson.

"I do not share the view that the speeches of the majority leader and the minority leader on foreign policy have been of such tremendous importance or value," said the outspoken senator from Oregon.

"What disturbs me," summarized Morse, "is a growing attitude that if we cannot have our own way, and if the United Nations does not follow a course of action which we think it ought to follow, then we will retire from the United Nations.

"I happen to be one who believes that even if outvoted in the United Nations it is important that the views of a free America always be spoken in the forums of the United Nations."

Morse said that he too was against the admission of Red China into the U. N. But he added:

"We had better be on guard against the calls of going it alone, because the danger is that if we heed those calls we shall be going it alone, in which case we shall soon find ourselves in a third world war."

Sen. Johnson, who sometimes shows a certain amount of oratorical cowardice, did not tangle with the rapier-tongued Morse. But later, when Lehman of New York, a stellar senator but not fast on his forensic feet, supported Morse, Johnson rose to heckle.

Accusing Lehman of putting words into his mouth, Johnson interrupted him, then claimed that Lehman was interrupting him, challenged Lehman to answer the question of whether the American people would disagree over withdrawing financial support from the U. N. if Red China were admitted.

"I oppose the admission of Red China with all my heart, force and might," said Lehman, "but that does not mean we should forever close the door to consideration of this matter any time in the future."

Finally, after Johnson had bullied Lehman further, Sen. Morse came to his rescue.

"I think the senator from Texas is entitled to an answer from me to the question he put to the senator from New York," said Morse.

PICK UP YOUR MARBLES

"I wish to say that if the United Nations ever made the terrible mistake of admitting Red China, the American people would not favor withdrawing from the United Nations . . . because they know that sometimes in the Democratic process decisions are lost by a majority vote. And the American people do not believe that if you cannot have your way, you should pick up your marbles and go home."

MARQUIS CHILDS

Douglas Fight May Settle Stevenson Bid

CHICAGO — As the congressional campaign warms up this fall, the contest here in Illinois promises to bring to a focus the issues crucial for both parties. At the same time the two principal personalities are sharply contrasted so that the voters will have a clear-cut choice.

Senator Paul Douglas, a Democrat, a former professor of economics at the University of Chicago and a marine combat veteran who enlisted as a private although at the beginning of the war he was nearly 50 years old, is running for re-election. His Republican opponent is Joseph T. Meek, for many years director and chief lobbyist for the Illinois Federation of Retailers. As head of this politically potent organization made up of 10,000 storekeepers, Meek has an almost-unmatched hand-shaking acquaintance from Cairo in the southern tip of the state to Rockford in the north.

To give the Illinois contest heightened interest Meek has said that if he succeeds in defeating Douglas, then Adlai Stevenson will be eliminated as a Democratic presidential candidate in 1956. Meek was quoted in the primary campaign:

"I am convinced Stevenson could never survive the defeat of his favorite candidate here in his own state. The smart Democrats would desert him like rats leaving a sinking ship."

☆ ☆ ☆

Objectively one can say that this claim has considerable validity. A defeat for the Democrats in Stevenson's home state this coming November would certainly not help his chances for the nomination. Those in the Democratic party who want to sidetrack him would use the result as evidence of his weakness, particularly if Stevenson, as he has offered to do, campaigns actively for Douglas. So the contest is significant not merely for '54 and the fate of two sharply contrasted individuals but for '56 and a much larger struggle.

The smudge of Texas oil is certain to darken the Illinois campaign. Douglas was one of the Democrats who led the fight against turning the Tidelands oil over to Texas, California and the other states with off-shore wealth. The rumor—it is no more than that—has it that the Texas crowd will go up to $5,000,000 to try to defeat Douglas. In many state campaigns in '52 they put in large sums to defeat candidates who had opposed the transfer of Tidelands oil from the federal government to the states and who were considered by the ultra-reactionary Texans to be radical and dangerous.

There is national significance here. If through helping to elect Meek, the Texas billionaires could damage or destroy Stevenson's chances two years from now they would eliminate another and more conspicious enemy than Sen. Douglas. In the '52 campaign Stevenson was for the federal government retaining the Tidelands oil wealth and over this issue Gov. Allen Shivers repudiated the Democrats and helped carry Texas for Gen. Eisenhower. Texas's own Sen. Lyndon Johnson, the Senate minority leader, is said to have his eye on the Democratic nomination and the Texas billionaires would be much happier with him than with Stevenson.

Support for President Eisenhower is another issue with national overtones. Meek says he is for most of the Eisenhower program. Douglas will cite Meek's published statements—he has never held public office—to try to prove that the senatorial candidate is against almost everything the President has championed.

Meek favors the Bricker amendment to the constitution which President Eisenhower has said would make the conduct of foreign policy difficult, if not impossible. On this issue Meek says that the President and he took it up at their recent meeting in the White House, and the President did not seem disturbed. But Douglas will hammer hard on the claim that he, rather than Meek, has supported the President on foreign policy. That question will come sharply to the fore in view of Mr. Eisenhower's promise to speak at the state fair at Springfield on Aug. 19. Meek will be on hand to get the presidential blessing.

There are signs that this will be a bitter and perhaps a dirty campaign. Meek takes the line that Douglas is a socialist. Denying that he has any socialist leanings, Douglas charges Meek with opposing social security and every other reform of the past 20 years.

To document this the Douglas people intend to draw on the weekly newsletter Meek got out over the years as president of the Retailers' Federation. The Douglas camp also has an affidavit signed by Mrs. Meek in Western Springs, a suburb of Chicago where they live, intended to keep a Negro from buying property there. Meek says he argued with his wife about this, but that she had a right to sign it if she chose to.

Both candidates are already hard at work. It will really warm up come Labor Day. From the Lincoln-Douglas debates to Big Bill Thompson, Illinois politics has often drawn the national spotlight. The contest this fall may be as decisive for the future as anything that has happened in this brawling, lusty region.

Elsewhere in the state news was the contention that the idea of men wearing shorts while at work is not going to be popular in most areas, with the possible exception of the "knobby-kneed intellectuals back east." In Blair, Policeman Percy Blair said it was hot and Restaurateur Frank Cope said it wasn't, so Mr. Blair offered to swap jobs to prove his point. Mr. Cope strode forth valiantly to walk the streets and check overtime parking, while Mr. Blair donned apron and went happily to work in the air-cooled cafe. But the exchange wasn't very profitable for the city. The cash register played merry music under the fingers of the hard-working cop—but the city coffers were enriched only to the tune of one dollar (one ticket).

Out came the scissors and she is now wearing the new boyish style haircut.

It was near Aurora where an elderly couple, tourists, had the misfortune to run into mechanical trouble requiring an overnight delay for repairs. They took a room at the hotel where Proprietor Lester Anderson went out of his way to make them comfortable—private guest room on the first floor, an extra electric fan, ice water and additional ice cubes. They expressed repeated concern over the honesty of the workmen fixing their car, and Mr. Anderson assured them they had no reason to worry.

The car was repaired next morning and the couple departed—taking with them the towels and bath mat from the hotel's guest room.

Virg Hill was reminiscing in the Fairbury News on a favorite boyhood pastime of summertime, that of helping themselves under cover of night to the fruits of a farmer neighbor's watermelon patch. "But the kid who got no fun out of it years ago," he remembered vividly, "was the boy who grabbed and ran in the dark—only to learn later that he had carted off a big cucumber."

Water Restrictions

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I wholeheartedly agree that certain restrictions must be enacted by the city of Lincoln to conserve its water supply. But I believe that this hardship should be borne by all users of water. It seems highly inconsistent to me that when, admittedly, the present shortage of water is due to the greatly expanded use of water for air-conditioning, the Lincoln Advisory Water Use Committee issues tighter watering use restrictions only on lawn and garden sprinkling. The fact that air-conditioning is the most direct cause for the water shortage is borne out by a statement made by Fred Blumer, superintendent of the A Street pumping station and quoted in the June 29 Lincoln Star. Mr. Blumer stated: "Air-conditioning rather than sprinkling is the thing that is killing us now."

The same issue of The Star reported: "There are several commercial customers on the city's water system using up to 500,000 gallons of water per day for air-conditioning." And in addition: "Some members of the Lincoln Advisory Water Use Committee have been critical of the free use of water for air-conditioning." It is my opinion that if restrictions on the use of water for lawns and gardens are necessary, similar restrictions should be applied to the use of water for air-conditioning purposes, particularly commercial.

During the legal watering hours of 5:00 p.m. until midnight, my meter registers a flow of 22 cu. ft. (165 gals.) per hour. At that rate it would take me 433 sprinkling days to use as much water for sprinkling purposes as a commercial firm uses in one day at a consumption rate of 500,000 gallons daily. Under present regulations, this 500,000 gallons would last me 14 1-3 years where sprinkling is done on alternate days (using a liberal sprinkling period of four months—June, July, August and September) annually. Or to put it another way, at the rate I use water for sprinkling, 866 lawns and gardens could be sprinkled with the same amount of water that is used by a commercial firm which uses 500,000 gallons in one day.

If because of poor water facility expansion management in past years, a choice must be made in Lincoln between having green and luxuriant lawns and gardens or homes, offices and stores, the issue is very clear. If trees, shrubs, plants and grass are permitted to die, there is no rectification—years of careful planning, tending and investment are forever lost.

There is no need for the beautiful city of Lincoln to turn brown under a burning sun. There is sufficient water available to keep it green and beautiful if all home owners and businesses carry their fair share of the water restriction burden. It will be onerous—it is onerous—but the citizens of Lincoln will arise to the occasion and in the years ahead will look back upon the decisions made by the Water Advisory Use Committee in 1954 with pride if those decisions keep Lincoln green. But if special interests force our city's lawns and gardens to be burned out, its citizens will justly look back to the year of 1954 as one of folly.

As a modest home owner and one who has no financial interest other than in his home, I strongly protest the injustice of the City Council's imposition of these harsh water use restrictions without imposing similar restrictions on home and business concerns using water for air-conditioning purposes.

Open-Door Policy

Omaha, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: In answer to the letter, "Communist Exposure," by a Lincoln writer (Lincoln Star, July 6), I must admit that I cannot hope for space to deal with all the 17 points he brought up. So I am doing the best I can by checking his facts on just two of the main contentions.

He proudly states that there have been 100 years of the "open-door" policy in China. Prof. Carrington Goodrich, however, gives the data of the Nine-Power Pact as 1922. From the text, any American will gather a feeling of less than high pride in what that euphonious "open-door" policy really involved—gross interference with the internal affairs of China to the very borderline of complete partition among the powers of its territory. I well recall how close it came to that.

Next the Lincoln writer asserts that we were dragged into World War I by the Democrats. I wonder whether he really was on the scene in 1917! Had he said that then, he would have been associated with some odd company, including draft resistors. Attorney General Palmer would have hunted him down and jailed him, and had he been a congressman, he would have been expelled.

I would like to plead with the writer that he check his facts more fully, that he watch out that his hastily made assertions do not boomerang on him—in his case, the possibility that McCarthy may be looking for his type next and give him some of the medicine of "exposure rather than prosecution" that he prescribes so blithely for others.

Wheat Growers Will Decide Quota Issue At Polls

Balloting Scheduled On July 23

By JOHN SWANSON
Star Farm Editor

In just two weeks wheat growers in Nebraska and throughout the country will once more go to the polls to decide whether or not they want wheat marketing quotas imposed on their 1955 wheat crop.

In an effort to clear up some misinformation over the reasons for the balloting, the U.S. Department of Agriculture has spelled out the important alternatives facing the farmers when they go to the polls July 23.

Although the Secretary of Agriculture is required to proclaim the quotas when surpluses reach a certain level, the final word as to whether or not they will be imposed rests with the farmers. If they indicate approval by a two-thirds majority, the quotas will go into effect on all farms where the wheat acreage maturing for grain is more than 15 acres.

Penalities Explained

After quotas are imposed, marketing penalties will apply to all wheat planted on "excess" acres. These are acres planted in addition to individual acreage allotments. The penalty will amount to 45 per cent of the wheat parity price as of May 1, 1955. If the farmer has excess wheat he can pay the penalty for that amount or he can avoid or postpone the penalty by withholding the excess wheat from the market.

Excess wheat which is fed on the farm is considered as having been marketed and is subject to the penalty.

If the quotas are approved, the wheat will be supported at the price-support level established by Congress. That level has yet to be decided.

However, if the farmers reject the quotas there will be no marketing quotas, and no marketing penalties on "excess" wheat. But the crop will be supported at 50 per cent of parity—25 per cent below the lowest level of parity sought by backers of the flexible price support program.

The vote July 23 is on marketing quotas only, the acreage allotments will still be in effect. The allotments are required by law every year which is not declared an emergency. If the quotas are voted down and a producer fails to comply with his wheat allotment, he will not be eligible for price support.

The referendum will be held by community referendum committees appointed by county ASC committees. Polling places will be announced.

Peru Students Film State History

The audio-visual education class during the summer session at Peru State Teachers College has re-created the early history of southeastern Nebraska in a film strip. The film strip, which includes a running commentary written by class members, was prepared at a cost considerably lower than that for a similar commercial film. Shown examining the strip are (left to right) H. Gayle Eckman of Pawnee City, Donald G. Decline In Need Brings Change From Children's To Aged Home

HOLDREGE, Neb. (AP)—The Christian Children's Home, after 27 years of operation is going to be converted into a home for the aged.

The announcement was made by the Rev. Ivan Larson, home superintendent, who said the decision was reached recently at the general conference of the Evangelical Free Church of America held at Mt. Hermon, Calif.

Remodeling work is to get under way at once and when finished the home will provide quarters for from 65 to 75 residents. Costs of remodeling have been estimated at $60,000

Present dormitories at the home will be remodeled to provide rooms for old people. An elevator will be installed in the building and bathroom facilities provided for each room.

The children's home, owned and operated by the Evangelical Free Church of America, was founded in 1927. In recent years the child population has declined to a figure where it was considered no longer feasible to continue its operation.

Less than 20 children have been living at the home in recent months This compares with a one-time high of 75 or more youngsters.

The population decline is attributed to the new foster home program carried out by the Deaprtment of Child Welfare in Nebraska.

The Rev. Mr. Larson will continue as superintendent of the old people's home. He said it will be non-denominational and the only restrictions upon admission will be space limitations.

Rail Crossing Accident Kills Trenton Man

HASTINGS, Neb. (AP)—Elbert E. Webber, 37, Trenton, Neb., was killed Thursday when his semi-trailer truck smashed into a freight train half a mile west of Hastings on Highway 6.

State Patrol Sgt. Lawrence Feiling said the crossing signal was operating but that Webber apparently was blinded by the early morning sun.

The truck left 15 feet of skid marks before leaving the highway 100 feet from the crossing, the officer said.

Load of Cattle

A passenger in the truck, Charles Fanning of Waterloo, Ia. was being held for observation at a Hastings hospital. His condition was "good".

The cattle-loaded truck was bound from Goodland, Kan., to a feedlot near Omaha.

It was the first traffic death of the year in Adams County. For Nebraska it was the 143rd of the year compared with 127 a year ago.

Webber is survived by his widow and a daughter.

Holderge Pastor Named Conference Moderator

HOLDREGE, Neb. (AP)—The Rev. Paul A. Cassel, pastor of the Holdrege Trinity Evangelical Free Church, has been elected vice president and conference moderator of the Evangelical Free Church of America.

The Rev. Mr. Cassel, who will leave Holdrege in September after nine years here to accept a pastorate in New Jersey, was chosen at the general conference held at Mt. Hermon, Calif.

Reynolds' First Speech Is Tribute To Butler

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen Reynolds (R-Neb), made his first Senate speech Thursday, a one-minute tribute to the late Sen. Butler (R-Neb), whom he succeeded.

Reynolds, Omaha businessman named to succeed Butler, received unanimous consent to have a eulogy of Butler printed in the Congressional Record.

Hardin Inspects Medical College

OMAHA (INS) — Dr. Clifford Morris Hardin, new chancellor of the University of Nebraska, was in Omaha Thursday to inspect the university's college of medicine.

Dr. Hardin said his visit to the college of medicine was part of a "get acquainted" inspection of all departments of the university.

He conferred with Dr. James P. Tollman, dean of the school, and the two went over reports relative to the school's operation. Dr. Hardin also looked over the plans for a six-million-dollar building program at the medical college.

Beatrice Area Wheat Better Than Expected

By The Associated Press

The wheat harvest is in the windup stage in parts of southern Nebraska with dry weather hastening the finish.

In Gage County, with the big cutting job about done, one elevator reported the "harvest in the Beatrice area is coming out much better than many farmers had anticipated and it appears the yield per acre will average between 22 and 2 bushels."

One of the best reported yields in that area was by J. C. Hagerman of near Filley. He had 60 acres which yield 41½ bushels according to government tests

22 Bushel Yields

In the Barneston area the opinion was the yield there might average 22 bushels.

The wheat cutting was in the wrapup stage in Jefferson County, too, and oats were beginning to come in to several elevators in the area.

The quality was reported much better than usual and at Daykin elevator tests ranged from 32 to 39 pounds. Yields were running up to 75 bushels per acre.

In south central Nebraska with the harvest at the three-quarters mark only a shortage of grain cars was holding things up.

Storage Problem

Elevator storage space had been exhausted in Webster and Franklin Counties. Other counties reported a car shortage but ample storage space.

James Patton, chief clerk of the Burlington Railroad at Hastings, said the Hastings area could use 600 cars in the next few days if they were available.

"I expect the shortage to continue for at least two weeks," he said.

Yields in that area were reported good with quality better than average.

A 22-bushel-an-acre average was predicted for Adams County.

Harlan County farmers were expected to average 30 bushels.

In Kimball County in the wheat-rich panhandle, cutting began this week. The first load brought in by Eldon Halstead who farms near Dix, tested 58 pounds and had a moisture content of 10½ per cent, exceptionally low for wheat marketed so early.

May 10 Hailstones Located Near Dunbar

DUNBAR, Neb.—Despite the recent heat wave, hailstones were discovered on the Art Anderson farm near here. The farmer dug a half gallon of the hailstones from his land.

The hailstones, which fell on May 10, were insulated from the heat by their heavy covering.

Union Pacific Is Resources Feature

The Union Pacific Railroad is featured in the July issue of the State Resources Division's publication, "Nebraska on the March," which came from the press Thursday.

"Because the era of western development was opened by the construction of the transcontinental railroad, Nebraska is really the birthplace of the West," the article begins.

"It was here, on the Missouri River at Omaha, that construction was begun on the great railroad to the Pacific in 1863—the road which was completed on May 10, 1869, when a solid gold spike was tapped into the last tie during ceremonies at Promontory, Utah."

The publication plans to feature other Nebraska railroads, the Burlington and the North Western, in later issues.

Senator Bowring Opposes Entry Of Red China To U.N.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Eva Bowring of Nebraska said here "I feel that our government should fight in every way possible to prevent the Communist regime of Red China from coming into the U.N."

The Nebraska Republican added "if the Red Chinese are recognized in spite of our opposition, we can cross the next bridge when we come to it—we can decide then what our next course of action will be."

Mrs. Bowring declared "the people of Nebraska strenuously objected to the seating of Red China in this U.N. It is my firm conviction that every Nebraskan stands with me in this thought."

New 350,000 Bushel Elevator Is Going Up

SHELBY, Neb.—Work is under way on the foundation for the new 350,000 bushel grain elevator here. The new elevator will be higher than Shelby's water tower.

This will boost the storage capacity of the Farmer's Co-op Elevator to almost 400,000 bushels.

Martin Unable To Speak On Street, Moves Into Park

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. (AP)—There were two Republican party political developments here.

1. Long-term U.S. Senate candidate David Martin, Kearney, found he couldn't deliver a scheduled street address. A Scottsbluff ordinance prohibited use of loudspeakers. Martin transferred his talk to a city park.

2. John Mack, Scottsbluff, resigned as Scotts Bluff County manager for Rep. Carl Curtis, seeking the same nomination as Martin. Mack dropped the job because he would be out of the county much of the time on personal business, he informed representatives of Curtis. A successor will be named later.

Douglas Co. Real Estate Valuation At $692,487,925

OMAHA (AP) — The County Board of Equalization announced that the Douglas County' new real estate valuation is $692,487,925 — 18½ per cent under last year.

The 1953 total was $850,004,939. Both figures are at actual value. Taxes are levied against 50 per cent of the total.

The new valuation figure probably means the various subdivisions of local government would have to increase the mill levy if the same amount of revenue is to be produced next year

Union, Phone Co. Discuss Contract

OMAHA (AP)—Representatives of the CIO Communication Workers of America and the Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. have begun contract negotiations.

The talks are aimed at producing a contract to replace one expiring Aug. 15 and covering about 18,000 workers in Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota and North and South Dakota.

James E. Smith, CWA special representative, is chairman of the union negotiating committee which includes Helen S. Eby, Omaha; Helen L. Rasmussen, Sioux Falls, S.D.; James J. Klauer, Dubuque, Ia., and Sylvert J. Schmidt, Minneapolis.

21 Members Of '29 Class At Ord Attend Group's 25th Anniversary

Lincoln Star Special

ORD, Neb.—The 25th anniversary of the Ord High School class of 1929 was observed with a class reunion with 21 members of the original enrollment of 49 who graduated present for the occasion.

Mrs. V. A. Anderson (Vera Haught), class president, served as master of ceremonies. A musical program was presented by Mrs. Carolyn Dominy, accompanied by Mrs. Ruth Swopes.

Two children of one of the class members, Mary Ellen and Geraldine Boone, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Boone (Eileen Smolik) played accordion numbers.

Jess Kovanda, vocational agriculture instructor in the Ord schools who was in his first year of teaching in Ord in 1929, attended the reunion and read the address which he gave at the graduation exercises of the class. Mrs. Elva Belle Clement Hayden, now teaching in the Fairbury schools and an instructor in the Ord schools in 1929, also talked to the group.

One class member, Chester Bentley of Hawaii, unable to attend the reunion, sent a large supply of orchids to those in attendance.

This class was the first to be graduated from the then new Ord High School building.

Rosary Indirectly Causes Gun Wound

OMAHA (AP)—Francis E. Torpy, 29, of Omaha, was preparing to reure and reached for his rosary on the top of a dresser.

As he pulled it toward him, the beads caught in the trigger of an automatic pistol laying on the dresser. Torpy tugged at the rosary—and was shot in the thigh.

A passenger in the truck, Charles Fanning of Waterloo, Ia. was being held for observation at a Hastings hospital. His condition was "good".

The cattle-loaded truck was bound from Goodland, Kan., to a feedlot near Omaha.

It was the first traffic death of the year in Adams County. For Nebraska it was the 143rd of the year compared with 127 a year ago.

Webber is survived by his widow and a daughter.

Hardin Inspects Medical College

OMAHA (INS) — Dr. Clifford Morris Hardin, new chancellor of the University of Nebraska, was in Omaha Thursday to inspect the university's college of medicine.

Dr. Hardin said his visit to the college of medicine was part of a "get acquainted" inspection of all departments of the university.

He conferred with Dr. James P. Tollman, dean of the school, and the two went over reports relative to the school's operation. Dr. Hardin also looked over the plans for a six-million-dollar building program at the medical college.

Holderge Pastor Named Conference Moderator

HOLDREGE, Neb. (AP)—The Rev. Paul A. Cassel, pastor of the Holdrege Trinity Evangelical Free Church, has been elected vice president and conference moderator of the Evangelical Free Church of America.

The Rev. Mr. Cassel, who will leave Holdrege in September after nine years here to accept a pastorate in New Jersey, was chosen at the general conference held at Mt. Hermon, Calif.

Beatrice Area Wheat Better Than Expected

By The Associated Press

The wheat harvest is in the windup stage in parts of southern Nebraska with dry weather hastening the finish.

In Gage County, with the big cutting job about done, one elevator reported the "harvest in the Beatrice area is coming out much better than many farmers had anticipated and it appears the yield per acre will average between 22 and 2[illegible] bushels."

One of the best reported yields in that area was by J. C. Hagerman of near Filley. He had 60 acres which yield 41½ bushels according to government tests.

22 Bushel Yields

In the Barneston area the opinion was the yield there might average 22 bushels.

The wheat cutting was in the wrapup stage in Jefferson County, too, and oats were beginning to come in to several elevators in the area.

The quality was reported much better than usual and at Daykin elevator tests ranged from 32 to 39 pounds. Yields were running up to 75 bushels per acre.

In south central Nebraska with the harvest at the three-quarters mark only a shortage of grain cars was holding things up.

Storage Problem

Elevator storage space had been exhausted in Webster and Franklin Counties. Other counties reported a car shortage but ample storage space.

James Patton, chief clerk of the Burlington Railroad at Hastings, said the Hastings area could use 600 cars in the next few days if they were available.

"I expect the shortage to continue for at least two weeks," he said.

Yields in that area were reported good with quality better than average.

A 22-bushel-an-acre average was predicted for Adams County.

Harlan County farmers were expected to average 30 bushels.

In Kimball County in the wheat-rich panhandle, cutting began this week. The first load, brought in by Eldon Halstead who farms near Dix, tested 58 pounds and had a moisture content of 10½ per cent, exceptionally low for wheat marketed so early.

May 10 Hailstones Located Near Dunbar

DUNBAR, Neb.—Despite the recent heat wave, hailstones were discovered on the Art Anderson farm near here. The farmer dug a half gallon of the hailstones from his land.

The hailstones, which fell on May 10, were insulated from the heat by their heavy covering.

Union Pacific Is Resources Feature

The Union Pacific Railroad is featured in the July issue of the State Resources Division's publication, "Nebraska on the March," which came from the press Thursday.

"Because the era of western development was opened by the construction of the transcontinental railroad, Nebraska is really the birthplace of the West," the article begins.

"It was here, on the Missouri River at Omaha, that construction was begun on the great railroad to the Pacific in 1863—the road which was completed on May 10, 1869, when a solid gold spike was tapped into the last tie during ceremonies at Promontory, Utah."

The publication plans to feature other Nebraska railroads, the Burlington and the North Western, in later issues.

Senator Bowring Opposes Entry Of Red China To U.N.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Eva Bowring of Nebraska said here "I feel that our government should fight in every way possible to prevent the Communist regime of Red China from coming into the U.N."

The Nebraska Republican added "if the Red Chinese are recognized in spite of our opposition, we can cross the next bridge when we come to it—we can decide then what our next course of action will be."

Mrs. Bowring declared "the people of Nebraska strenuously objected to the seating of Red China in this U.N. It is my firm conviction that every Nebraskan stands with me in this thought."

New 350,000 Bushel Elevator Is Going Up

SHELBY, Neb.—Work is under way on the foundation for the new 350,000 bushel grain elevator here. The new elevator will be higher than Shelby's water tower.

This will boost the storage capacity of the Farmer's Co-op Elevator to almost 400,000 bushels.

Martin Unable To Speak On Street, Moves Into Park

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. (AP)—There were two Republican party political developments here.

1. Long-term U.S. Senate candidate David Martin, Kearney, found he couldn't deliver a scheduled street address. A Scottsbluff ordinance prohibited use of loudspeakers. Martin transferred his talk to a city park.

2. John Mack, Scottsbluff, resigned as Scotts Bluff County manager for Rep. Carl Curtis, seeking the same nomination as Martin. Mack dropped the job because he would be out of the county much of the time on personal business, he informed representatives of Curtis. A successor will be named later.

Douglas Co. Real Estate Valuation At $692,487,925

OMAHA (AP) — The County Board of Equalization announced that the Douglas County' new real estate valuation is $692,487,925 — 18½ per cent under last year.

The 1953 total was $850,004,939. Both figures are at actual value. Taxes are levied against 50 per cent of the total.

The new valuation figure probably means the various subdivisions of local government would have to increase the mill levy if the same amount of revenue is to be produced next year.

Union, Phone Co. Discuss Contract

OMAHA (AP)—Representatives of the CIO Communication Workers of America and the Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. have begun contract negotiations.

The talks are aimed at producing a contract to replace one expiring Aug. 15 and covering about 18,000 workers in Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota and North and South Dakota.

James E. Smith, CWA special representative, is chairman of the union negotiating committee which includes Helen S. Eby, Omaha; Helen L. Rasmussen, Sioux Falls, S.D.; James J. Klauer, Dubuque, Ia., and Syvert J. Schmidt, Minneapolis.

21 Members Of '29 Class At Ord Attend Group's 25th Anniversary

Lincoln Star Special

ORD, Neb.—The 25th anniversary of the Ord High School class of 1929 was observed with a class reunion with 21 members of the original enrollment of 49 who graduated present for the occasion.

Mrs. V. A. Anderson (Vera Haught), class president, served as master of ceremonies. A musical program was presented by Mrs. Carolyn Dominy, accompanied by Mrs. Ruth Swopes.

Two children of one of the class members, Mary Ellen and Geraldine Boone, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Boone (Eileen Smolik) played accordion numbers.

Jess Kovanda, vocational agriculture instructor in the Ord schools who was in his first year of teaching in Ord in 1929, attended the reunion and read the address which he gave at the graduation exercises of the class. Mrs. Elva Belle Clement Hayden, now teaching in the Fairbury schools and an instructor in the Ord schools in 1929, also talked to the group.

One class member, Chester Bentley of Hawaii, unable to attend the reunion, sent a large supply of orchids to those in attendance.

This class was the first to be graduated from the then new Ord High School building.

Rosary Indirectly Causes Gun Wound

OMAHA (AP)—Francis E. Torpy, 29, of Omaha, was preparing to retire and reached for his rosary on the top of a dresser.

As he pulled it toward him, the beads caught in the trigger of an automatic pistol laying on the dresser. Torpy tugged at the rosary—and was shot in the thigh.

$3 Billion Industrial Expansion Seen For State

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The National Association of Manufacturers estimated that Nebraska will need a 3 billion dollar industrial expansion in the next 21 years to keep pace with the population growth and increased labor force.

Figuring that the United States will reach at least 200 million persons by 1975—an increase of 40 millions over the present population— the NAM said:

"If Nebraska keeps pace with the population growth of the nation the state's labor force will increase from the present 523,500 to 775,500 by 1975. The increase means that within 21 years 252,000 new jobs must be provided for the state's new workers.

"At a cost of $12,000, which is the investment needed by industry to create a single job today, $3,024,000,000 in new investment capital will have to be found to provide jobs for Nebraska's new workers."

New Electric Use Record Chalked Up

COLUMBUS, Neb. (AP)—The Nebraska Public Power system set a new electric use record between 11 and 12 a.m. Tuesday with a peak load of 262,700 kilowatts.

The previous high load mark of 253,200 kilowatts was established Jan. 20 of this year.

Increased irrigation pumping and air conditioning loads created by high temperatures contributed toward establishing this new peak, officials said.

York College Re-Opening Is Discussed

Lincoln Star Special

YORK, Neb.—Representatives of the Church of Christ and York citizens will hold an informal meeting here Friday noon to discuss the possibility of reopening York College.

Seven York citizens, interested in maintaining the college, including Ralph Misko, president of the York Chamber of Commerce, will meet with about half dozen members of the church

Included in the group will be L. R. Wilson of Bartlesville, Okla., former president of Central Christian College located there.

Misko said nothing definite will be done at the Friday meeting. Further negotiations would be carried on at a later date. He pointed out that they still are not sure what portion of the physical assets of the institution they own and what is owned by the Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Hershel Dyer, minister of the Lincoln Church of Christ, said that "Nebraska is a relatively new field for us" and that they were very interested in establishing a college here.

Misko said negotiations for the college were initiated by Dale Larsen, minister of an Omaha Church of Christ.

Church of Christ colleges, Dyer said, are supported by individuals rather than by local congregations. Since there is no higher authority than the local church, management of the colleges is left up to a board of trustees selected from church members in the area.

The denomination is strong in the south and west. There are approximately 40 congregations in Nebraska, Dyer said. York College, if opened, would be the only Church of Christ college in the north central states.

Exclusive UAL Denver Service 'Enables Smaller Town Stops'

WASHINGTON (AP) -- W. A. Patterson, president of United Air Lines, told a Civil Aeronautics Board examiner Thursday that the exclusive transcontinental service it gives Denver, Colo., enables it to render subsidy-free services to smaller cities in that part of the west.

He made the statement in opposing applications of Trans World Airlines (TWA) and American Airlines to serve Denver.

Observing that United's profits on Denver operations help absorb financial losses incurred rendering service to such points as Cheyene, Wyo., and North Platte and Scottsbluff, Neb., Patterson said:

"United Airlines is fulfilling an obligation to an area it serves and not just a city."

He contended the two other air carriers wanted to "skim off the cream" of the business by flying into Denver without serving the smaller communities.

Patterson also testified in support of United's application to fly from Denver to Kansas City.

An attorney for TWA cross-examined Patterson in an effort to show Denver requires the services of an additional transcontinental airline.

Vanderkolk Is Acting Postmaster

Expanded Unemployment Insurance Bill Okayed

Demo Drive Is Defeated By House

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Thursday voted 309-36 for a bill expanding unemployment insurance coverage, after beating down a Democratic drive to increase weekly benefits.

The bill, which now goes to the Senate, would add about four million workers to the 36 million already covered by the federal-state jobless insrance program.

It adds about 2½ million federal government employes for the first time, and extends coverage to firms hiring four or more employes for 20 weeks in a year. The present law, enacted in 1935, covers firms hiring eight or more employes for 20 weeks.

President Eisenhower had requested coverage for six million more persons, including firms with one or more workers without regard to length of service. The Ways and Means Committee trimmed down the President's proposal before bringing it to the House floor.

Determined Band

A determined band of Democrats denounced the House bill as inadequate and fought for amendments to increase payments to the jobless and extend payments for at least 26 weeks.

They were beaten on a roll call vote of 241-110. Supporting the move were 18 Republicans, 91 Democrats and 1 independent Against were 173 Republicans and 68 Democrats.

Benefits and payment periods now vary according to state laws, with the minimum in some states as low as $5 a week for six weeks. The average is less than $25.

An amendment by Rep. Forand (D-RI) would have set the minimum benefit at one-half the individual worker's weekly wage, and the maximum payment at two-thirds the average weekly wage in the state.

Various States

Chairman Reed (R-NY) on the Ways and Means Committee, sponsor of the bill, said it would extend coverage as far as is practical and still allow flexibility for different conditions in the various states.

"It is no longer appropriate to deny the basic protection of this system to any segment of our working population to whom extension of coverage is demonstrably practical," Reed said.

He denounced the Forand proposal as a denial of states rights.

Forand said the House bill was a "feeble token gesture" which only glossed over failure "to meet the most pressing needs of the unemployment insurance system." He said the country cannot continue to suffer unemployment at present levels without serious consequences, and his plan would boost the "sagging economy."

Forand noted Eisenhower had asked for more liberal benefits, but left action up to the states. He insisted there is no sign the states will comply.

Rep. Garmatz (D-Md) termed the bill "A garden hose for a three-alarm fire." Rep. Dingell (D-Mich) called it "A faltering step of the present administration in meeting one of the most serious problems facing us today."

The bill also permits states to lower unemployment taxes on employers after one year of good employment experience under the program. The present law requires three years experience before taxes can be cut.

Night And Saturday Sessions Possible In Truck Rate Hearing

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

Opponents of the 15 per cent truck freight increase application being heard by the State Railway Commission argued Wednesday that it would be impossible to complete all of the testimony this week. Friday night and Saturday sessions are under consideration

Commission members offered all possible co-operation to end the hearing this week, pointing out that they have no open dates in their schedule until September.

The Midwest Motor Freight Traffic Bureau, Kansas City, applicant for the increase, presented five witnesses of the 33 scheduled to testify on Wednesday. Opponents said they would have between 20 and 25 witnesses after the applicants complete their case.

Costs

The Midwest Bureau presented exhibits showing operating costs and income statistics they compiled from information submitted by 27 of the 147 carriers in the state they say they represent.

Because of the manner of compiling the information, each company to present a witness as to the accuracy of the information compiled by the bureau. The questioning follows a dreary pattern with all witnesses being subjected to practically the same questioning

Opponents of the increase are pressing each witness to offer a breakdown differentiating between operating profits or losses on intra-state and on inter-state business None has been obtained due to the two types of freight being carried at the same time.

Witnesses

Witnesses Wednesday included Leo S. Peterson of Peterson & Peterson, Grand Island; Ralph Darling, Darling Transfer, Auburn; H. D. Joy of the Darling company; Charles R. Christensen, Prucka Transportation Co., Omaha, and Harrison Currier, On-Time Transfer Co., Omaha.

Peterson and Darling said that their companies had exhausted every method they could think of to insure profits and avoid having to ask for a rate increase.

Christensen was questioned at length on the effect of buying out a rival concern that was losing money, a transfer to which an I.C.C. examiner has objected

The witnesses testified that their intra-state hauling consists of all the way from 2 to 20 per cent of their total business. Witnesses said that they are not making allowable charges for deliveries to individual firms due to competitive factors.

Muchmore Asks $4,480 Damages

John H. Muchmore of Independence, Ia., has filed a $4,480 injury-damage suit in Lancaster District Court against Ben McAllister of Imperial, Neb.

The suit arises out of a Nov. 2, 1952, accident on Highway 6 a mile west of Friend, where plaintiff's truck was allegedly in collision with the defendant's truck.

Muchmore alleges that the accident was caused by the defendant's employee when he negligently parked the truck so it extended onto the highway and failed to put out warning flares or reflectors

Muchmore asks $3,000 for injuries, $1,230 for loss of wages and use of truck, and $250 for damage to his truck.

Air Base Community Contacts Group Formed As Clearing House For Events

An Air Base Community Contacts Committee has been formed to serve as a clearing house for sports, dramatic, musical, civic and social events in the community which will be of interest to Lincoln Air Force Base men and their families.

Information on parks and recreational facilities, both in Lincoln and within easy driving distance, will be assembled and complete air, train and bus information made available

A committee of hostesses, headed by Mrs. Alice Bieberstein, will be on duty several evenings each week at the Air Base service club to provide information on things to do, and to sell or give complimentary tickets to local events.

John Pavish, chairman of men's hospitality, and Norma Carpenter, chairman of women's hospitality, outlined the program plan, and Mrs. Bieberstein was introduced as chairman of the project Louis W Holne, executive secretary of the Community Chest, discussed the over-all hospitality picture.

The committee includes:

Richard Becker, Mrs Fritz Craig Arnott Folsom Paul Gilbert and Carl Peterson of the State Forestation and Parks Commission
Nim Gulle, Ivan Hoag, Marjorie Johnston and Duane Lake, representing the University of Nebraska
Dean Jones, Richard J. Lilly
James C Lewis representing City Recreation Department.
Paulding Smith
Elizabeth Wright, representing Lincoln public schools
Don Stacy, Chamber of Commerce representative

The group will meet again Thursday, Aug. 12, at the Chamber of Commerce.

City Water Restrictions Aid Pressure

The past week of new restrictions on the use of water for sprinkling has cut down consumption and increased water pressure in previously low pressure areas.

Mayor Clark Jeary has reported that in areas in Bethany and Belmont where pressures had been so low before there is now water available at all times, even during the hours sprinkling is permitted

Last week's ban restricted sprinkling to the hours between 5 p.m and midnight on alternate days for odd and even numbered sides of the street

Consumption during the past week has stayed below 28 million gallons per days which has meant full reservoirs at the beginning of every day. The maximum supply of water is 32 million gallons per day.

STAN DELAPLANE'S POSTCARD

Mr. Winthrop Aldrich is the American ambassador in England and the other night he flew on our TWA sleeper flight from London to New York.

Mr. Aldrich sat in the back of the plane, a stoutish man in banker's gray, with a clipped moustache. He read "Love Is a Bridge.' And he made diplomatic notes on a big yellow paper pad.

I imagine he was wondering what he would tell Mr. Eisenhower to say to Mr. Winston Churchill. An ambassador has a mighty perplexing time. He is supposed to know all the answers.

I was very sympathetic. Because for three months I have been asked some embarrassing questions in Europe:

"Does America intend to fight in Indo-China?" "Where does America expect us to trade if we don't trade with China?" "What do you think of McCarthy?" "Do you think it is true that your Army is full of Communists?"

☆ ☆ ☆

It was mighty embarrassing because I do not have any of the answers. Nor, as I read the foreign newspaper reports from Washington, did the people at 1600 Pennsylvania avenue.

I didn't think the questions were so important anyway. What Europeans question mainly is our moral attitude.

With all our worry about Communist dictators, we opened our arms to some of the biggest dictators, in the business. All they had to do was say "I am against Communism."

We welcomed them from both ends of the scale. From Tito to Franco.

If your fear of burglars makes you associate with safecrackers, people are apt to look for more stable companions.

☆ ☆ ☆

Well, Mr. Aldrich got off in the muggy heat of Idlewild and went down to Washington. And I got off and went to "21" where everybody has the answer to everything if you stand around long enough.

Mr. Dan Topping stood around second-guessing the Yankees And Mr. John O'Hara and Mr. Gordon Manning sat second-guessing the last issue of Collier's

The Kriendler brothers stood around counting the house. Which as usual was packed.

A retired American general said that Guatemala "was just like another Korea only this time it was on our side of the world so we just said 'Everybody keep out of this except us.' When you look at it coldly, it's a matter of security.

"An administration must keep its people prosperous and ecure The Communists tried to drive us out of Korea and we hollered for the Security Council. Now we want them out of Guatemala and they do the same thing. Only this time we say "This is our part of the world. Keep out," said the general.

☆ ☆ ☆

If you are in Europe, sometimes a week or so goes by before you can get news. For instance, all English-language papers were barred from Spain while Queen Elizabeth was visiting Gibraltar

England, France and Switzerland were the only countries that gave space to the McCarthy-Army hearings.

The London papers saw mainly galantry in the fall of of Dien-Bien-Phu. The British love a hopeless last stand. An hour away on the other side of the Channel, however, the French papers were very bitter because nobody had jumped in to help them. The French feel that they always bear the first shock of the attack. While the world's politicans make up their minds to come in and shoot up the countryside.

The Germans are in no hurry to arm. Since they know they will hold the first line if Russian tanks roll down the autobahn.

By the London papers Honduras and Nicaragua said they certainly had no part in the Guatemala uprising. Though rebel communiques were coming hourly from Honduras. A situataion so fantastic that Eden was asked in Commons what was going on here.

Mr. Eden had no answers either. He said the situation was "unclear."

So did Washington.

I hoped Mr. Aldrich was bringing home the answers. Maybe that if we stand for something, a good part of the world will stand with us.

NIE CAMPBELL LIPTON GOLDMEDAL MEADOW GOLD KRAFT KELLOGG PILLSBURY BORDEN

STAN DELAPLANE'S
POSTCARD

Mr. Winthrop Aldrich is the American ambassador in England and the other night he flew on our TWA sleeper flight from London to New York.

Mr. Aldrich sat in the back of the plane, a stoutish man in banker's gray, with a clipped moustache. He read "Love Is a Bridge." And he made diplomatic notes on a big yellow paper pad.

I imagine he was wondering what he would tell Mr. Eisenhower to say to Mr. Winston Churchill. An ambassador has a mighty perplexing time. He is supposed to know all the answers.

I was very sympathetic. Because for three months I have been asked some embarrassing questions in Europe:

"Does America intend to fight in Indo-China?" "Where does America expect us to trade if we don't trade with China?" "What do you think of McCarthy?" "Do you think it is true that your Army is full of Communists?"

☆ ☆ ☆

It was mighty embarrassing because I do not have any of the answers. Nor, as I read the foreign newspaper reports from Washington, did the people at 1600 Pennsylvania avenue.

I didn't think the questions were so important anyway. What Europeans question mainly is our moral attitude.

With all our worry about Communist dictators, we opened our arms to some of the biggest dictators, in the business. All they had to do was say "I am against Communism."

We welcomed them from both ends of the scale. From Tito to Franco.

If your fear of burglars makes you associate with safecrackers, people are apt to look for more stable companions.

☆ ☆ ☆

Well, Mr. Aldrich got off in the muggy heat of Idlewild and went down to Washington. And I got off and went to "21" where everybody has the answer to everything if you stand around long enough.

Mr. Dan Topping stood around second-guessing the Yankees. And Mr. John O'Hara and Mr. Gordon Manning sat second-guessing the last issue of Collier's.

The Kriendler brothers stood around counting the house. Which as usual was packed.

A retired American general said that Guatemala "was just like another Korea only this time it was on our side of the world so we just said 'Everybody keep out of this except us.' When you look at it coldly, it's a matter of security.

"An administration must keep its people prosperous and ecure. The Communists tried to drive us out of Korea and we hollered for the Security Council. Now we want them out of Guatemala and they do the same thing. Only this time we say "This is our part of the world. Keep out," said the general.

☆ ☆ ☆

If you are in Europe, sometimes a week or so goes by before you can get news. For instance, all English-language papers were barred from Spain while Queen Elizabeth was visiting Gibraltar.

England, France and Switzerland were the only countries that gave space to the McCarthy-Army hearings.

The London papers saw mainly galantry in the fall of of Dien-Bien-Phu. The British love a hopeless last stand. An hour away on the other side of the Channel, however, the French papers were very bitter because nobody had jumped in to help them. The French feel that they always bear the first shock of the attack. While the world's politicans make up their minds to come in and shoot up the countryside.

The Germans are in no hurry to arm. Since they know they will hold the first line if Russian tanks roll down the autobahn.

By the London papers Honduras and Nicaragua said they certainly had no part in the Guatemala uprising. Though rebel communiques were coming hourly from Honduras. A situataion so fantastic that Eden was asked in Commons what was going on here.

Mr. Eden had no answers either. He said the situation was "unclear."

So did Washington.

I hoped Mr. Aldrich was bringing home the answers. Maybe that if we stand for something, a good part of the world will stand with us.

Guests From Kansas

Visitors in Lincoln since last Saturday are Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Summers of Wichita, Kan., who are the guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Gieseker. They will leave at the end of the week for Green Lake, Wis., where they will spend the remainder of the summer. Going to Green Lake with them will be Mrs. Summers' brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Pollard.

We Hear That--

Mrs. Anna Osthoss of Los Angeles, Calif., formerly of Lincoln, who has been visiting here for six weeks, left Wednesday for Omaha where she will visit relatives. From Omaha, she will journey to Chappell where she will be joined by her brother, Julius Bruning of Chicago, Ill. She will return to Chicago with her brother until late July when she returns to California where she lives with her daughter and son-in-law, Col. and Mrs. William Bell.

Mrs. R. E. Berry and children, Reid III, and Vickie of Arlington, Tex., will visit in Lincoln for two months with Mrs. Berry's father, Victor Whitmore.

Mrs. E. L. Ellickson recently returned from a week's vacation at West Okoboji Lake.

Just Between Us Gals

—heard around the swimming pool:

—an irate father, after several attempts, finally coaxed his daughter out of the swimming pool to go home for lunch. As the young lady dragged herself out, and before father could get in another word, she cautioned him, "Now don't get mad at me, Pal."

★

—one of the "smoother" young matrons was asking two of her friends for advice as they all sat sunning at the edge of the pool. The topic of conversation was hairdos and hers had been bothering her. "What shall I do with it?" she inquired. The response from one friend was immediate, "Why don't you try combing it?"

★

—a recent bride reluctantly leaving the swimming pool to go home at 2:30 in the afternoon was asked why she couldn't stay longer. "Well" she said, "I have to get the groceries for dinner and after that it takes me two hours to get everything to come out hot at the same time."

★

—mother admonished her four-year-old not to go into the water "until your hamburger is digested." This was a little confusing to the offspring as well as to the several adults overhearing the admonition. Just how can a four-year-old compute how long it will take to digest one hamburger?"

★

—a local centenarian who will celebrate his birthday this month dozed off as he was sitting on the porch and, after a short snooze, woke up to see a most attractive young miss in "short" shorts disappearing around the corner of the porch. "By golly," he observed, "That's what a fella gets for falling asleep."

Guests At Air Base

Leaving Lincoln on Thursday for Wright-Patterson Field, in Dayton, O., were Lt. Col. and Mrs. George A. Uhrich, who have been visiting the deputy commander of the Lincoln Air Base and his wife, Col. and Mrs. William G. Gillespie.

The Uhrichs just recently returned to the United States from Melbourne, Australia, where Col. Uhrich was the Assistant Air Attache for the U. S.

We Don't Lack News

MORE THAN once a day, I suppose, each housewife in our fair city wishes she had a private water supply — this is especially true when she sees her flowers wilt because of the lack of moisture, can't run her automatic washer, or can't get enough pressure to dispose of her garbage the new fangled way—with a disposal built into her sink. Well, a private supply wouldn't be a solution, or at least it isn't at the Broadmoor Hotel in Colorado Springs where the Hotel has its own supply. It seems that there is such a shortage that the golf course goes without water and consequently all tournaments have been cancelled. Thank goodness, though, news is in no way connected with the water supply—so we aren't curtailed a bit.

* * *

UNDERSTAND that the Greers, Mr. and Mrs. J. Taylor, returned Wednesday from a ten day holiday in Estes Park and Aspen, Colo.

* * *

ALSO IN Estes Park are Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Atkinson who are spending several weeks at their summer home. The Atkinsons, so we hear, had guests over the Fourth of July weekend and they were Mr. and Mrs. William Condon (Sandra Walt) of Crook, Colorado.

* * *

COMING FROM Honolulu to spend a holiday in Estes Park were Dr. and Mrs. John Sanders and family, formerly of Lincoln, who are the guests of Mr. Sanders' father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sanders.

* * *

ALL OF THE guests and vacationers are not in Colorado. —Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Bedell have had as their houseguest for 10 days, their daughter, Mrs. George B. Strubinger Jr., and Mrs. Strubinger's mother-in-law, Mrs. George Byron Strubinger of Philadelphia, Pa.

* * *

NEWS FROM St. Elizabeth Hospital has to do with Miss Josephine Laura Blumberg who arrived on Thursday morning. The young Miss, the daughter of Prof. and Mrs. Nathan Blumberg, has two older sisters, Janet and Jenifer.

* * *

HAVE SOME bridal news of interest this morning and it has to do with Miss Marilyn Pedersen, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Merritt Pedersen, who honored an Aug. 1 bride-elect, Miss Dixie Dee Borgaard at a 7:30 o'clock dessert and shower Thursday evening at her home. Miss Borgaard, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Borgaard, will be married in the Chapel of Westminster Church at 4 o'clock in the afternoon to Murray Duane Backhaus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Backhaus of Millard.

* * *

ONE OF the July brides, Miss Paula Withey of Omaha—Delta Gamma at Nebraska—tells us that her marriage to Lt. David Phipps, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Phipps of Lincoln, will take place on Saturday afternoon, July 17, at the Dundee Presbyterian church in Omaha.

Miss Withey also is announcing the members of her bridal party this morning. For her matron of honor, she has chosen her sister, Mrs. Roswell B. Howard, of Cleveland, O., and the bridesmaids will be Miss Jane White of Hemingford; Miss Joy Wachal and Miss Gerry Boyle, both of Omaha.

Roger K. Phipps of Pueblo, Colo., will serve his brother as best man and Frank Murdock of Berkeley, Calif., Thomas E. Day of Lincoln and Roswell Howard of Cleveland, O., will seat the guests.

Attend Delta Zeta Convention

Honored At Going Away Party

Miss Rita Straub, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Straub, was honored Wednesday night when a group of her friends entertained at a picnic at the home of Miss Alice Darnes.

Miss Straub, who has been attending Loretto Heights Hospital in Denver, has spent the summer months in Lincoln with her parents, and is leaving soon for St. Anthony Hospital in Denver where she will take her clinical training.

In the picture reading clockwise, are: Cecelia Steinauer, Dorothy Janousek, Rita Straub, Marian Barnes, Maryalice Barnes, Marcy Prokop, Mrs. Paul Barnes and Peggy Barnes.

The Brides' Book Says:

Miss Carolyn Lightner, who will become the bride of John Beecham at 10 o'clock, Saturday, July 31 at Sacred Heart Church, will be honored at a miscellaneous shower on Sunday evening when Miss Phyllis Hackenkamp entertains. Sixteen guests have been invited to the Hackenkamp home for a 7:30 o'clock dessert supper. On Sunday, July 18, Mrs. Oliver Diehl will entertain at a shower for the bride-to-be.

Mrs. Andy Schizas will be the matron of honor for Miss Lightner and the bridesmaids will be Miss Patricia Glade and Miss Margaret Mutchie. Philip Drushnahan will serve Mr. Beecham as best man and the ushers include William Griffin and Gene Beecham, cousin of the prospective bridegroom.

Another bride-elect of late July is Miss Judy Dwyer, whose marriage to Donald Newman will be solemnized Tuesday, July 27. On Thursday, July 1, a surprise kitchen shower was held for the soon-to-be-bride at the home of Mrs. Ben Johnson. Assisting Mrs. Johnson as hostess was her daughter, Miss Marilyn Johnson. Mrs. Elwood Barnes will honor Miss Dwyer at a linen shower on Friday evening, July 23.

Guests From Kansas

Visitors in Lincoln since last Saturday are Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Summers of Wichita, Kan., who are the guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Gieseker. They will leave at the end of the week for Green Lake, Wis., where they will spend the remainder of the summer. Going to Green Lake with them will be Mrs. Summers' brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Pollard.

We Hear That--

Mrs. Anna Osthoss of Los Angeles, Calif., formerly of Lincoln, who has been visiting here for six weeks, left Wednesday for Omaha where she will visit relatives. From Omaha, she will journey to Chappell where she will be joined by her brother, Julius Bruning of Chicago, Ill. She will return to Chicago with her brother until late July when she returns to California where she lives with her daughter and son-in-law, Col. and Mrs. William Bell.

Mrs. R. E. Berry and children, Reid III, and Vickie of Arlington, Tex., will visit in Lincoln for two months with Mrs. Berry's father, Victor Whitmore.

Mrs. E. L. Ellickson recently returned from a week's vacation at West Okoboji Lake.

Just Between Us

—heard around the swimming pool:

—an irate father, after several attempts, finally coaxed his daughter out of the swimming pool to go home for lunch. As the young lady dragged herself out, and before father could get in another word, she cautioned him, "Now don't get mad at me, Pal."

★

—one of the "smoother" young matrons was asking two of her friends for advice as they all sat sunning at the edge of the pool. The topic of conversation was hairdos and hers had been bothering her. "What shall I do with it?" she inquired. The response from one friend was immediate, "Why don't you try combing it?"

★

—a recent bride reluctantly leaving the swimming pool to go home at 2:30 in the afternoon was asked why she couldn't stay longer. "Well," she said, "I have to get the groceries for dinner and after that it takes me two hours to get everything to come out hot at the same time."

★

—mother admonished her four-year-old not to go into the water "until your hamburger is digested." This was a little confusing to the offspring as well as to the several adults overhearing the admonition. Just how can a four-year-old compute how long it will take to digest one hamburger?"

★

—a local centenarian who will celebrate his birthday this month dozed off as he was sitting on the porch and, after a short snooze, woke up to see a most attractive young miss in "short" shorts disappearing around the corner of the porch. "By golly," he observed, "That's what a fella gets for falling asleep."

Guests At Air Base

Leaving Lincoln on Thursday for Wright-Patterson Field, in Dayton, O., were Lt. Col. and Mrs. George A. Uhrich, who have been visiting the deputy commander of the Lincoln Air Base and his wife, Col. and Mrs. William G. Gillespie.

The Uhrichs just recently returned to the United States from Melbourne, Australia, where Col. Uhrich was the Assistant Air Attache for the U. S.

The Brides' Book Says:

Miss Carolyn Lightner, who will become the bride of John Beecham at 10 o'clock, Saturday, July 31 at Sacred Heart Church, will be honored at a miscellaneous shower on Sunday evening when Miss Phyllis Hackenkamp entertains. Sixteen guests have been invited to the Hackenkamp home for a 7:30 o'clock dessert supper. On Sunday, July 18, Mrs. Oliver Diehl will entertain at a shower for the bride-to-be.

Mrs. Andy Schizas will be the matron of honor for Miss Lightner and the bridesmaids will be Miss Patricia Glade and Miss Margaret Mutchie. Philip Drushnahan will serve Mr. Beecham as best man and the ushers include William Griffin and Gene Beecham, cousin of the prospective bridegroom.

We Don't Lack News

MORE THAN once a day, I suppose, each housewife in our fair city wishes she had a private water supply — this is especially true when she sees her flowers wilt because of the lack of moisture, can't run her automatic washer, or can't get enough pressure to dispose of her garbage the new fangled way—with a disposal built into her sink. Well, a private supply wouldn't be a solution, or at least it isn't at the Broadmoor Hotel in Colorado Springs where the Hotel has its own supply. It seems that there is such a shortage that the golf course goes without water and consequently all tournaments have been cancelled. Thank goodness, though, news is in no way connected with the water supply—so we aren't curtailed a bit.

* * *

UNDERSTAND that the Greers, Mr. and Mrs. J. Taylor, returned Wednesday from a ten day holiday in Estes Park and Aspen, Colo.

* * *

ALSO IN Estes Park are Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Atkinson who are spending several weeks at their summer home. The Atkinsons, so we hear, had guests over the Fourth of July weekend and they were Mr. and Mrs. William Condon (Sandra Walt) of Crook, Colorado.

* * *

COMING FROM Honolulu to spend a holiday in Estes Park were Dr. and Mrs. John Sanders and family, formerly of Lincoln, who are the guests of Mr. Sanders' father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sanders.

* * *

ALL OF THE guests and vacationers are not in Colorado. —Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Bedell have had as their houseguest for 10 days, their daughter, Mrs. George B. Strubinger Jr., and Mrs. Strubinger's mother-in-law, Mrs. George Byron Strubinger of Philadelphia, Pa.

* * *

NEWS FROM St. Elizabeth Hospital has to do with Miss Josephine Laura Blumberg who arrived on Thursday morning. The young Miss, the daughter of Prof. and Mrs. Nathan Blumberg, has two older sisters, Janet and Jenifer.

* * *

HAVE SOME bridal news of interest this morning and it has to do with Miss Marilyn Pedersen, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Merritt Pedersen, who honored an Aug. 1 bride-elect, Miss Dixie Dee Borgaard at a 7:30 o'clock dessert and shower Thursday evening at her home. Miss Borgaard, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Borgaard, will be married in the Chapel of Westminster Church at 4 o'clock in the afternoon to Murray Duane Backhaus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Backhaus of Millard.

* * *

ONE OF the July brides, Miss Paula Withey of Omaha—Delta Gamma at Nebraska—tells us that her marriage to Lt. David Phipps, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Phipps of Lincoln, will take place on Saturday afternoon, July 17, at the Dundee Presbyterian church in Omaha.

Miss Withey also is announcing the members of her bridal party this morning. For her matron of honor, she has chosen her sister, Mrs. Roswell B. Howard, of Cleveland, O., and the bridesmaids will be Miss Jane White of Hemingford; Miss Joy Wachal and Miss Gerry Boyle, both of Omaha.

Roger K. Phipps of Pueblo, Colo., will serve his brother as best man and Frank Murdock of Berkeley, Calif., Thomas E. Day of Lincoln and Roswell Howard of Cleveland, O., will seat the guests.

'I've Been On Soft Side' Crosby Tells Law Men

Governor Robert Crosby, speaking to hardboiled law enforcement officers Thursday night, said that in sitting on the Pardon Board "I've been on the soft side."

More than 100 were in the audience at the evening session of the State Law Enforcement Institute on the University of Nebraska campus.

"You officers might have grumbled more than once," he said, when a penal institution inmate is pardoned that "you have helped to send up."

"We have a certain percentage of parolees who go back to the institutions for repeat offenses," Crosby said, "but we have to take a little chance."

'Must Do Better'

"We must do a little better," he said, "in giving a former inmate a reasonably good chance to get over the first big hump."

"Even you and I might have a little trouble with only $20 and a suit of clothes to get along in a strange town," he said, criticizing the manner of ejecting inmates.

The Safety Patrol has built up prestige among young men in Nebraska, Crosby said, pointing to the group of between 400 and 500 applicants for only 20 patrol vacancies this year.

"It can be an example to a lot of other groups in Nebraska towns and cities," he said, "which have to enjoy their job under city elections."

Panel

Following the governor's address, a panel, R. W. Nebergall, chief of the Iowa Bureau of Criminal Investigation; Lieutenant Vernon Byler of the Nebraska Safety Patrol; Omaha Chief of Police Harry Green; Grand Island Chief of Police Joe Bosler and Fairbury Chief of Police Joe Cook discussed suspects and method of operations of Nebraska burglars.

Nebergall said that there is a need to report all crime, with details of method of operation, throughout the state.

One "burglar crew," he said, confessed to pulling 32 "jobs," and another 18 "jobs."

During the afternoon session, Dr. Don W. Dysinger of the University of Nebraska, discussed "Criminality and Mental Abnormality," classifying most cases into four general groups.

"The largest group, deviating from behavior norms," said the chairman of the psychology department, are the feeble-minded."

In the sex crime group, the professor said homo-sexuality presents the greatest problem in its "real danger and threat to juveniles."

This abnormal sex influence upon the juvenile may establish a behavior pattern which is difficult to change in later years, he said.

Another lecturer was Richard Holcomb, director of the public affairs institute, University of Iowa, who spoke on "Crime Prevention of Burglary and Robbery."

Friday's speakers include A. H. Meyer, Deputy State Attorney General; George W. McNally, of the National Auto Theft Bureau; Burrill Peterson, Omaha special agent in charge, U.S. Secret Service; Arch Jarrell, Grand Island newspaper editor, and Dr. James M. Reinhardt, chairman of University of Nebraska sociology department.

Dardanelles' 'Driving' Fines Are Really Stiff

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — A Turkish court ruled the Swedish freighter Naboland must be sold to help pay compensation for the loss of 81 seamen aboard the Turkish submarine Dumlupinar, with which the 4,000-ton cargo vessel collided in the Dardanelles April 4, 1953.

The Naboland was seized immediately after the collision and its skipper, Capt. Oscar Lorentzon, was held in prison for nearly six months without bail before a Turkish court convicted him of responsibility for the sub's sinking. The Swedish skipper was released from a six-months jail sentence but was ordered to pay a 250 lire ($80.25) fine and 1,000 lire ($357) "moral compensation" to the families of each of the victims.

Making Like An Elephant Is Acting, NLRB Ruling Holds

CHICAGO (AP) — The "inside man" of Elmer, the television elephant, may now be considered an actor.

Ross M. Madden, regional director of the National Labor Relations Board, in effect made that decision in a squabble between the Theatrical State Employes Union and the Federation of Television and Radio Artists, both AFL affiliates.

The stage employes claimed Elmer is a stage prop and the "inside" man should be a stagehand. But the actors maintained the man inside who operated Elmer's extremeties was an actor.

Madden dismissed the stagehand's petition, saying it was "not inappropriate" that the current inside man, Robert Cleary, belong to the actors' union, which he does.

William E. Rodriquez, attorney for the stagehands, said he will appeal the ruling.

American Troop Withdrawal From Hokkaido Slated

TOKYO, (Friday) (AP) — Far East Commander Gen. John E. Hull announced today that American troops will be withdrawn from Hokkaido — Japan's Soviet frontier—later this year.

The new Japanese army will take over the northern island's defense, Hull said.

No exact date has been set for the American withdrawal which will take place "during the remaining months of 1954," Hull said.

The U. S. 1st Cavalry Division, veteran of the Korean War, is now garrisoning Hokkaido along with the northern corps of the Japanese National Safety Force.

Hull said the redeployment will free the 1st Cavalry for "strategic employment in the Far East as conditions may require."

Fewer Bugs This Year

Insect infestation of yards and trees probably is less than usual here this summer because of the recent lack of rain and curtailment of watering of lawns.

County Agent Cyril Bish said there probably are fewer insects because, as a rule, they thrive under moist conditions.

Bish said he knew of no insects or bugs found in this area which would increase in numbers because of a drought.

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — A Turkish court ruled the Swedish freighter Naboland must be sold to help pay compensation for the loss of 81 seamen aboard the Turkish submarine Dumlupinar, with which the 4,000-ton cargo vessel collided in the Dardanelles April 4, 1953.

The Naboland was seized immediately after the collision and its skipper, Capt. Oscar Lorentzon, was held in prison for nearly six months without bail before a Turkish court convicted him of responsibility for the sub's sinking. The Swedish skipper was released from a six-months jail sentence but was ordered to pay a 250 lire ($80.25) fine and 1,000 lire ($357) "moral compensation" to the families of each of the victims.

Week-Enders Watched

BRUSSELS (INS) — Belgium may soon crack down on "week-end drinkers" who cross the border into France to quench their thirst. A bill has been introduced in Parliament authorizing customs guards to hold for two to 12 hours any Belgian citizen returning to his country showing signs that he has been drinking. The public sale of hard liquor is banned in Belgium.

Making Like An Elephant Is Acting, NLRB Ruling Holds

CHICAGO (AP) — The "inside man" of Elmer, the television elephant, may now be considered an actor.

Ross M. Madden, regional director of the National Labor Relations Board, in effect made that decision in a squabble between the Theatrical State Employes Union and the Federation of Television and Radio Artists, both AFL affiliates.

The stage employes claimed Elmer is a stage prop and the "inside" man should be a stagehand. But the actors maintained the man inside who operated Elmer's extremeties was an actor.

Madden dismissed the stagehand's petition, saying it was "not inappropriate" that the current inside man, Robert Cleary, belong to the actors' union, which he does.

William E. Rodriquez, attorney for the stagehands, said he will appeal the ruling.

American Troop Withdrawal From Hokkaido Slated

TOKYO, (Friday) (AP) — Far East Commander Gen. John E. Hull announced today that American troops will be withdrawn from Hokkaido — Japan's Soviet frontier—later this year.

The new Japanese army will take over the northern island's defense, Hull said.

No exact date has been set for the American withdrawal which will take place "during the remaining months of 1954," Hull said.

The U. S. 1st Cavalry Division, veteran of the Korean War, is now garrisoning Hokkaido along with the northern corps of the Japanese National Safety Force.

Hull said the redeployment will free the 1st Cavalry for "strategic employment in the Far East as conditions may require."

Fewer Bugs This Year

Insect infestation of yards and trees probably is less than usual here this summer because of the recent lack of rain and curtailment of watering of lawns.

County Agent Cyril Bish said there probably are fewer insects because, as a rule, they thrive under moist conditions.

Bish said he knew of no insects or bugs found in this area which would increase in numbers because of a drought.

Legislature Acts:

Louisiana Segregation Is Retained

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—The Louisiana legislature ended its 1954 session Thursday after retaining segregation and approving right-to-work legislation.

The legislature, first to meet in the South since the U. S. Supreme Court ruled against segregation in the public schools, voted to continue separate schools by use of the state's police power.

Gov. Robert Kennon said he would sign the bill.

Sen. W. M. Rainach of Summerfield, who headed a 10-member committee which prepared the segregation legislation, said "nowhere in its decision does the court say segregation on any basis other than race is unconstitutional."

Proponents argued that pupils could be assigned to any school the state specified.

Chief counsel for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, Thurgood Marshall, told newsmen in Nashville that the state's police power comes under the 14th amendment, that the high court ruled out segregation with the 14th amendment in mind, and that any efforts to circumvent the decision would result in civil and criminal court actions.

The right-to-work bill, signed by the governor, made Louisiana the 17th state to adopt such legislation. The law, effective July 28, makes it illegal to force anyone to join a union or not to join a union.

Pact Awarded For Elevator In Statehouse

The State Capitol Building Commission Thursday awarded a contract to the Houghton Elevator Co. of Toledo, O., for installation of a new passenger elevator in the Statehouse.

The new elevator will replace the most worn of the elevators which have been in service since the building was occupied a quarter-century ago.

The Houghton company's base bid was $54,680. Installation of a more desirable system of position indicators for the building's elevators will cost an additional $3,185.

Two other bids on the work ranged up to $66,000.

The 1953 Legislature appropriated $60,000 for replacement of one elevator in the current biennium.

Installation of the new elevator is scheduled to begin about Jan. 1. Completion time is under one year.

Members of the building commission attending the letting were Gov. Crosby, State Engineer L. N. Ress and A. Q. Schimmel of Lincoln; W. C. Fraser of Omaha and Jack Windle, Nebraska City.

July 19 Hearing Set For Power Line Plan

The State Railway Commission has scheduled for July 19 a hearing on the proposal of the Niobrara Valley Electric Membership Corp. of O'Neill to build 97 miles of transmission line in Boyd, Holt, Garfield and Knox Counties.

The commission also has approved the request of the Northern Natural Gas Co., of Omaha for authority to sell 25 million dollars worth of debentures.

Willie Mays Hits 29th And 30th Home Runs

SAY HEY! GIANTS WIN, 11-2

Waiting At The Keystone For Chico

Chico Carrasquel, Chicago White Sox shortstop, is out at second attempting to steal as Minnie Minoso struck out in the first inning against Detroit. Frank Bolling, Detroit second baseman, waits with the ball after taking a throw from Catcher Frank House. (AP Wirephoto.)

Ruben Gomez Masters Bums; Feller Wins Sixth For Indians

BROOKLYN, (AP) — Willie Mays, the New York Giants spectacular "Say Hey Kid," drove in five runs with his 29th and 30th home runs today as the Giants took their sixth straight from Brooklyn, 11-2, and stretched their National League lead to 6½ games.

The collapse of the defending champions was complete with the Giants knocking out Carl Erskine, the Dodgers' ace, and slamming the ball to all corners of Ebbets Field, in a 16-hit attack. The Giants now lead the Brooks 9-3 for the year.

Mays was the big noise. He homered into the left field seats in the first inning with Don Mueller on base and then slammed No. 30 over the score board in right field off Russ Meyer with two men on base in the seventh.

The Giants never let the Dodgers up all afternoon after they scored three in the first inning on Lockman's double, Mueller's scoring single and Mays' 29th homer. The Brooks came back with two in their half of the first.

Gromek Baffles Sox

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tiger's Steve Gromek struck a blow against Chicago's pennant hopes Thursday when he scattered seven hits to post his 10th victory of the season, 2-0, over the White Sox.

JIMMY DEMARET

Pair Of Yankees Tied For Fourth

Demaret, Turnesa Fire 144; British Open At Halfway

SOUTHPORT, England (AP) — Chain-smoking Bill Spence of England uncorked another sub-par round Thursday to take a one-stroke lead at the halfway mark of the British Open golf championship but hot on his heels were 11 contenders including America's Jimmy Demaret and Jim Turnesa.

The long-driving, 42-year-old Kent pro fired a one-under-par 38-34—72 to go with his brilliant 69 of Wednesday for a 141 total, three under regulation figures for the par-73, 6,837-yard Royal Birkdale seaside course.

Demaret, colorful pro from Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., and Turnesa, of Briarcliff, N. Y., former American PGA champion, also turned in sub-par scores to wind up with 144s and a five-way tie for seventh in this wide open tournament. With any luck on their putts both Jimmys might be leading the pack of 50 for today's final 36 holes.

Flubs Easy One

Demaret burned up the course going out with a 33 but flubbed easy ones on the way back for a 38. The 41-year old Turnesa said "I might easily have had a 66 or 68 but several putts rimmed the cup and stayed out." He carded a one-under-par 36-36—72 instead.

Three other Americans, amateur Frank Stranahan of Toledo, O., and veteran pros Al Watrous, Birmingham, Mich., and Gene Sarazen, Germantown, N. Y., also qualified for today's double round but Cincinnati's Tony Penna lost out with a 77 for a 153 total. A 151 or better was needed to qualify.

Bobby Locke, three-time winner of the Open and the pre-tourney favorite, was in contention with a 145 on 74-71.

Sam King, England, who shot a brilliant 69 yesterday to tie Spence for the lead, skied to 74. Syd Scott,

. . . Homers Help

CLEVELAND, (AP) — Jim Hegan and Wally Westlake hit home runs and Bob Feller gave up only seven hits Thursday as the front-running Cleveland Indians beat Baltimore's Orioles, 4-1 and moved four games ahead in the American League race.

Hegan, collecting Cleveland's first hit from pitcher Lou Kretlow, stroked his four-base blow over the left field fence in the third inning. It was the catcher's fifth of the season

Feller, winning his sixth victory against a single defeat, struck out six and was in trouble only in the seventh when Baltimore got its only run.

Dodger Tempers Flare After Russ Hits Irvin; Newk Miffed

BROOKLYN, N. Y. (AP)— Dodger pitchers Russ Meyer and Don Newcombe were reported Thursday to have almost come to blows in the Brooklyn clubhouse following their team's sixth straight loss to the New York Giants. Both players denied it.

Newcombe, however, admitted he "had a few words" with Meyer after the hot-tempered righthander had hit Monte Irvin, Giant outfielder, with a pitch in the seventh inning.

Newcombe said he addressed some remarks to Meyer from the dugout after Russ had been knocked out of the box in the seventh. A few minutes earlier Meyer and Irvin had exchanged heated words while the Giant slugger was on first base after being hit in the leg.

"All I said to Russ was," Newcombe said, "'Who are you arguing with, Irvin or Durocher? If it's Leo, I'd like to get on him too,' Durocher was coaching at first base.

Russ Meyer

Don Newcombe

According to the reports, Newcombe accosted Meyer in the club-house and demanded to know why he had thrown at Irvin. Newcombe and Irvin are very close friends.

"What does he (Irvin) think he is?" Meyer reportedly growled back. "Does he think he is a privileged character that we can't throw at him? They throw at our fellows. This is baseball, not tea and crumpets."

Meyer freely acknowledged making these remarks but said they were not addressed at Newcombe but to the Dodger players in general.

"What would I be fighting with Don for?" Meyer asked. "We're good friends and we're both out for the same thing—to beat the pants off those Giants."

Irvin substatiated the "feud" reports, when he told reporters: "I understand that Newcombe, Meyer's own teammate, jumped on him after he hit me with the pitch.

"I don't mind being brushed back but I do mind being hit deliberately," the usually mild-mannered Negro slugger said. "Pitchers don't do that.

"Sure I yelled at him. After I got to first base, I hollered to him, 'If you had any guts, you'd never do that.' He made a move toward me and said something but I couldn't hear because of the noise of the crowd. I probably would have said plenty more to him but Leo Durocher made me quiet down. He said he didn't want me thrown out of the game."

Furillo, Westrum Exchange Words

Tempers between Dodger and Giant players also flared in the eighth inning when Carl Furillo of Brooklyn and catcher Wes Westrum of New York became involved in an argument and had to be separated by Umpire Dusty Boggess and Giant team Capt. Alvin Dark.

Furillo had complained about a close pitch by pitcher Ruben Gomez and was told by Westrum to "get in and hit."

"What is he (Gomez) trying to do," Furillo asked heatedly of Westrum, "is he trying to start something like last year?"

Furillo was referring to the scuffle with Durocher at the Polo Grounds last September after he was hit by a Gomez pitch. The Dodger outfielder had charged Durocher with ordering Gomez to throw at him. As a result of the scuffle, Furillo broke a bone in his left hand and was sidelined until the World Series.

Bruins Tip Chiefs, 3-2; Bush Loser

Oquendo Will Face Des Moines Tonight

DES MOINES, Ia.—Pitcher Hy Cohen won his seventh straight game here Thursday night as Des Moines beat the Western League's leading pitcher, Lincoln's Andy Bush, 3-2.

Des Moines scored the deciding run in the fourth inning when Burdy Thuriby singled, stole second and scored on Vern Morgan's single to right.

The Bruins scored one run in the second and tied the game in the third on three Lincoln errors.

Lincoln got to Cohen for both its runs in the first. Leadoff batter John Jones doubled and scored on Andy Anderson's single. Anderson came home when outfielder Jim McDaniel lost Tom Neill's long fly ball in the haze and the ball fell for a two-base hit.

Manager Whitey Wietelmann will toss Noel Oquendo (2-3) at Des Moines' Don Elston (8-5) tonight in a single game.

The Firing Line

Hastily-built Sherman Field, scene of many disappointments and triumphs, has its share of inadequacies.

The rough outfield, meager dressing rooms and general player facilities have long been moaned over the Western League. This is currently soothed, however, by the pleasant fact that the playing field is perhaps in the best shape of its history.

One of the least-publicized shortcomings is the pressbox which, at best, is no better than a semi-pro coop in the Kentucky Li'l Abner League.

The Lincoln press and radio, always boosting and always sympathetic toward keeping Western League baseball in the Capital City, have always been taken for granted. There have been no efforts to improve the Sherman Field pressbox since Howard Gordon, a chap with a penchant for public relations, was at the business manager's helm.

It's so bad up in the press coop that not even drinking water or toilet facilities are available. A scribe, who cannot leave his scorebook, must exist through three hours or so of a breathless night without a fighting chance for a drink of water.

While the howling over Sherman Field press facilities has been a bitter point among visiting scribes, the local press and radio has somehow become acclimated—perhaps because the management has managed to invest a few farthings each evening in a bit of soda pop. Now soda pop is a poor substitute for water to a thirsty guy on a boiling night, but it's managed to get the scribes through the evening.

Then came came a joker in the deck certainly not stacked for good public relations over the league.

The Board of Directors of the Lincoln Baseball Club mingled minds and came up with a masterpiece:

No more soda pop in the Sherman Field pressbox! Too expensive. Holy cow!

This momentus ruling, although not yet declared legal by the Supreme Court, went into effect during the recent Sioux City series.

It was modified slightly during the last game when one board member noticed the scribes tongues' dangling from the roof and compromised with one bottle of pop per person. One bottle of pop only provokes your thirst, as you know, so the situation was only aggravated. Still no H2O (college lingo for water).

Gene Sherman, Sioux City sportscaster went away from Sherman Field with dark murmurings "about the league doing something about that blinkety-blank press box" and a parched throat.

Visiting firemen from such Class A points as Denver and Des Moines will soon be on the premises. Given the ultimatum, these sleek creatures, acclimated to the very best in pressbox facilities, are liable to tear down the pressbox. Thirst is not in their vocabulary.

The word is bound to spread quickly around the league that the Lincoln franchise must be quivering at the foundation. Omaha will be holding its sides with laughter.

At best, it's a poor advertisement for the Chiefs over the league and in baseball, where even Class D parks take better care of the press and radio. For saving several bucks a night, it's costing the Chiefs thousands in good public relations.

We can't say whether this stroke of pure genius was authorized by General Manager Bill Herring, a mighty close guy with a dollar (as minor league executives have to be these days). Bill, who knows the value of public relations, surely knows better.

Besides Bill is too busy at the task of getting new infielders to bother with such matters as thirst in the pressbox.

Time will come, to be sure, when a drinking fountain is available upstairs. The rival scribes will be pacified and the local agents will be able to keep their tonsils damp.

In the meantime, the slogan is "thirst for the Chiefs" and the scribes are willing to thirst if it's necessary to keep Western League baseball in Lincoln.

Anyone got a thermos bottle? Water Boy! Water Boy! Where are you hiding?

The Pressbox Scene

The hot rumor around Grand Island is that Al Zikmund, former Nebraska athlete and present Alliance High coach, will succeed Jerry Lee as football and track headmaster at Grand Island High.

Jerry, as everyone knows, is the new Cornhusker track coach.

Zikmund's record at Alliance has been one of the best in the state and, at 31, he's only getting his wings.

Ruben Gomez Masters Bums; Feller Wins Sixth For Indians

BROOKLYN, (AP) — Willie Mays, the New York Giants spectacular "Say Hey Kid," drove in five runs with his 29th and 30th home runs today as the Giants took their sixth straight from Brooklyn, 11-2, and stretched their National League lead to 6½ games.

The collapse of the defending champions was complete with the Giants knocking out Carl Erskine, the Dodgers' ace, and slamming the ball to all corners of Ebbets Field, in a 16-hit attack. The Giants now lead the Brooks 9-3 for the year.

Mays was the big noise. He homered into the left field seats in the first inning with Don Mueller on base and then slammed No. 30 over the score board in right field off Russ Meyer with two men on base in the seventh.

The Giants never let the Dodgers up all afternoon after they scored three in the first inning on Lockman's double, Mueller's scoring single and Mays' 29th homer. The Brooks came back with two in their half of the first.

Gromek Baffles Sox

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tiger's Steve Gromek struck a blow against Chicago's pennant hopes Thursday when he scattered seven hits to post his 10th victory of the season, 2-0, over the White Sox.

. . . Homers Help

CLEVELAND, (AP) — Jim Hegan and Wally Westlake hit home runs and Bob Feller gave up only seven hits Thursday as the front-running Cleveland Indians beat Baltimore's Orioles, 4-1 and moved four games ahead in the American League race.

Hegan, collecting Cleveland's first hit from pitcher Lou Kretlow, stroked his four-base blow over the left field fence in the third inning. It was the catcher's fifth of the season

Feller, winning his sixth victory against a single defeat, struck out six and was in trouble only in the seventh when Baltimore got its only run.

Dodger Tempers Flare After Russ Hits Irvin; Newk Miffed

BROOKLYN, N. Y. (AP)— Dodger pitchers Russ Meyer and Don Newcombe were reported Thursday to have almost come to blows in the Brooklyn clubhouse following their team's sixth straight loss to the New York Giants. Both players denied it.

Newcombe, however, admitted he "had a few words" with Meyer after the hot-tempered righthander had hit Monte Irvin, Giant outfielder, with a pitch in the seventh inning.

Newcombe said he addressed some remarks to Meyer from the dugout after Russ had been knocked out of the box in the seventh. A few minutes earlier Meyer and Irvin had exchanged heated words while the Giant slugger was on first base after being hit in the leg.

"All I said to Russ was," Newcombe said, " 'Who are you arguing with, Irvin or Durocher? If it's Leo, I'd like to get on him too,' Durocher was coaching at first base.

Russ Meyer

Don Newcombe

According to the reports, Newcombe accosted Meyer in the club-house and demanded to know why he had thrown at Irvin. Newcombe and Irvin are very close friends.

"What does he (Irvin) think he is?" Meyer reportedly growled back. "Does he think he is a privileged character that we can't throw at him? They throw at our fellows. This is baseball, not tea and crumpets."

Meyer freely acknowledged making these remarks but said they were not addressed at Newcombe but to the Dodger players in general.

"What would I be fighting with Don for?" Meyer asked. "We're good friends and we're both out for the same thing—to beat the pants off those Giants."

Irvin substatiated the "feud" reports, when he told reporters: "I understand that Newcombe, Meyer's own teammate, jumped on him after he hit me with the pitch.

"I don't mind being brushed back but I do mind being hit deliberately," the usually mild-mannered Negro slugger said. "Pitchers don't do that.

"Sure I yelled at him. After I got to first base, I hollered to him, 'If you had any guts, you'd never do that.' He made a move toward me and said something but I couldn't hear because of the noise of the crowd. I probably would have said plenty more to him but Leo Durocher made me quiet down. He said he didn't want me thrown out of the game."

Furillo, Westrum Exchange Words

Tempers between Dodger and Giant players also flared in the eighth inning when Carl Furillo of Brooklyn and catcher Wes Westrum of New York became involved in an argument and had to be separated by Umpire Dusty Boggess and Giant team Capt. Alvin Dark.

Furillo had complained about a close pitch by pitcher Ruben Gomez and was told by Westrum to "get in and hit."

"What is he (Gomez) trying to do," Furillo asked heatedly of Westrum, "is he trying to start something like last year?"

Furillo was referring to the scuffle with Durocher at the Polo Grounds last September after he was hit by a Gomez pitch. The Dodger outfielder had charged Durocher with ordering Gomez to throw at him. As a result of the scuffle, Furillo broke a bone in his left hand and was sidelined until the World Series.

Demaret, Turnesa Fire 144; British Open At Halfway

SOUTHPORT, England (AP) — Chain-smoking Bill Spence of England uncorked another sub-par round Thursday to take a one-stroke lead at the halfway mark of the British Open golf championship but hot on his heels were 11 contenders including America's Jimmy Demaret and Jim Turnesa.

The long-driving, 42-year-old Kent pro fired a one-under-par 38-34—72 to go with his brilliant 69 of Wednesday for a 141 total, three under regulation figures for the par-73, 6,837-yard Royal Birkdale seaside course.

Demaret, colorful pro from Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., and Turnesa, of Briarcliff, N. Y., former American PGA champion, also turned in sub-par scores to wind up with 144s and a five-way tie for seventh in this wide open tournament. With any luck on their putts both Jimmys might be leading the pack of 50 for today's final 36 holes.

Flubs Easy One

Demaret burned up the course going out with a 33 but flubbed easy ones on the way back for a 38. The 41-year old Turnesa said "I might easily have had a 66 or 68 but several putts rimmed the cup and stayed out" He carded a one-under-par 36-36—72 instead.

Three other Americans, amateur Frank Stranahan of Toledo, O., and veteran pros Al Watrous, Birmingham, Mich., and Gene Sarazen, Germantown, N. Y., also qualified for today's double round but Cincinnati's Tony Penna lost out with a 77 for a 153 total. A 151 or better was needed to qualify.

Bobby Locke, three-time winner of the Open and the pre-tourney favorite, was in contention with a 145 on 74-71.

Sam King, England, who shot a brilliant 69 yesterday to tie Spence for the lead, skied to 74. Syd Scott, a 40-year-old Cumberlander who had been sidelined two months this spring with a bad leg, broke the course record by two strokes with a scintillating 34-33—67. He had a 76 Wednesday. Peter Thomson, tournament-tested young Australian, and the tiny Dai Rees, of Wales had the same rounds, 72-71—143.

Bruins Tip Chiefs, 3-2; Bush Loser

Oquendo Will Face Des Moines Tonight

DES MOINES, Ia.—Pitcher Hy Cohen won his seventh straight game here Thursday night as Des Moines beat the Western League's leading pitcher, Lincoln's Andy Bush, 3-2.

Des Moines scored the deciding run in the fourth inning when Burdy Thurlby singled, stole second and scored on Vern Morgan's single to right.

The Bruins scored one run in the second and tied the game in the third on three Lincoln errors.

Lincoln got to Cohen for both its runs in the first. Leadoff batter John Jones doubled and scored on Andy Anderson's single. Anderson came home when outfielder Jim McDaniel lost Tom Neill's long fly ball in the haze and the ball fell for a two-base hit.

Manager Whitey Wietelmann will toss Noel Oquendo (2-3) at Des Moines' Don Elston (8-5) tonight in a single game.

City Will Offer 'Public Relations'

Community Drive Planned To Save A's

By FRED B. WALTERS

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Mayor Joseph S. Clark Jr. Thursday asked Philadelphia area businessmen to "pick up the ball" and help keep the American League baseball Athletics in Philadelphia through a "community-chest kind of drive."

Clark threw cold water on reports the city might provide some form of subsidy to pull the Athletics out of its financial mire.

He pledged the "full strength of (the city's) public relations" behind the club, but added that he is "not interested in creeping socialism" and said the city is not going to put up any money to keep the A's in Philadelphia.

Leaders Meet

The mayor addressed a meeting of some 75 business and civic leaders in his city hall reception room. Also on hand were Connie Mack, president, founder and manager of the A's for 50 years and nine championship seasons; his sons, Roy and Earle, who have taken over active direction of the club; Robert R. M. Carpenter Jr., president of the Philadelphia Phillies of the National League; A's catcher Joe Astroth, players' representative, and infielder Jim Finigan, only member of the American League club chosen for the league All-Star team to play against the National League All-Stars in Cleveland next week

The meeting was called last week by Clark after the A's management told the mayor the club must draw another 420,000 paid admissions this season or give up its franchise.

Clark opened the 50-minute meeting by advising the group that loss of the A's franchise would be a severe loss to the economy of the Philadelphia area. And, after declaring that the city would not give financial support, he said three groups must accept the responsibility for keeping the Athletics in Philadelphia 1. The Mack family, 2. The fans, and 3. The businessmen.

Turning to a huge chart Clark read off figures showing that 600,000 paid admissions at $1.30 each is needed for the club to break even this season. This would mean an average of 13,000 paid admissions for each remaining game or "7,000 more" than the present per-game average.

The Firing Line

by Norris Anderson, SPORTS EDITOR, THE STAR

Hastily-built Sherman Field, scene of many disappointments and triumphs, has its share of inadequacies.

The rough outfield, meager dressing rooms and general player facilities have long been moaned over the Western League. This is currently soothed, however, by the pleasant fact that the playing field is perhaps in the best shape of its history.

One of the least-publicized shortcomings is the pressbox which, at best, is no better than a semi-pro coop in the Kentucky Li'l Abner League.

The Lincoln press and radio, always boosting and always sympathetic toward keeping Western League baseball in the Capital City, have always been taken for granted. There have been no efforts to improve the Sherman Field pressbox since Howard Gordon, a chap with a penchant for public relations, was at the business manager's helm.

It's so bad up in the press coop that not even drinking water or toilet facilities are available. A scribe, who cannot leave his scorebook, must exist through three hours or so of a breathless night without a fighting chance for a drink of water.

While the howling over Sherman Field press facilities has been a bitter point among visiting scribes, the local press and radio has somehow become acclimated—perhaps because the management has managed to invest a few farthings each evening in a bit of soda pop. Now soda pop is a poor substitute for water to a thirsty guy on a boiling night, but it's managed to get the scribes through the evening.

Then came came a joker in the deck certainly not stacked for good public relations over the league.

The Board of Directors of the Lincoln Baseball Club mingled minds and came up with a masterpiece:

No more soda pop in the Sherman Field pressbox! Too expensive. Holy cow!

This momentus ruling, although not yet declared legal by the Supreme Court, went into effect during the recent Sioux City series.

It was modified slightly during the last game when one board member noticed the scribes tongues' dangling from the roof and compromised with one bottle of pop per person. One bottle of pop only provokes your thirst, as you know, so the situation was only aggravated. Still no H2O (college lingo for water).

Gene Sherman, Sioux City sportscaster went away from Sherman Field with dark murmurings "about the league doing something about that blinkety-blank press box" and a parched throat.

Visiting firemen from such Class A points as Denver and Des Moines will soon be on the premises. Given the ultimatum, these sleek creatures, acclimated to the very best in pressbox facilities, are liable to tear down the pressbox. Thirst is not in their vocabulary.

The word is bound to spread quickly around the league that the Lincoln franchise must be quivering at the foundation. Omaha will be holding its sides with laughter.

At best, it's a poor advertisement for the Chiefs over the league and in baseball, where even Class D parks take better care of the press and radio. For saving several bucks a night, it's costing the Chiefs thousands in good public relations.

We can't say whether this stroke of pure genius was authorized by General Manager Bill Herring, a mighty close guy with a dollar (as minor league executives have to be these days). Bill, who knows the value of public relations, surely knows better.

Besides Bill is too busy at the task of getting new infielders to bother with such matters as thirst in the pressbox.

Time will come, to be sure, when a drinking fountain is available upstairs. The rival scribes will be pacified and the local agents will be able to keep their tonsils damp.

In the meantime, the slogan is "thirst for the Chiefs" and the scribes are willing to thirst if it's necessary to keep Western League baseball in Lincoln.

Anyone got a thermos bottle? Water Boy! Water Boy! 'Where are you hiding?

The Pressbox Scene

The hot rumor around Grand Island is that Al Zikmund, former Nebraska athlete and present Alliance High coach, will succeed Jerry Lee as football and track headmaster at Grand Island High.

Jerry, as everyone knows, is the new Cornhusker track coach.

Zikmund's record at Alliance has been one of the best in the state and, at 31, he's only getting his wings.

Omaha Streak Ended In Twin Bill

OMAHA (AP)—The Omaha Cardinals extended their winning streak to eight Thursday night by winning the first game of a double-header from Sioux City, 3-0.

The Cards, however, dropped the nightcap, 4-3, as 2,990 watched.

Omaha's pitching failed in the long game. Manager Ferrell Anderson wound up using six hurlers.

Mel Greer, the starter, was charged with all four Sioux City runs in the first inning. He issued a single, two walks and made an error himself before leaving the game.

Charlie Hollingsworth relieved and contributed two singles to the two men he faced. After that, Andy used Rollie Hubbard, Lou Ciola, Ron Bump and Gordon Jones. The cards made a determined bid in the late innings. They put over their three runs in the fourth on a walk and singles by Bill Hopkins, Whitey Ries and Chico Mayer.

Omaha put three on in the sixth, two in the seventh and one in the eighth.

In the first game Jones gave Sioux City just three singles.

It was the second consecutive shutout for Omaha.

Jim King's homer in the second inning gave Omaha a 1-0 lead. Chico Mayer scored in the third after getting on via an error and then brought in the third run in the fifth.

In the second inning, a foul tip hit Umpire Hank Cozy in the Adam's apple. He was taken to St. Catherine's Hospital. Two players filled in until a local umpire became available.

Dallas Needs Five Million For Franchise

. . . Drive Launched

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS (AP)—A campaign was launched Thursday to raise five million dollars with which to bring a major league franchise to Dallas.

R. W. Burnett, president of the Dallas club of the Texas League, who will be one of the men contributing a half million dollars to the enterprise, said he anticipated that the campaign to raise the money would be completed by weekend.

Burnett and E. E. Buddy Fogelson, like Burnett a Dallas oilman, met this afternoon and mapped the plan which will be followed, this consisting of asking 10 persons to purchase a half million dollars each in stock.

The remaining two million dollars, which they estimated will be necessary to bring the franchise here and enlarge the present Texas League park, will be obtained from the general public

Burnett said, however, they would go ahead and obtain the franchise as soon as the five million is obtained and would not wait to raise the remainder.

He said that major league franchises were available.

Indian Rally Clips Pueblo

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP) — Wichita spotted Pueblo a 7-2 first inning lead and then came back strong to beat the Dodgers 17-9 in a Western League game here Thursday night.

It was the Indians' second straight victory in the 3-game series.

Wichita pecked away and finally went ahead to stay with a 3-run output in the sixth inning. The Indians added seven runs in a wild ninth frame just for insurance.

Both starting pitchers experienced early difficulty. Wichita starter Don Orwiler who faced six Pueblo batters without retiring any of them. Eldon Russell, who relieved him and received credit for the victory, limited Pueblo to four hits over the first five innings and Pete Mazar permitted only another four in the last four frames.

Dallas Needs Five Million For Franchise

. . . Drive Launched

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS (AP)—A campaign was launched Thursday to raise five million dollars with which to bring a major league franchise to Dallas.

R. W. Burnett, president of the Dallas club of the Texas League, who will be one of the men contributing a half million dollars to the enterprise, said he anticipated that the campaign to raise the money would be completed by weekend.

Burnett and E. E. Buddy Fogelson, like Burnett a Dallas oilman, met this afternoon and mapped the plan which will be followed, this consisting of asking 10 persons to purchase a half million dollars each in stock.

The remaining two million dollars, which they estimated will be necessary to bring the franchise here and enlarge the present Texas League park, will be obtained from the general public

Burnett said, however, they would go ahead and obtain the franchise as soon as the five million is obtained and would not wait to raise the remainder.

He said that major league franchises were available.

Indian Rally Clips Pueblo

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP) — Wichita spotted Pueblo a 7-2 first inning lead and then came back strong to beat the Dodgers 17-9 in a Western League game here Thursday night.

It was the Indians' second straight victory in the 3-game series.

Wichita pecked away and finally went ahead to stay with a 3-run output in the sixth inning. The Indians added seven runs in a wild ninth frame just for insurance.

Both starting pitchers experienced early difficulty. Wichita starter Don Orwiler who faced six Pueblo batters without retiring any of them. Eldon Russell, who relieved him and received credit for the victory, limited Pueblo to four hits over the first five innings and Pete Mazar permitted only another four in the last four frames.

State Jaycee Tennis Tourney Opens Today At Lincoln Tennis Club Courts

By BILL FITZGERALD
Star Sports Staff Member

Nebraska's best young tennis players will have their first chance of 1954 to clash against each other today when the State Jaycee Tournament is held at the Lincoln Tennis Club, 38th and South.

Competition is set for boys an junior classes with the junior winner going to Springfield, O., in August for a national Jaycee tournament.

The Lincoln tournament is expected to attract players from Omaha, Lincoln, Hastings, Columbus, Kearney and other towns across the state.

Neil Unterseher, Lincoln junior and boys champion, is expected to compete, may be the most prominent local player.

Play will begin Friday morning under the direction of Maj. Charles Hanner, the Lincoln Air Force Base officer who won the men's city singles tournament last month.

Pairings will be made during the morning and finals will be played Saturday.

The boys class includes all under 15 years. Juniors are between 15 and 18.

The winner of the national tournament at Springfield will train for one month under Jack Kramer, noted national tennis player.

The winner also will be a guest at the national championships at Forrest Hills and will receive a college scholarship.

Little Mo Reaches Irish Lawn Finals

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Maureen (Little Mo) Connolly of San Diego, Calif., reached the finals of the women's singles in the Irish lawn tennis championships Thursday by beating June Fitzpatrick of Dublin, 6-1, 6-0 in the semifinals.

June's brother, Gerry, was beaten 6-0, 6-0 in the men's quarterfinals by Australian champion Mervyn Rose.

In another men's singles quarterfinal, Gil Shea of Chicago, Ill., trimmed Ireland's R. F. Egan 6-3, 6-4.

Hugh Stewart of Pasadena, Calif., also moved up with a 6-2, 6-4, 6-3 victory over Neil Fraser of Australia.

In a women's quarter-final Britain's Angela Buxton beat Mrs. Nell Hopman of Australia, 3-6, 6-4, 6-2.

LCC Plans Foursome

Lincoln Country Club golfers will participate in a best-ball foursome Sunday morning at the south side 18-hole course.

A breakfast at 8 a.m. will precede the play.

Professional Bud Williamson has stated all entries must be registered by 3 p.m. Saturday.

Packers Open July 26

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — The Green Bay Packers will hold their first summer practice session this year on July 26, Head Coach Lisle Liz Blackbourn said Wednesday. The Packers will open their new training site at Stevens Point, Wis., State College two days earlier, Blackbourn said, for physical examinations.

Rockets Will Meet G.I. In 2nd Game

Northeast High will face the defending state co-champion, Grand Island, in the second game of the football season this fall.

Coach Bun Galloway has announced the Rockets will open against Nebraska City at home Sept. 10.

Galloway calls the present schedule the toughest in Northeast history.

The schedule:

Sept. 10—Nebraska City; 17—Grand Island 24—Fremont Oct 1—Beatrice, 8—Hastings, 15—at Omaha South, 22—at Fairbury 28—at Sioux City East, Nov. 5—at Lincoln

Peru Already Has Grid Bowl Bid

PERU—Peru State Teachers College football Coach Al Wheeler has disclosed that the school already has received a bid for a football bowl game at the close of the coming season.

Wheeler said the invitation came from a bowl committee in "one of the western states."

The Peru team won 21 games straight through the 1953 season. It turned down a Refrigerator Bowl bid in 1952 and was among Cigar Bowl contenders last year, though it didn't get the bid.

Wheeler isn't willing to say what the school will do with the present invitation, commenting:

"After all, we've got to play out the 1954 schedule first. We have a tough schedule and with the squad losses we have sustained we face the prospect of one of the worst seasons in a long time."

Lost by graduation were twice Little All America tackle Bob Lade, tackles Curt Lindell and Bob Simpson, halfbacks Gene Larsen and Loren Argabright end "Red" Holmes, and guard Curt Cederberg.

The status of some of the other mainstays of the 1952 and 1953 teams is doubtful

Janis is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Knickerbocker, 7121 Lexington. The second of two sessions of swimming instruction at Muny begins Monday. Children in the fourth grade or higher who have not yet registered should do so before Monday noon at Muny. (Star Photo.)

Peru Already Has Grid Bowl Bid

PERU — Peru State Teachers College football Coach Al Wheeler has disclosed that the school already has received a bid for a football bowl game at the close of the coming season.

Wheeler said the invitation came from a bowl committee in "one of the western states."

The Peru team won 21 games straight through the 1953 season. It turned down a Refrigerator Bowl bid in 1952 and was among Cigar Bowl contenders last year, though it didn't get the bid.

Wheeler isn't willing to say what the school will do with the present invitation, commenting:

"After all, we've got to play out the 1954 schedule first. We have a tough schedule and with the squad losses we have sustained we face the prospect of one of the worst seasons in a long time."

Lost by graduation were twice Little All America tackle Bob Lade, tackles Curt Lindell and Bob Simpson, halfbacks Gene Larsen and Loren Argabright, end "Red" Holmes, and guard Curt Cederberg.

Darrell Rosenquist, Little All America honorable mention will pass up his final season of elgibility to teach part time.

The status of some of the other mainstays of the 1952 and 1953 teams is doubtful.

State Jaycee Tennis Tourney Opens Today At Lincoln Tennis Club Courts

By BILL FITZGERALD
Star Sports Staff Member

Nebraska's best young tennis players will have their first chance of 1954 to clash against each other today when the State Jaycee Tournament is held at the Lincoln Tennis Club, 38th and South.

Competition is set for boys an junior classes with the junior winner going to Springfield, O., in August for a national Jaycee tournament.

The Lincoln tournament is expected to attract players from Omaha, Lincoln, Hastings, Columbus, Kearney and other towns across the state.

Neil Unterseher, Lincoln junior and boys champion, is expected to compete, may be the most prominent local player.

Play will begin Friday morning under the direction of Maj. Charles Hanner, the Lincoln Air Force Base officer who won the men's city singles tournament last month.

Pairings will be made during the morning and finals will be played Saturday.

The boys class includes all under 15 years. Juniors are between 15 and 18.

The winner of the national tournament at Springfield will train for one month under Jack Kramer, noted national tennis player.

The winner also will be a guest at the national championships at Forrest Hills and will receive a college scholarship.

Rockets Will Meet G.I. In 2nd Game

Northeast High will face the defending state co-champion, Grand Island, in the second game of the football season this fall.

Coach Bun Galloway has announced the Rockets will open against Nebraska City at home Sept. 10.

Galloway calls the present schedule the toughest in Northeast history.

The schedule:

Sept. 10—Nebraska City; 17—Grand Island; 24—Fremont; Oct. 1—Beatrice; 8—Hastings; 15—at Omaha South; 22—at Fairbury; 28—at Sioux City East; Nov. 5—at Lincoln.

Little Mo Reaches Irish Lawn Finals

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Maureen (Little Mo) Connolly of San Diego, Calif., reached the finals of the women's singles in the Irish lawn tennis championships Thursday by beating June Fitzpatrick of Dublin, 6-1, 6-0 in the semifinals.

June's brother, Gerry, was beaten 6-0, 6-0 in the men's quarterfinals by Australian champion Mervyn Rose.

In another men's singles quarterfinal, Gil Shea of Chicago, Ill., trimmed Ireland's R. F. Egan 6-3, 6-4.

Hugh Stewart of Pasadena, Calif., also moved up with a 6-2, 6-4, 6-3 victory over Neil Fraser of Australia.

In a women's quarter-final Britain's Angela Buxton beat Mrs. Nell Hopman of Australia, 3-6, 6-4, 6-2.

LCC Plans Foursome

Lincoln Country Club golfers will participate in a best-ball foursome Sunday morning at the south side 18-hole course.

A breakfast at 8 a.m. will precede the play.

Professional Bud Williamson has stated all entries must be registered by 3 p.m. Saturday.

Packers Open July 26

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — The Green Bay Packers will hold their first summer practice session this year on July 26, Head Coach Lisle Liz Blackbourn said Wednesday. The Packers will open their new training site at Stevens Point, Wis., State College two days earlier, Blackbourn said, for physical examinations.

'Air Tight' Cattle Disease Research Center Off Long Island Unveiled

PLUM ISLAND, N. Y. (AP)—The U. S. Department of Agriculture Thursday unveiled its isolated research center here, where the dreaded cattle-destroying foot and mouth disease virus will be brought into the country for the first time.

The 15 million dollar installation on this island off the eastern tip of Long Island is hedged around with rigid restrictions and precautions—a check and double check against spread of the disease.

848 Acres

Dr. M. S. Shahan director of the laboratory, and other scientists took newsmen on a tour of the 848-acre island Thursday.

They saw Hereford cattle penned up in old gun emplacements left from the time when Plum Island was Ft. Perry.

The lab itself is surrounded by double concrete and steel fences, and the only entrance is through a double air lock door.

Only authorized personnel will be allowed on the island when the foot and mouth experiments start in about six months.

Chemical Filters

Inside the cluster of buildings the safety equipment includes automatic showers and special magnetic and chemical filters.

The experiments on cattle, horses, pigs, sheep, mice, rabbits, guinea pigs and chickens will take place only in the heart of the laboratory.

The United States has successfully kept foot and mouth disease out of the country, although herds in Europe, Africa, South America and Mexico have been decimated.

Hug For Her Doctor

Carol Stillwell, 6, of El Cerrito, Calif., gives Dr. Philip K. Hench a real big hug on seeing him in San Francisco. Carol was stricken with rheumatic arthritis when 11 months old and was totally disabled for more than two years. Dr. Hench, who won the Nobel Prize for the application of cortisone to arthritic patients, is greatly responsible for the girl's normal condition today. (International).

Old Masterpiece Is Found In Genoa Gallery Storeroom

GENOA, Italy (AP)—A masterpiece by Flemish artist Anthony Van Dyck was discovered Thursday during restoration of a painting that had been lying in the storeroom of a Genoa gallery for many decades.

Cleaning and restoration of the small painting—representing Jesus Christ, the Virgin and angels—disclosed the signature of Van Dyck and the date 1620, the manager of the Bianco Palace gallery said.

JAVA BREAK IS USED TO BREAK BANK

SOUTH GATE, Calif. (AP) — A teller out for a cup of coffee was followed back to the Bank of America by two gunmen who wired together the feet of eight employes and escaped with $42,755.

They apparently fled in a car driven by a third man.

Teller Richard M. Ruh, 26, said he entered the bank at 8 a.m. and 15 minutes later went to a nearby corner shop for a cup of coffee.

On his way back he was followed by the two men. One shoved a gun against his back and told him to let them into the bank.

Inside, the robbers ordered bank employes as they arrived to sit in chairs behind the tellers' cages and bound their feet with wire.

The thieves forced manager Walter J. Behm and Mrs. Betty Oliver, a stenographer—each of whom knows half the combination—to open the vault. The men fled and Behm telephoned police.

Huge Continental Air Defense Test Slated This Month

WASHINGTON (AP)—The largest air defense test ever held on the North American continent will take place this month, the Air Forces of Canada and the United States announced Thursday.

Labeled Exercise Check Point, the training maneuver will involve "hundreds" of aircraft over a period of several days, a spokesman said.

Nehru Plays Modern-Day Robin Hood

BOMBAY, India (AP)—Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru has suggested that wealthier Indian princes donate 15 per cent of their private purses for the welfare of the people in states they formerly ruled, reports from Hyderabad said.

The proposal was reported included in a circular to the princes as a substitute for Nehru's former request that they agree to a voluntary cut in the income they receive from the government.

'Good Neighbor' Defies The Law To Rescue Dog

MOBILE, Ala., (AP) — Mrs. Mabel Weaver rescued a neighbors dog from the dogcatcher Thursday but ran into trouble with the law in doing so.

Patrolmen Nick Lambert and John D. Hare said they were called when Mrs. Weaver was reported to have snatched a neighbor's fox terrier from beneath the poundman's net.

Mrs. Weaver said the dog catcher refused her request to delay seizing the animal until she could contact the owner, who was away from home. She claimed the owner had a city license in her house.

Mrs. Weaver was docketed on a technical charge of interfering in the execution of an officer's duty, and was directed to appear in recorder's court Saturday.

The dog got away.

Col. Armas Guatemala's New Leader

GUATEMALA (AP) — Col. Carlos Castillo Armas emerged Thursday as the head man of a three-man junta ruling Guatemala.

The leader of the recent anti-Communist revolt was elected to the junta's presidency Wednesday night but the action was announced only Thursday by the junta secretary, Rodrigo Robles. Col. Elfego Monzon, head man of a five-man junta since last week, remains a member of the ruling committee along with Maj. Enrique Oliva.

Two members were dropped—Lt. Cols. Mauricio Dubois and Jose Luis Cruz. Robles said both resigned after Castillo Armas' election and refused to reconsider their action after being urged to do so. They were given a vote of recognition for their services since the junta was formed last Friday.

Top Man

Castillo Armas' supporters were reported keenly disappointed that he did not emerge as top man in the original fusion with Monzon Tommygunners from among the exiles who shared the risks of invasion with Castillo Armas surrounded him whenever he appeared in public. Even Thursday a half dozen men armed with submachine guns and rifles fanned out in front of him as he left his residence, apparently fearful their leader might be attacked.

Announcement of changes in the government's top command came as the junta clamped a tight guard around foreign embassies in an effort to prevent the escape of Communists and other enemies of the new regime.

Churchill Denies He Announced Eden Would Succeed Him

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill denied emphatically Thursday he had ever announced in America that Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden would be his successor.

A Laborite member of Parliament, R. F. Paget, said such an announcement would be an infringement of the royal prerogative to appoint the prime minister.

"I certainly do not recall ever having said anything of the kind," Churchill retorted in the House of Commons question period. "I have always held the opposite view very strongly. If he will send me the quotation I will look into it, but I may well be misreported.

"I certainly would not presume to commit such a constitutional error as that."

Eden has been understood for some time to be Churchill's choice as his successor. Thursday's exchange centered not on this question but on the technical fact that the sovereign appoints the prime minister.

One Million Sign Petition Against Seating Of China

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (INS)—President Eisenhower was notified Thursday that one million Americans have signed a petition opposing the seating of Red China in the United Nations.

The petition, circulated by the "Committee for 1,000,000 Against the Admission of Communist China to U. N.," achieved its goal at the crucial moment when President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles were sternly warning of the grave consequences if Peiping is admitted to the U. N.

Eisenhower was notified of the huge petition in a telegram sent by Charles Edison former governor of New Jersey and secretary of the Navy, and Rep. Walter Judd, (R-Minn), chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee. Both are members of the executive committee of the "one million" project.

The mounting storm in the U.S. already has jolted some of the Western Allies notably Britain, into hinting at possible postponement of the showdown on Red China from next September to a year later.

Heflins Have Son

'Air Tight' Cattle Disease Research Center Off Long Island Unveiled

PLUM ISLAND, N. Y. (AP)—The U. S. Department of Agriculture Thursday unveiled its isolated research center here, where the dreaded cattle-destroying foot and mouth disease virus will be brought into the country for the first time.

The 15 million dollar installation on this island off the eastern tip of Long Island is hedged around with rigid restrictions and precautions—a check and double check against spread of the disease.

A special act of Congress last year permitted scientists to bring the virus into the country from a British laboratory for experimental work.

848 Acres

Dr. M. S Shahan, director of the laboratory, and other scientists took newsmen on a tour of the 848-acre island Thursday.

They saw Hereford cattle penned up in old gun emplacements left from the time when Plum Island was Ft. Perry.

The lab itself is surrounded by double concrete and steel fences, and the only entrance is through a double air lock door.

Only authorized personnel will be allowed on the island when the foot and mouth experiments start in about six months.

Chemical Filters

Inside the cluster of buildings the safety equipment includes automatic showers and special magnetic and chemical filters.

The experiments on cattle, horses, pigs, sheep, mice, rabbits, guinea pigs and chickens will take place only in the heart of the laboratory.

The United States has successfully kept foot and mouth disease out of the country, although herds in Europe, Africa, South America and Mexico have been decimated.

Hug For Her Doctor

Carol Stillwell, 6, of El Cerrito, Calif., gives Dr. Phillip K. Hench a real big hug on seeing him in San Francisco. Carol was stricken with rheumatic arthritis when 11 months old and was totally disabled for more than two years. Dr. Hench, who won the Nobel Prize for the application of cortisone to arthritic patients, is greatly responsible for the girl's normal condition today. (International).

Old Masterpiece Is Found In Genoa Gallery Storeroom

GENOA, Italy (AP)—A masterpiece by Flemish artist Anthony Van Dyck was discovered Thursday during restoration of a painting that had been lying in the storeroom of a Genoa gallery for many decades.

Cleaning and restoration of the small painting—representing Jesus Christ, the Virgin and angels—disclosed the signature of Van Dyck and the date 1620, the manager of the Bianco Palace gallery said.

JAVA BREAK IS USED TO BREAK BANK

SOUTH GATE, Calif. (AP) — A teller out for a cup of coffee was followed back to the Bank of America by two gunmen who wired together the feet of eight employes and escaped with $42,755.

They apparently fled in a car driven by a third man.

Teller Richard M. Ruh, 26, said he entered the bank at 8 a.m. and 15 minutes later went to a nearby corner shop for a cup of coffee.

On his way back he was followed by the two men. One shoved a gun against his back and told him to let them into the bank.

Inside, the robbers ordered bank employes as they arrived to sit in chairs behind the tellers' cages and bound their feet with wire.

The thieves forced manager Walter J. Behm and Mrs Betty Oliver, a stenographer—each of whom knows half the combination—to open the vault. The men fled and Behm telephoned police.

Huge Continental Air Defense Test Slated This Month

WASHINGTON (AP)—The largest air defense test ever held on the North American continent will take place this month, the Air Forces of Canada and the United States announced Thursday.

Labeled Exercise Check Point, the training maneuver will involve "hundreds" of aircraft over a period of several days, a spokesman said.

Nehru Plays Modern-Day Robin Hood

BOMBAY, India (AP)—Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru has suggested that wealthier Indian princes donate 15 per cent of their private purses for the welfare of the people in states they formerly ruled, reports from Hyderabad said.

The proposal was reported included in a circular to the princes as a substitute for Nehru's former request that they agree to a voluntary cut in the income they receive from the government.

'Good Neighbor' Defies The Law To Rescue Dog

MOBILE, Ala., (AP) — Mrs. Mabel Weaver rescued a neighbors dog from the dogcatcher Thursday but ran into trouble with the law in doing so.

Patrolmen Nick Lambert and John D. Hare said they were called when Mrs. Weaver was reported to have snatched a neighbor's fox terrier from beneath the poundman's net.

Mrs. Weaver said the dog catcher refused her request to delay seizing the animal until she could contact the owner, who was away from home. She claimed the owner had a city license in her house.

Mrs. Weaver was docketed on a technical charge of interfering in the execution of an officer's duty, and was directed to appear in recorder's court Saturday.

The dog got away.

Col. Armas Guatemala's New Leader

GUATEMALA (AP) — Col. Carlos Castillo Armas emerged Thursday as the head man of a three-man junta ruling Guatemala.

The leader of the recent anti-Communist revolt was elected to the junta's presidency Wednesday night but the action was announced only Thursday by the junta secretary, Rodrigo Robles. Col. Elfego Monzon, head man of a five-man junta since last week, remains a member of the ruling committee along with Maj. Enrique Oliva.

Two members were dropped—Lt. Cols. Mauricio Dubois and Jose Luis Cruz. Robles said both resigned after Castillo Armas' election and refused to reconsider their action after being urged to do so. They were given a vote of recognition for their services since the junta was formed last Friday.

Top Man

Castillo Armas' supporters were reported keenly disappointed that he did not emerge as top man in the original fusion with Monzon. Tommygunners from among the exiles who shared the risks of invasion with Castillo Armas surrounded him whenever he appeared in public. Even Thursday a half dozen men armed with submachine guns and rifles fanned out in front of him as he left his residence, apparently fearful their leader might be attacked.

Announcement of changes in the government's top command came as the junta clamped a tight guard around foreign embassies in an effort to prevent the escape of Communists and other enemies of the new regime.

Churchill Denies He Announced Eden Would Succeed Him

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill denied emphatically Thursday he had ever announced in America that Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden would be his successor.

A Laborite member of Parliament, R. F. Paget, said such an announcement would be an infringement of the royal prerogative to appoint the prime minister.

"I certainly do not recall ever having said anything of the kind," Churchill retorted in the House of Commons question period. "I have always held the opposite view very strongly. If he will send me the quotation I will look into it, but I may well be misreported.

"I certainly would not presume to commit such a constitutional error as that."

Eden has been understood for some time to be Churchill's choice as his successor. Thursday's exchange centered not on this question but on the technical fact that the sovereign appoints the prime minister.

House Votes Peacetime Spying Death Penalty

Bill Passes By 323-0; SenateNext

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House voted Thursday to make peacetime spying punishable by death as it passed and sent to the Senate a bill drastically stiffening the espionage and sabotage laws.

Passage was unanimous by a 323-0 rollcall vote.

It was the third anti-subversive measure approved by the House in enactment of the administration's program for cracking down on Communist saboteurs and spies.

On tap are three other administration-sponsored measures which would bar suspected Reds and spies from defense plants, dissolve Communist-dominated labor unions and organizations, and strip citizenship from anyone convicted of conspiring to overthrow the government.

With a minimum of debate, the House approved the bill sent to Congress by Atty. Gen. Brownell to make peacetime as well as wartime espionage a capital offense subject to the death penalty.

It first beat down 67-29 standing vote an amendment by Rep. Rogers (D-Tex) to apply the death penalty to sabotage as well as espionage.

For the first time in American history, death as well as imprisonment would be made the penalty for spying when the United States is not actively at war. It would also remove the existing legal time limit on prosecution, which is now 10 years

The bill also broadens the espionage and sabotage laws by making them applicable to germ and atomic warfare, and other modern technological developments not in existence when the present statutes were written.

It likewise would require the registration of foreign-trained saboteurs, or anyone having knowledge of foreign espionage, counter-espionage or sabotage.

While the bill's sponsors do not expect saboteurs to come forward and register, they said it would be an invaluable aid to prosecution of subversives before actual sabotage is accomplished.

Two other key features of the administration's anti - subversive program have already passed the house. They would increase penalties for harboring fugitives, and legalize wiretapping evidence in court in national security cases.

Painters Show How To Do It

Almost as in a "do-it-yourself" pamphlet, the various stages in the painting of a window are illustrated by four workmen shown giving the U. S. Post Office and Court House in Lincoln its first paint job since just before Pearl Harbof—13 years ago. The exterior painting is part of a general contract awarded the Bert A. Newsom Co., Des Moines, Ia., for remodeling and redecorating of the court room and other offices in the building. The contractor estimated all work will be completed in two months. (Star Photo.)

House Votes Peacetime Spying Death Penalty

Bill Passes By 323-0; SenateNext

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House voted Thursday to make peacetime spying punishable by death as it passed and sent to the Senate a bill drastically stiffening the espionage and sabotage laws.

Passage was unanimous by a 323-0 rollcall vote.

It was the third anti-subversive measure approved by the House in enactment of the administration's program for cracking down on Communist saboteurs and spies.

On tap are three other administration-sponsored measures which would bar suspected Reds and spies from defense plants, dissolve Communist-dominated labor unions and organizations, and strip citizenship from anyone convicted of conspiring to overthrow the government.

With a minimum of debate, the House approved the bill sent to Congress by Atty. Gen. Brownell to make peacetime as well as wartime espionage a capital offense subject to the death penalty.

It first beat down 67-29 standing vote an amendment by Rep. Rogers (D-Tex) to apply the death penalty to sabotage as well as espionage.

For the first time in American history, death as well as imprisonment would be made the penalty for spying when the United States is not actively at war. It would also remove the existing legal time limit on prosecution, which is now 10 years.

The bill also broadens the espionage and sabotage laws by making them applicable to germ and atomic warfare, and other modern technological developments not in existence when the present statutes were written.

It likewise would require the registration of foreign-trained saboteurs, or anyone having knowledge of foreign espionage, counter-espionage or sabotage.

While the bill's sponsors do not expect saboteurs to come forward and register, they said it would be an invaluable aid to prosecution of subversives before actual sabotage is accomplished.

Two other key features of the administration's anti - subversive program have already passed the house. They would increase penalties for harboring fugitives, and legalize wiretapping evidence in court in national security cases.

Painters Show How To Do It

Long about a double semester ago we suspected that Mr. Dulles' perpetual smile was a painted quip upon a painted notion.

☆ ☆ ☆

It was a wide grin that made his bridge-work look like a glove stretcher for his optimistic expression.

☆ ☆ ☆

We know in internation a l diplomacy you play both ends against the middle like an idiot on an ear of corn.

Bugs Baer

☆ ☆ ☆

But as the conferences bloomed and withered we realized Dulles was ringing up fares in the car-barn.

☆ ☆ ☆

Just when we thought he had everything setting as pretty as a jay-bird in a cherry tree along comes Winsome Churchill and knocks everything for an-inside-the-park boner.

☆ ☆ ☆

Winsome is another smiler whose brain is a motorcycle cop hiding behind his billboard face.

☆ ☆ ☆

He pulled the plug on the Geneva conference with a dexterity hatched of long experience. If all babies in the world look like Winnie we should use 'em for bait in Winslow Homer's gulf stream.

☆ ☆ ☆

The upshoot of the aftermath is that we were taken like tablets after a hearty indigestion. England cannot exist without its Far Eastern trade and we don't mean yesterday's tea bags.

☆ ☆ ☆

For a while Dulles held his own like a goat running uphill in an avalanche.

☆ ☆ ☆

Then Winnicker jerked the string. It was a figure Big Four trap. When France took a run-out powder we were up Salt Creek with the moth ball flotilla.

☆ ☆ ☆

We're not saying Dulles didn't do his best. But when you look at trouble through rose-colored glasses you have rose-colored trouble.

☆ ☆ ☆

What he never realized was Winnie is not for England first and last. Winnie is for England first.

Wheat Value Dips As Market Eases

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat rested on the Board of Trade Thursday after its strenuous advance over the past week. The rest clipped a little from the bread grain's value, but not much when set against the previous advances.

Most of the remainder of the grain market also eased, although July soybeans showed independent strength throughout the session. That was a reversal of Wednesday, when July beans were very weak. Toward the finish July corn also enjoyed a run-up.

Wheat closed ⅝-1¼ lower, corn ¼ lower to ½ higher, oats ¼-¾ lower, rye ⅝-1½ lower, soybeans 1 cent lower to 5¢ higher and lard 5 to 27 cents a hundred pounds lower.

Stock Mart Lists Irregular Session

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market traversed a cautious route of irregularity Thursday, its second such session following two days of strongly advancing prices.

Prices seldom got far away from their starting point At the most, the range of change was around two points in key sections.

Mostly lower were the steels, motors, chemicals and electrical equipments Tendins higher were the rubbers, aircrafts, buildins materials, coppers and utilities The railroads and radio-televisions were mixed

The market's drive ahead on Friday and Tuesday sent it to a new high for the year, the best since Oct 22, 1929

Many brokers have come to the conclusion that the market now is liable to be subjected to periodic retrenchments of a routine nature But they warn that the peak the market has reached makes it quite vulnerable to a major retreat touched off by some outstanding piece of adverse news

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks lost 10 cents at $129.40 The industrial component fell 40 cents, railroads remained unchanged and utilities were up 10 cents at a new high mark of $61 70

Volume dwindled to 2 050 000 shares That compares with 2,380,000 shares traded Wednesday.

The American Stock Exchange was mixed with trading at 520 000 shares as compared with 560,000 Wednesday

BOND MARKET

NEW YORK (AP)—Selective trading produced a narrowly mixed corporate bond market Thursday. But Uncle Sam's securities progressed

Long term U. S. Government bonds continued to pace the Treasury list to higher ground The 30-year 3¼s climbed 6/32nds at 110⅝ bid, a new peak

Dealers of treasury bonds reported slow over the counter trading but persistent demand

"Big Board" volume dropped to $3,600,000 par value from $4,150 000 Wednesday. Railroads, industrials and utilities were nearly a balance of small gains and losses.

AP COMMODITY INDEX

NEW YORK — The Associated Press weighted wholesale price index of 35 commodities Thursday declined to 172 60.

Previous day 172.79, week ago 172.25, month ago 173 23, year ago 178 69.

Wheat Value Dips As Market Eases

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat rested on the Board of Trade Thursday after its strenuous advance over the past week. The rest clipped a little from the bread grain's value, but not much when set against the previous advances.

Most of the remainder of the grain market also eased, although July soybeans showed independent strength throughout the session. That was a reversal of Wednesday, when July beans were very weak. Toward the finish July corn also enjoyed a run-up.

Wheat closed ⅝-1½ lower, corn ¼ lower to ½ higher, oats ⅛-⅝ lower, rye ⅝-1½ lower, soybeans 1 cent lower to 5½ higher and lard 5 to 27 cents a hundred pounds lower.

Stock Mart Lists Irregular Session

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market traversed a cautious route of irregularity Thursday, its second such session following two days of strongly advancing prices.

Prices seldom got far away from their starting point. At the most, the range of change was around two points in key sections.

Mostly lower were the steels, motors, chemicals and electrical equipments. Tending higher were the rubbers, aircrafts, building materials, coppers and utilities. The railroads and radio-televisions were mixed.

The market's drive ahead on Friday and Tuesday sent it to a new high for the year, the best since Oct. 22, 1929.

Many brokers have come to the conclusion that the market now is liable to be subjected to periodic retrenchments of a routine nature. But they warn that the peak the market has reached makes it quite vulunerable to a major retreat touched off by some outstanding piece of adverse news.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks lost 10 cents at $129.30. The industrial component fell 40 cents, railroads remained unchanged, and utilities were up 10 cents at a new high mark of $61.70.

Volume dwindled to 2,080,000 shares. That compares with 2,380,000 shares traded Wednesday.

The American Stock Exchange was mixed with trading at 520,000 shares as compared with 560,000 Wednesday.

BOND MARKET

NEW YORK (AP)—Selective trading produced a narrowly mixed corporate bond market Thursday. But Uncle Sam's securities progressed.

Long term U. S. Government bonds continued to pace the Treasury list to higher ground. The 30-year 3¼s climbed 6/32nds at 110¾ bid, a new peak.

Dealers of treasury bonds reported slow over the counter trading but persistent demand.

"Big Board" volume dropped to $3,600,000 par value from $4,150,000 Wednesday. Railroads, industrials and utilities were nearly a balance of small gains and losses.

AP COMMODITY INDEX

NEW YORK — The Associated Press weighted wholesale price index of 35 commodities Thursday declined to 172.80.

Previous day 172.70, week ago 172.25, month ago 173.23, year ago 178.63.

No Break Foreseen As Strike Goes Into 2nd Day

By ROY CAMPBELL
Star Staff Writer

Goodyear Tire & Rubber workers in Lincoln went into their second day of strike late Thursday night with no break foreseen in the negotiations at the headquarters in Cincinnati. The strike is the first in eight years by Goodyear workers.

Some 575 production workers in Lincoln stayed away from their jobs Thursday as a line of pickets paced slowly up and down in front of the plant here. Some 200 white collar workers, though, reported for duty and were not impeded by the picket line.

The strike on a nationwide scale affects close to 23,000 employees who are represented by the CIO Rubber, Cork, Linoleum, and Plastic Workers of America union. The plant in Lincoln manufactures V-belts and transmission belting.

Negotiations broke up in Cincinnati, following the present contract being opened under special clauses, when the company held fast to its offer of a pay boost of five cents an hour. The union insisted that was not sufficient and did not make corrections sought in wage differentials in "low paid plants."

Under present wage contracts, union workers receive an average of $2.08 an hour with the wages varying from $1.62 to $2.22 an hour.

According to Richard A. Jay, Lincoln plant manager, the union is asking for an hourly wage increase of 12 cents an hour. This was in addition to requests by the union for a "substantial correction of wage differentials" in the different Goodyear plants.

Willard J. Deigan, vice president of Local 286 of the Union, said the incentive pay at the local plant "does not amount to 10 per cent of the total pay" as it used to, and that the incentive pay "hasn't been changed since 1948."

Jay said the differential in incentive pay in the various plants "is not basis for any rejection of the company offer in wage demands." Jay said the Lincoln wage scale ranks "in between the other plants," being higher than some and lower than others.

The local union went out on strike at 11 p.m. Wednesday along with the Goodyear plants in 10 other cities.

With a required police patrol in evidence, there were no incidents at the local plant as pickets continued their patrol throughout the three shifts at the plant.

Other plants tied up in the strike are located at Akron, O., St. Mary's, O., Muncie, Ind., Los Angeles, Calif., Topeka, Kan., and Gadsden, Ala.

The contracts under which the workers were employed were brought up under a reopening clause. Meetings also are being held between the unions and Firestone and General Tire and Rubber Companies. A meeting with U. S. Rubber Co. is being in New York and a session with Goodrich is scheduled in Cincinnati next Tuesday.

Northern Natural Asks Rate Hike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Northern Natural Gas Co., Omaha, filed a proposal with the power commission Thursday for a 10.4 per cent wholesale natural gas rate increase totaling $8,128,400 annually.

The increase effective Aug. 2, would affect 35 wholesale customers in Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, South Dakota and Minnesota. It would be in addition to an increase made effective last Dec. 27.

Northern said the increase is required because of the cost of expansion of its system capacity from 1,007,191,000 cubic feet a day to 1,099,970,000 cubic feet.

No Break Foreseen As Strike Goes Into 2nd Day

By ROY CAMPBELL
Star Staff Writer

Goodyear Tire & Rubber workers in Lincoln went into their second day of strike late Thursday night with no break foreseen in the negotiations at the headquarters in Cincinnati. The strike is the first in eight years by Goodyear workers.

Some 575 production workers in Lincoln stayed away from their jobs Thursday as a line of pickets paced slowly up and down in front of the plant here. Some 200 white collar workers, though, reported for duty and were not impeded by the picket line.

The strike on a nationwide scale affects close to 23,000 employees who are represented by the CIO Rubber, Cork, Linoleum, and Plastic Workers of America union. The plant in Lincoln manufactures V-belts and transmission belting.

Negotiations broke up in Cincinnati, following the present contract being opened under special clauses, when the company held fast to its offer of a pay boost of five cents an hour. The union insisted that was not sufficient and did not make corrections sought in wage differentials in "low paid plants."

Under present wage contracts, union workers receive an average of $2.08 an hour with the wages varying from $1.62 to $2.22 an hour.

According to Richard A. Jay, Lincoln plant manager, the union is asking for an hourly wage increase of 12 cents an hour. This was in addition to requests by the union for a "substantial correction of wage differentials" in the different Goodyear plants.

Willard J. Deigan, vice president of Local 286 of the Union, said the incentive pay at the local plant "does not amount to 10 per cent of the total pay" as it used to, and that the incentive pay "hasn't been changed since 1948."

Jay said the differential in incentive pay in the various plants "is not basis for any rejection of the company offer in wage demands." Jay said the Lincoln wage scale ranks "in between the other plants," being higher than some and lower than others.

The local union went out on strike at 11 p.m. Wednesday along with the Goodyear plants in 10 other cities.

With a required police patrol in evidence, there were no incidents at the local plant as pickets continued their patrol throughout the three shifts at the plant.

Other plants tied up in the strike are located at Akron, O., St. Mary's, O., Muncie, Ind., Los Angeles, Calif., Topeka, Kan., and Gadsden, Ala.

The contracts under which the workers were employed were brought up under a reopening clause. Meetings also are being held between the unions and Firestone and General Tire and Rubber Companies. A meeting with U. S. Rubber Co. is being in New York and a session with Goodrich is scheduled in Cincinnati next Tuesday.

Northern Natural Asks Rate Hike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Northern Natural Gas Co., Omaha, filed a proposal with the power commission Thursday for a 10.4 per cent wholesale natural gas rate increase totaling $8,128,400 annually.

The increase effective Aug. 2, would affect 35 wholesale customers in Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, South Dakota and Minnesota. It would be in addition to an increase made effective last Dec. 27.

Northern said the increase is required because of the cost of expansion of its system capacity from 1,007,191,000 cubic feet a day to 1,099,970,000 cubic feet.

Lots 8 & 9, block 6, Mechanics Addition to the City of Lincoln, Lancaster County, Nebraska. 925 West 2nd Street.

You are hereby notified that the undersigned Building Inspector of the City of Lincoln, Nebraska, has carefully inspected the building located on the above described real estate, and that thereafter, in accordance with the provisions of Sections 5-305 to 5-308, inclusive, of the Lincoln Municipal Code of 1936, made a written report to the City Council of the City of Lincoln, recommending that it order said building removed for the reason that said building is dangerous and prejudicial to public health and safety constitutes a public nuisance.

YOU ARE FURTHER NOTIFIED that on July 19, 1954, the City Council of the City of Lincoln, Nebraska, duly passed a resolution stating that it will fully consider such written report submitted by the undersigned, at its regular meeting to be held at the City Hall, Lincoln, Nebraska, at 1:30 o'clock P.M., or as soon thereafter as its business will permit, on Monday, July 19th, 1954.

YOU ARE FURTHER NOTIFIED that you may appear at said meeting at said time and place and show cause, if any you have, why the City Council of the City of Lincoln, Nebraska, should not order the said building located on said real estate removed and the public nuisance that it constitutes abated; and that unless you appear at said meeting the said written report will be taken as true and the City Council will at said time and place, or as soon thereafter as its business will permit, adopt a resolution adopting and accepting the said report in its entirety and order said building located on the above described real estate to be removed by you on or before a certain date subsequent to said meeting, and the nuisance that said building constitutes abated.

Dated at Lincoln, Nebraska, this 2nd day of July 1954.

E. A. VORHEES
Building Inspector of the City of Lincoln, Nebraska

Ordinance No. 5756

An Ordinance creating Paving District No. 1323, defining the limits thereof, establishing the width of the roadway to be paved and the width of the grading to be done, providing for curbing, guttering, and relaying of sidewalks, providing for the payment of the cost thereof, designating the property to be benefitted, and repealing all ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith.

BE IT ORDAINED by the City Council of the City of Lincoln, Nebraska:

Sec. 1. That Paving District No. 1323, of the City of Lincoln, Nebraska, be and the same is hereby created; that said Paving District shall include all that portion of 29th Street lying between the north line of D Street and the south line of E Street, in said City, and the following described real estate benefited, to-wit: West one-half of May's Subdivision of Block 5, Grant Addition. East one-half of Block 6, Grant Addition.

The roadway to be paved in said District shall be 25 feet in width; grading to be from lot line to lot line, and the cost of grading, curbing, guttering, and paving the same, including the cost of grading, curbing, guttering, and paving the intersections and returns, and the cost of grading the sidewalk space and relaying of sidewalks and all expenses incidental to all of said improvement shall be assessed against the property benefited in said District in proportion to the benefits, not exceeding the cost thereof.

Sec. 2. That all ordinances and parts of ordinances in conflict herewith be and the same hereby are repealed.

Sec. 3. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and publication according to law.

BOOK THROWN AT FOUR TERRORISTS

... Draw Maximum Terms

WASHINGTON (AP) —Four Puerto Rican terrorists drew the maximum sentences Thursday for what a federal judge called the "atrocious" crime of shooting up the House of Representatives March 1.

The three men involved each were sentenced to serve from 25 to 75 years in prison, while fiery Lolita Lebron 34-year-old brunette, was given a term ranging from 16 years and 8 months to 50 years.

The four insisted they were patriots, acting for the freedom of Puerto Rico, but U.S. Dist. Judge Alexander Holtzoff declared their foray was "so heinous, so infamous, so atrocious" as to justify the severest possible penalty.

"But for the grace of God," said U.S. Atty. Leo A. Rover, the Puerto Ricans would be in court to hear the imposition of death sentences.

Five House members were felled by bullets fired by the Puerto Rican nationalists from the visitors' gallery. All have recovered and resumed their seats.

Because a jury last month convicted her only on five charges of assault with a dangerous weapon, Mrs. Lebron got the lightest sentence. Her male companions were convicted on five charges each of assault with intent to kill, as well as the lesser charges of assault with a dangerous weapon. They are Rafael Cancel Miranda, 25; Andres Figueroa Cordero, 29; and Irving Flores Rodrigues, 28.

Mrs. Lebron, who did more talking in the court room Thursday than the others, said she participated in the pistol attack "for a great ideal."

Women's Groups Good Safety Education Vehicle—Crosby

One of the best possible ways of handling public education in traffic safety is through women's organizations, Gov. Robert Crosby said Thursday.

The governor, addressing the women's section of the state-wide Traffic Safety Congress, said that mothers and teachers have the most direct opportunity to teach safety to young people approaching the driving age.

He urged the women to make traffic safety one of their primary objectives in their club program's in the next year.

Speaking of the effectiveness of the concentrated effort in safety, the governor said the number of traffic fatalities in the state is beginning to come even with the number at the same time last year.

Mrs. Austin Sutton of Wahoo, head of the women's division of the Safety Congress, presided at the meeting called by the governor.

Guest speakers included Alvah Hecht, York County agent, who is national safety chairman for the extension service, and Mrs. Agnes Beaton, director of the women's division of the Automotive Safety Foundation in Washington, D.C.

The women adopted resolutions calling for:

1. Organization of a state-wide safety council.
2. State laws requiring the use of chemical tests to determine intoxication.
3. Periodic re-examination of all driver's including physical and eye-sight examinations.
4. Continuation of the radar program.
5. Support for stricter enforcement of traffic laws.
6. Clarification of school bus laws.
7. Maintenance of the dignity of the Safety Patrol.
8. Continuation of the teen-age program.

OAA, Relief, Delinquent Taxes:

County Recovers $200,000 In 2 Years

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The Lancaster County attorney's office has recovered more than $200,000 in old age assistance, relief funds, and delinquent property taxes in the past two years.

Chief Dep. Co. Atty. Elmer Scheele said this was in addition to the more than $200,000 collected in inheritance taxes during the same period.

"Inheritance tax collections had been intensified by deligence on the part of our office in cooperation with County Judge Herbert A. Ronin," Scheele said.

18 Month Period

OAA, relief, and delinquent tax recoveries during an 18-month period July 1, 1952 to Jan. 1, 1954 totalled $140,615.88.

In the first six months of 1954, the total was $59,395.82, including $20,752.65 in OAA funds; $22,199.28 in delinquent property taxes, and $16,443.89 in relief funds.

Scheele cited an incident in which the office was able to establish a guardianship for a state mental patient whose farm property was not being used for his benefit.

Collected $4,500

In this action the county was able to collect $4,500 expended for the man's care at the state hospital and also establish from insurance money a fund for his future care, he explained.

The legal action was taken under state statutes providing persons in a state hospital must pay for such care if his estate is able to do so.

Scheele praised Dep. Co. Atty. Dale Fahrnbruch, who is in charge of this department, for his efforts and efficient handling of these cases.

Thousands Saved

Liaison work between Fahrnbruch and the County Welfare Department has saved Lancaster County thousands of old age assistance and relief dollars, Scheele said.

Partially responsible has been the "unique success" with financially-responsible relatives of recipients once they realize old age assistance or relief is not a matter of right, but is granted upon need, he added.

Some funds expended are recovered from the individual, responsible relatives, or his estate when additional facts are uncovered after the recipient was placed on the rolls.

One recent recovery from financially responsible relatives of an OAA recipient totalled $9,000.

BOOK THROWN AT FOUR TERRORISTS

... Draw Maximum Terms

WASHINGTON (AP) —Four Puerto Rican terrorists drew the maximum sentences Thursday for what a federal judge called the "atrocious" crime of shooting up the House of Representatives March 1.
